MEXICO AIR IDOL DIES

Nonstop Flight Ends in Sea

Col. Sidar and Copilot Lose Battle With Storm Of Costa Rica

Pair Attempting Pioneer Hop to Buenos Aires; Bodies Recovered

MEXICO CITY, May 11. (AP)—Col. Pablo Sidar was killed today in attempting to make a nonstop flight from Mexico to Buenos Aires. His airplane dived into the sea three [illegible] south of the Costa Rican seaport of Porto Limon. The Department of Communications announced this evening that both Col. Sidar and his copilot, Lieut. Rovirosa, had perished.

The big American-made monoplane Morelos, which had successfully taken off from Cerro Loco [illegible], Oaxaca, this morning, was [illegible] wrecked.

Porto Limon dispatches to the Department of Communications said the accident occurred during a storm which had suddenly sprung up.

The Morelos passed over Porto Limon at about 3:40 p.m. and was [illegible]. Some time later she returned, but meanwhile a storm had developed. As it broke and the first drops of rain began to fall, the plane was seen to plunge into the sea.

BODIES RECOVERED

A rescue party extricated Col. Sidar's body. Apparently the two airmen had no time to use their parachutes. Lieut. Rovirosa's body was wedged in the wreckage.

The Department of Communications said that only Col. Sidar and Lieut. Rovirosa were in the Morelos. Reports that a mechanic named [illegible] had accompanied them were denied.

The airplane is said to have returned over Porto Limon at about [illegible] p.m. and cruised about while the flier looked for a suitable landing place.

The accident occurred apparently about 5 p.m. Col. Sidar had previously been sighted off the coast of Salvador, seven hours earlier. According to his plan he was to fly over the [illegible] the [illegible] coast and head [illegible] for South America.

Instead, he apparently cut across the Pacific Coast of Central America to the Atlantic. Salvador is on the Pacific side and Porto Limon on the Atlantic.

PLANE WORKING WELL

When the Morelos left Cerro Loco, the machine appeared to be working perfectly. The motor lifted its heavy load with comparative ease, and Col. Sidar got off the ground after he had covered two-thirds of his special runway.

Col. Sidar, since his successful flight through Latin America last year, has been Mexico's aviation idol. He took the place of the late Emilio Carranza, who was killed near Mount Holly, N. J., in 1928, while attempting a nonstop flight from New York to Mexico City.

Lieut. Rovirosa was well known

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 11. [To the Editor of The Times:] As this is written it's nearing the end of Mother's Day. She has ruled the roost today but we will put her back to work again tomorrow and keep her in her place till this time next year. Today she has breakfast in bed accompanied by roses, but tomorrow we will roll her out early. It was a beautiful thought these florists had that proposed this day.

I propose a Father's Day. No flowers, no fuss, just let him use the car himself and go where he wants to. But we will never live to see such a contented day.

Monday is Hospital Day, our greatest and most humane institution. The minute you lay this paper down send flowers or a donation to some hospital, that will please mothers as much as today.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

Millions Go for Construction

State Highway Contracts Show Enormous Gain Over Year Ago

Hoover Policy of Public Work to Aid Labor Brings Results

WASHINGTON, May 11. (Exclusive)—Striking activity in highway construction this year in keeping with President Hoover's policy of beginning necessary public works to alleviate unemployment, is indicated by reports to Secretary of Commerce Lamont from the governors of thirty-five States.

Thirty States report increases, according to Mr. Lamont, with sixteen announcing contracts awarded for the first quarter of this year 100 per cent or more above the same period of 1929.

California is well in the lead among the States showing larger highway budgets, with an increase over last year of 181 per cent. Contracts awarded in the State amount to $6,184,000 for the first three months of 1930 as compared with $2,200,000 for the corresponding quarter of last year. This is an increase of $3,984,000.

FILE RIFLER AGAIN BUSY

Johnson's Office Ransacked

Correspondence Cases Upset for Second Time in Two Days

Senator Convinced Some One Seeks Information From Personal Letters

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—For the second time in as many nights the offices of Senator Johnson, Republican of California, were entered last night and his files ransacked.

Visiting his office this morning with his secretary, the Californian again found the files opened and correspondence disturbed in spite of the wide publicity that had been given a similar search made the night before.

Six file cases had been opened and all the correspondence, which had been placed in order the previous day after the searchers had scattered it about, again was found out of place.

ONE DOOR UNGUARDED

A cabinet which is kept locked was not touched this time although the preceding night the lock had been picked. A check of the guards about the Senate Office Building showed that a man was on duty outside the office until midnight, the Senator's secretary said, but that later one entrance had been left unguarded.

The Senator's assistants professed themselves at a loss to understand the daring return of the ransacker so soon after his first visit, especially in view of the agitation that resulted.

The searches of the Californian's offices followed close upon similar visits to the rooms of Senators McKellar and Brock, Tennessee Democrats, and Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah.

MORE GUARDS ASKED

Although small desk articles appeared to have been taken from the offices of these Senators nothing was reported missing from Johnson's office after either search. But the Senator was convinced the searcher was seeking something in his personal correspondence.

Yesterday, picking up some private letters which had been left lying on top of a cabinet he commented that "somebody's ears are tingling if this was read."

Acting Chairman Hale, of the Senate Rules Committee who had sought to have additional guards employed yesterday by the sergeant-at-arms said he could not do so without special Senate authority. However, a special guard has been assigned to keep constant watch on Johnson's office.

YOUTH SETS NEW MARKS FOR FLIGHT

Frank Goldsborough at New York Twenty-eight Hours From Los Angeles

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—Frank Goldsborough, 19-year-old transcontinental flyer, landed at New York City airport from Los Angeles at 2:18 p.m. today with three junior cross-country records in his possession. He set junior speed records for east-west and west-east flight and for the round trip.

The young son of Brice Goldsborough, lost several years ago in a trans-Atlantic flight attempt, made the trip from Los Angeles in just twenty-eight hours. The previous record was forty-eight hours.

Starting from Westfield, N. J., two weeks ago tomorrow the youth flew his plane American Boy to Los Angeles in a total flying time of thirty-four hours and three minutes, clipping thirteen hours and thirty-seven minutes from the east-west record set by Dick James. His flying time for the round trip was sixty-two hours and three minutes.

He made several stops on both flights. On the last leg today he flew over Westfield, N. J., the official ending point of the flight, and then refueled at Newark (N. J.) airport before landing at New York airport.

Three Rescuers of Girl Drown

READING (Pa.) May 11. (NANA) Catherine Britton, 16-year-old high school senior, wading in the muddy waters of the Schuylkill River today, slipped into a deep hole. Three youths, who could not swim, plunged in and pushed the helpless girl toward the river banks.

Just as she reached a mud ledge, her rescuers, Edwin Shaneberger, 16; his brother, Gilbert, 18, and Leroy Gerhard, 19, sank. The three were drowned.

Crippled Ship Reaches Port

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11. (AP)—The coastwise passenger steamer Humboldt, disabled off Point Arguello Friday by propeller shaft trouble, arrived in port here today under tow of the Edna Christenson.

Thirty-seven passengers were landed. They said there was no excitement when the steamer stopped, because the sea was calm and the Edna Christenson was in sight.

"APPLE-A-DAY" SAW BACKED

Researcher Finds Germs for Health Contagion; Figs and Oranges Also Carry Good Microbes

NORFOLK (Va.) May 11. (Exclusive)—Five little germs—"a family of five" discovered in fruits and vegetables such as apples, figs, oranges, beets, potatoes and turnips—germs that aid health instead of injecting poison into the human body, have startled the scientific world. The discovery was made by Quincy C. Tucker, laboratory statistician of the United States Naval Hospital Corps, Portsmouth, Va.

The United States Department of Agriculture has no name for the germs and has never heard of them until the discovery made by Mr. Tucker, who is an expert on germs.

CONTAGIOUS HEALTH

These germs, according to Mr. Tucker, are vital to life. Unlike others, they impart health and strength to the human body.

"They are good germs, the kind we must have if we are to live," he said. "This family of five will give to the human body vitamins that we must have. If it were not for these germs the human race would be poisoned and would soon fail to exist.

"The family consists of five types of true germ cells, and are in the form of low vegetable life. They resemble the ordinary germ that causes disease.

"APPLE A DAY"

"We consume them every time we eat certain fruits and vegetables.

"They resist any amount of heat and cold.

"Apples and figs found to contain this family of cells were preserved in the ordinary way. The germs stop their action when sealed in a can, remain dormant until the can is opened, and then recover life and renew multiplying. There are millions of them in potatoes, apples, peaches, oranges and figs. We found them also in beets and we believe they can be found in cabbage and perhaps squash."

WET WORK ON HOOVER PROGRAM

President Builds Dam for Practice and Fishes for Republican by Necessity

ORANGE (Va.) May 11. (AP)—The quiet of a restful day at President Hoover's fishing camp on the Rapidan was broken today by the excitement of fishing Dr. Hubert Work, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, out of the trout stream.

Dr. Work fell in the shallow waters of the Rapidan when he stepped on a log which rolled under him. He emerged undamaged except for a wetting. After drying his clothes he rejoined the Presidential party working on a dam which Mr. Hoover started last year to improve the trout fishing.

The President and his friends left the mountain retreat late in the day for Washington. As fishing is barred at the Rapidan camp on Sundays, most of the morning was spent in idling about the camp's community hall.

Daughter of Helen Gould to Wed Soon

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Finley J. Shepard today announced the engagement of their daughter, Olivia Margaret, to John Read Burr of San Francisco.

Miss Shepard attended the Nightingale-Bamford School here and was graduated last year from Miss Hall's school at Pittsfield, Mass.

Mrs. Shepard is the former Helen Gould, daughter of Jay Gould.

The marriage is expected to take place some time in June.

AIR LOOP-THE-LOOPER FAILS TO SET RECORD

VALLEY STREAM (L. I.) May 11. (Exclusive)—After looping the loop 750 times this afternoon over the Curtiss-Wright airport here, Lieut. Fred Williams was forced down when his motor went dead. Williams sought to beat Speed Holman's record of 1433 loops, and will try again next Sunday.

SIX-HUNDRED-YEAR-OLD TORTOISE CAPTURED

PANAMA, May 11. (AP)—Charles G. Howard, wealthy San Francisco dealer, returned today from a fishing trip to Galapagos with a 600-year-old tortoise and six flamingoes. He said the age of the tortoise was estimated by natives.

GIRL FLYER AUSTRALIA BOUND LOST

Amy Johnson Overdue Twenty-four Hours On Hop to Allahabad

(Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times)

LONDON, May 12. (Monday) (Exclusive)—Amy Johnson, 22-year-old English girl, who is flying alone from London to Australia, is unreported this morning, more than twenty-four hours after leaving Karachi, India, for Allahabad, 940 miles away.

When she took off from Karachi at dawn yesterday she was two days ahead of Bert Hinkler's record for a solo flight to Australia and had accomplished one of the finest flying feats ever achieved by a woman.

City officials at Karachi garlanded her as a heroine and two escorting planes flew alongside her as she started winging her way eastward again.

The route to Allahabad took her over the great Indian desert. From Allahabad she planned to fly to Calcutta, thence in two long hops to Fort Darwin, Australia.

UR TEMPLE UNCOVERED BY WOOLEY

Pennsylvania Expedition in Mesopotamia Reports Unprecedented Find

PHILADELPHIA, May 11. (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania today announced a report from the archeological expedition in Mesopotamia by the University Museum and the British Museum, stating that one of the best preserved temples ever found there has been uncovered in what appeared to be an insignificant mound.

The report, by C. Leonard Wooley, director of the expedition, states that the temple was built by Nebuchadnezzar about 600 B. C., and was added to and restored by Nabonidus fifty years later. It was found in the northern harbor by Ur and was concealed by a mound, excavation of which was undertaken for topographical reasons.

"The walls of the temple stand twenty feet high and the whitewash on them remains in good condition," Wooley stated. "In all Iraq there is no other temple so well preserved."

Tug's Skipper Killed in Blast

SEATTLE, May 11. (AP) — Harold Meagher, 19-year-old captain of the tug boat Bermuda, was killed in Seattle Harbor today when the oil tanks of the craft exploded while he was battling flames in the hold.

His body was blown clear of the wreckage and was later recovered by a harbor patrol boat crew. The tug had run aground a short time before the fire broke out.

Five Rumanian Spies Sentenced

BUCHAREST (Rumania) May 11. (AP)—Former Chief of Rumanian Police Tibacu was sentenced today to ten years' imprisonment and fined 100,000 lei (about $500,) after he pleaded guilty to a charge of espionage in favor of soviet Russia.

His wife was sentenced to five years in prison and three Rumanian courtiers, trained for espionage by Tibacu, also received five years each. All the prisoners admitted their guilt.

Flood of Complaints on Way to Washington Charging Short Counts

Thousands of Persons Said to Have Been Missed in Larger Places

CLEVELAND (O.) May 11. (AP) A tentative total poulation of 897,548 for Cleveland in the 1930 census is announced by census supervisors, based on thirty of the thirty-three wards. The 1920 total was 796,841. The population of Cuyahoga county outside of Cleveland is estimated at 300,036, an increase of 156,541 or 109 per cent.

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 11. (Exclusive)—Complaints are going to Washington from all over the country on the taking of the decennial census.

The burden of them is that Uncle Sam's enumerators are poor at arithmetic and are doing a bad job of counting. In some large urban centers it is asserted that thousands of citizens have been overlooked by the census-takers. These complaints offer a sharp contrast to the experience of 1910 when wholesale accusations were made that census figures in many parts of the United States had been padded.

Newspapers in nearly every large city are filled with letters from indignant readers, asserting they have not been counted. Rechecking is going on nearly everywhere under the direction of civic organizations whose estimates are not borne out by the government's official statistics.

The Census Bureau in Washington anticipated plenty of trouble, in spite of its elaborate preparations and the outlay of approximately $40,000,000, and it is not being disappointed. Most of the complaints have not found their way officially to Washington yet, but they are on their way.

Profiting by experiences in 1910 and 1920, the bureau this time wisely passed over a large share of responsibility to the local supervisors. It ruled that announcements of population figures should be made locally instead of from Washington, as in by-gone days. This placed the local supervisors in the correct position to catch all the complaints and act as a buffer for officials here. Under the law, inhabitants have five days following the announcement of the census figures to demand that they be counted, if they feel they have been missed by the enumerators.

Among the cities where complaints are more numerous, are New York, Washington, Cleveland, Baltimore, Boston, Miami and Louisville. Editors of New York papers are receiving thousands of "I have not been counted" letters.

SURPRISING RESULTS

In some cities newspapers have published forms asking readers who had not been questioned by the census-takers to sign them and return them to the editor. The result in some cases was rather surprising. In Los Angeles nearly 8000 persons were discovered within twenty-four hours who said they had not been counted. In Washington one of the papers found numerous citizens who reported no enumerator had called on them.

Cleveland boosters are in a most unhappy state over the census. In 1920 Cleveland gained fifth rank among American cities with 796,000 inhabitants, and its civic leaders have been confidently predicting it would pass the million mark in 1930. But, paradoxically, while it has gained in population, the expected increase will not show in the government's official census figures. The gain has taken place in the Cleveland suburbs, which are not a part of the city proper. Hence, the Ohio metropolis is going to suffer a decided drop in its population

TWO BATTLE IN FLIGHT

Knockout by Pilot Averts Crash

Drunken Passenger Fights For Stick as Ship Soars Half-Mile High

Six Lives Hinge on Result of Clash in Plane Above East Coast City

NEW YORK, May 11. (Exclusive) For two minutes two men fought fiercely with fists in an airplane a half-mile above Long Island City today, as four other passengers saw themselves about to be sent to death in an unattended plane.

Then the man whose victory meant life for the six won with a knockout punch to the jaw of the man whose triumph would have sent them all crashing.

The fist fight for the hair-trigger stick of the great Bellanca passenger carrier left two women spectators in hysterics and two men drained too dry of emotion to talk.

The hero, Tex Anding, a stripling with a slow Texas drawl, explained:

"I had to hit the guy after he damn near sent us into a loop—and if I had had a hammer, I would have hit him with that."

STAYS ON JOB

Anding topped off his boxing bout for life by taking up other loads of $1-for-five-minutes customers in the cafeteria flying service the Gates company operates at Holmes Airport. He has been flying for seven years.

Anding had taken off at 2 p.m. with two women and three men. As soon as they were in the air, the man seated directly behind Anding hiccoughed:

"Lemme fly—I can fly."

The pilot paid no attention to the drunk, whose fellow-passenger yelled:

"Cut it out, Guiseppi."

Lurching forward, while the women screamed, the alcoholic reached for the joy stick. Anding hunched over and tried to push him back with jabbing elbows. Other passengers yelled, "throw him out."

FIGHT BEGINS

The drunk swung at the pilot, crying, "Get out of there and let me fly."

The Texan held the stick with his knees, as he shot his fist to the head of his opponent, who returned the punches and began climbing over the pilot.

Anding, yelling to the women to calm themselves, sent a lucky blow to the drunk's chin, laying him out, then he landed his ship immediately.

The unruly passenger was ejected from the plane and while the pilot prepared to take off again with other passengers the drunken man began throwing stones at the plane. Two mechanics seized him and turned him over to a policeman. But when Anding refused to press a charge against the offender the policeman drove him off the field and let him go.

Mermoz Off to Brazil Today

ST. LOUIS (Senegal, West Africa) May 11. (AP)—Jules Mermoz, French aviator, announced today that he will take off for Brazil, early tomorrow if weather conditions permit.

Mermoz took off at Berpignan, France, the 2nd inst., on the first lap of his trip. His plane is a postal hydroplane, the same he used when he recently set a new record for duration and distance for such craft, covering 4475 kilometers in 30h. 25m.

WARD JURY DISMISSED

PHOENIX, May 11. (AP)—Reporting it was unable to agree on a verdict, the jury trying J. K. Ward, Maricopa County Recorder, on a charge of embezzlement, was dismissed shortly before noon today. The jury had deliberated for nine hours.

NEW YORK HELD CRIME-FREE

Commissioner Whalen Hangs Halo on Home City; Los Angeles Second in Transgressors' Ranks

NEW YORK, May 11. (Exclusive)—New York City, in comparison with six other leading cities of the country, is "free from crime," according to Police Commissioner Whalen's annual report on his department which was made available for publication today. Organized gangs and racketeering must be smashed, he announced.

St. Louis stands first, with Los Angeles second, in the number of violent crimes per capita, according to Whalen's figures, while Chicago leads, and Los Angeles is second in aggregate number of such crimes.

The commissioner's statistics on how New York compares with other large cities in violent crimes follows:

Cities—	Number	Per 100,000 Population
New York	4319	74.1
Chicago	9509	306.7
Philadelphia	2210	110.5
Detroit	3671	282.4
Los Angeles	6963	535.6
Cleveland	4675	467.5
St. Louis	5676	705.7

The criminal of today usually is a youngster, the commissioner declared, referring to the "appalling spectacle of the presence of extreme youth in the ebb and flow of the current of crime." He declared that the young criminals displayed a steadily increasing disregard for property rights, coupled with an ever-mounting cynicism toward life generally.

The commissioner reported substantial reductions in various types of crime. Violent crime was reduced 11 per cent last year, he informed the Mayor, robbery and burglary losses in 1929 were 68 per cent lower than the average for the 1923-25 period. Commercial vice and gambling have been eliminated, he asserted.

Commissioner Whalen disclosed that in the twelve months ended December 31, last, goods valued at $10,226,963 were lost or stolen in the city. The amount recovered was $3,078,668.

Complaints of crime during last year totaled 39,283. There were 14,871 cases disposed of by arrests while slightly more than that number are reported as "pending." Although burglaries and grand-larceny cases decreased, the report set forth a gain of 5.3 per cent in murders and manslaughters.

TAFT'S EARLY DIFFICULTIES IN WHITE HOUSE TOLD

Loyalty to Friends and Party Caused Nation's Leader to Shoulder Many Troubles

Few knew the human side of former President Taft better than Mr. Hoster, who, as a newspaper correspondent, was assigned to the White House, and who made many long trips with Mr. Taft. This is the second of a series of articles in which Mr. Hoster gives many interesting close-ups of Taft and his administration.

BY WILLIAM HOSTER

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

WASHINGTON, May 11. (Exclusive)—At Sagamore Hill one afternoon, when the historic break in the friendship between Mr. Taft and Col. Roosevelt had become definite, an indiscreet caller asked bluntly:

"Col. Roosevelt, after all, just what was the real trouble between you and Taft?"

Roosevelt's jaw snapped. The matter was one that he rarely discussed, even with his intimate friends. I looked for a sharp rebuff for the imprudent visitor. Instead, T. R. flashed a sardonic smile and replied:

"Mr. ——, the real trouble between Mr. Taft and myself was fundamental. My game is tennis. Mr. Taft is addicted to golf."

The shrill emphasis which he laid upon the "addicted" was irresistibly funny; but who that ever saw the vibrant and dynamic Roosevelt in action on the tennis court and then marked the contrast of Mr. Taft's slow, leisurely progress over the links cannot find in the Rooseveltian irony a possible keynote to the careers of both?

Mr. Taft's devotion to golf led to a diverting incident in the fall of 1909, while he was in Seattle on his first "swing around the circle" as President. He had entered a foursome with some local friends, and had just finished the seventh hole when Maj. Archie Butt, his military aide, intervened.

TIME SHORT

"You have only enough time for one more hole," said the major. "The committee at Tacoma are anxious to have you arrive before dark that the people may see you in daylight."

The President played the ninth and tenth holes, and was on his way to the eleventh when Maj. Butt, in desperation, once more intervened.

"Now, Mr. President,——" he began.

"Butt," interrupted the President sharply, but with a lively twinkle in his eye, "I am President of the United States and I don't propose to take orders from a mere major in my army. Please don't bother me."

Such an incident would have been impossible in the routine of Col. Roosevelt, while he was on the road. One imagines, too, that if Roosevelt had ever permitted himself to get tangled up in the tariff problem he would have adopted tennis court tactics in dealing with Aldrich and Cannon, instead of the golf procedure of Mr. Taft.

TARIFF WARNING

The sagacious Roosevelt warned Mr. Taft against the tariff.

"If you will look over my record," he said one day on a westbound train, "you will find that I let the tariff severely alone during my administration. I warned Mr. Taft that it was full of pitfalls, because it is a thing in which it is practically impossible to please anybody."

Nevertheless, the tariff was the first thing Mr. Taft tackled. Dictated largely by Senator Aldrich and Speaker Cannon, amid the violent protests of the men who later organized the Progressive movement, the bill was accepted by the President, who cheerfully assured me that "Aldrich and Cannon are not the villains you would have be believe they are."

Mr. Taft, early the ensuing September, 1909, left on a long speaking tour which carried him into nearly every State in the Union. And it was in the early stages of that journey that he delivered, in Winona, Minn., the address in which he said the Payne-Aldrich Act was "the best tariff bill the Republican party ever passed"—a statement which, though he had been in office only six months, put his administration under a handicap from which it never recovered. It was the entering wedge under which the Republican party three years later split in two.

POLITICAL CHIVALRY

I am striving to record facts here, with no purpose to draw contrasts or pass judgment. But I cannot resist the conviction that his particular phrase, unnecessary and in a manner jerked into a set speech, was a bit of pure political chivalry on Mr. Taft's part, combined with a certain dilatoriness—a tendency he showed at times to put things off until the last minute. If he had had time to consider and reflect I do not believe he would have phrased his speech in flat terms from which there was no retreat or escape.

There was this additional fact also in connection with the Winona speech: Mr. Taft had been traveling all that day and had made half a dozen addresses at as many stops before reaching Winona that evening at the dinner hour. On other occasions the correspondents on the train received advance copies of his addresses several hours, sometimes a full day, in advance of their delivery. This night his address was not ready upon our arrival in Winona, and when at 7 o'clock I went into Mr. Taft's car looking for it Maj. Butt informed me that the President had halted the preparation of his address while he had dinner.

It was not until 8:15 o'clock—the meeting which he was to address was set for the hour—that the address was finished and copies handed to the correpondents as the President left for the operahouse.

HASTILY PREPARED

It is a reasonable inference, therefore, that the address was hastily prepared and did not receive the consideration Mr. Taft usually gave to his public utterances. It is a fact, too, that Winona was the home town of James A. Tawney, a Congressman who had an active part in the preparation of the Payne-Aldrich bill, and Mr. Tawney was then fighting for his political life because of that circumstance. He was defeated for re-election a year later.

About a year later the famous "Norton letter" was made public. In the interim, Gifford Pinchot, Chief Forester, had been dismissed by Mr. Taft. Mr. Pinchot was one of Col. Roosebelt's close personal friends, and the "Norton letter" and the Pinchot dismissal have equal rank with the Winona speech as important factors in the emeute of 1912. Mr. Taft described the Pinchot dismissal to me as "wholly a matter of discipline," but it was regarded by the Roosevelt element as the culminating act in a series of petty betrayals of the "Roosevelt policies."

HELPED CAUSE RIFT

"The Norton Letter" is described by Lawrence Abbott in his "Impressions of Theodore Roosevelt" as one of the contributing causes to the final severance of relations between Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft. It was a letter supposed to have been written by Mr. Taft to a leading Progressive, in which the President said he would no longer make use of Federal patronage to combat the growing power of the Progressive element in the Republican party, the plain implication being that Federal patronage had been so used by the President for that purpose.

The letter took its name from the fact that it was issued for publication by Charles Dyer Norton, secretary to the President. And thereby hangs an interesting story of the large political consequences which may follow inconsequential incidents.

News was scarce at Beverly, President Taft's summer home, that year, 1910, and the correspondents of the evening newspapers protested to Secretary Norton against the "conspiracy" to favor the morning newspaper correspondents in the release of such news as came to hand. Mr. Norton denied the existence of a conspiracy, but promised the evening men that he would "break" the next piece of news in their favor. The next news was the Norton letter.

HASTY EXIT

Hurrying into the executive office that morning the secretary hastily handed out typewritten sheets to the evening men and with "Here's a break for you," seized his golf kit, leaped into a motor and left. Within an hour the Norton letter was in every evening newspaper in the United States and indignant protests were pouring into Beverly against the President's admitted use of Federal patronage for factional purposes.

Later I went to the executive office to request a few minutes with the President on the subject of the letter. Mr. Norton, in high excitement, was fumbling at his desk with a sheaf of the protests.

"I'm going up to the House at once," he said. "Come along."

Mr. Taft was in his library when we arrived. Mr. Norton frankly laid the whole story before him as he nervously paced the floor.

"I have made a bad break, Mr. President," he said, handing the message to Mr. Taft. "I should have called off that golf date with you this morning and prepared a paraphrase of the letter instead of giving it in full to the press. Maybe I shouldn't have given it out at all. It's a serious mistake and has laid you open to severe criticism. The responsibility is squarely up to me."

Without looking at the sheaf of protests the President tossed them on the table, while he surveyed Mr. Norton with calm, grave face. Then, after a minute's silence, he shrugged his shoulders resignedly.

"Well, Norton," he said, "don't worry about it. If they hadn't this to criticise me about they would find something else."

Gangsters Fire on Dance Crowd Wounding Six

NEW YORK, May 11. (Sunday) (AP)—Three men opened fire on a crowd of 600 dancers in a West Forty-eighth-street club early today when they were refused admittance. Six persons were wounded.

The panic-stricken dancers rushed for cover. The gunmen backed out of the room, rushed down the stairs to the street and escaped.

Arthur Lindberg, 27 years of age, was wounded in the abdomen.

Police said the gunmen were notorious West Side "guerillas," one of whom bore a grudge against some one at the dance as a result of previous trouble over a girl. They did not reveal names.

Two Killed as Vandals Wreck Southern Train

NATCHEZ (Miss.) May 11. (AP)—Two trainmen were killed today in the derailment of the Planter, southbound Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railroad train caused, railroad detectives said, by vandals.

The men killed were B. W. Maddux of New Orleans, engineer, and C. W. Baker of near Vicksburg, Miss. Only one passenger was injured, and he slightly.

Railroad detectives declared that heavy timbers had been spiked down on the track and the switch at the point had been jammed.

RICE PROFITEERING HIT

SHANGHAI, May 11. (Exclusive) Commissioners of the various civic departments, complemented by representatives of city organizations, have been named to a committee empowered to regulate sale and distribution of rice in an effort to prevent profiteering.

in the Mexican Army Air Corps. Several months ago he took part in an air race from Mexico City to Kansas City.

Sidar was only 77 years of age. He was in his prime as a pilot, having been flying for about ten years.

A daring flyer, Col. Sidar was known among his comrades in the air force as "Sidar the Madman."

PROTESTS OVER CENSUS GROW

ranking, just as Boston did after the census of 1910. Los Angeles is almost certain to leave Cleveland far behind.

Baltimore was worried for many days lest it show a decrease in population. All its old city wards fell off in the count, but the outlying sections saved the day. The increase reported unofficially, however, was far short of early estimates.

CASE OF ATLANTA

Atlanta added considerably to its corporate limits during the past ten years. Counting the people in the old area the census supervisor announced that the population of Atlanta was 266,000, a gain of 66,000. Municipal authorities, however, insisted that the suburbs brought into the corporate limits since 1920 be included and they finally won their point, the result being to give Atlanta nearly 80,000 more.

In Miami the government figures have failed to approach the confident predictions of the civic boosters. The Mayor of Miami issued a public statement denouncing the enumerators for inefficiency in failing to count all the people.

Census bureau officials are inclined naturally perhaps to discount most of the complaints. They believe that a rechecking will show the work thoroughly and efficiently done. Their confidence in this belief is based largely on the fact that the enumerators have been paid on a "per head" basis and are not likely, therefore, to have overlooked inhabitants who meant money to them. While not saying anything for publication at this time, the officials here privately express the view that some of the complaints originate with overly enthusiastic civic leaders who were a trifle high in their population estimates.

There is no tendency, however, to minimize the obvious fact that in such a large undertaking as the census there is sure to be a certain percentage of persons missed, either through the failure of enumerators to reach them, their own refusal to give the information desired, or because of other factors. This percentage naturally would be higher in the large cities like Los Angeles than in the smaller communities.

EASTMAN HONORED BY CHEMISTS' INSTITUTE

PHILADELPHIA, May 11. (AP)—George Eastman, head of the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y., was awarded the gold medal of the American Institute of Chemists last night. The medal is given annually for "noteworthy and outstanding service to the science of chemistry and the profession of chemist in America."

Peiping Reports 10,000 of Nationalists Slain During Recent Fighting

LONDON, May 12. (Monday) (AP) Peiping dispatches to the Daily Express today said that, according to the headquarters of the northern alliance generals, 10,000 Nationalist troops were killed and 15,000 captured during the heavy fighting of the past few days near Peng-pu.

The battle between the Nationalists and the northern coalition has been proceeding along the Lunghai Railway. The dispatch adds that the northerners are driving on toward Nanking.

RIVER TRAFFIC RESUMED IN TIEN-TSIN

TIEN-TSIN (China) May 11. (AP) River traffic, suspended last night because of severe cross-stream firing, resumed today with steamers passing the danger point without molestation.

While authorities were reticent as to the cause of the shooting, it is believed bandits and army deserters taking advantage of the absence of troops at the front attacked several of the villages which were being defended by militia. While the firing was going on steamers were compelled to anchor halfway down the river.

ROAD-CONTRACT GAINS REPORTED

Lamont covering almost 75 per cent of the country show contracts awarded during the first quarter of the present year valued at $114,101,383, as against $50,910,133 for the same period of last year. The net increase for all the States which have reported to date is slightly more than 124 per cent.

Three States, West Virginia, New Mexico and South Dakota — which awarded no highway contracts during the first quarter of 1929 report awards totaling $4,367,075 for the first quarter of 1930.

The greatest relative increases are shown for the first three months of this year were approximately eleven times greater than for the corresponding quarter of a year ago, while Idaho shows awards more than ninety times larger than last year.

PENNSYLVANIA GAINS

Pennsylvania, with contracts awarded in the sum of $15,469,853 for the first quarter of 1930, as against $2,282,813 for the same period in 1929, reports the greatest dollar value. This is an increase of 577 per cent.

Contracts for highway construction in New Hampshire during the first quarter of this year increased 755 per cent, in Washington 650 per cent, and in Colorado 455 per cent.

Other substantial increases are Oregon 230 per cent, Maryland 225 per cent, Iowa 207 per cent, Wisconsin 202 per cent, Indiana 165 per cent, North Carolina 155 per cent, Missouri 144 per cent, Florida 109 per cent and Virginia 100 per cent.

Among the various States which register smaller increases are Nevada, 80 per cent, Kansas 68.1 per cent, Connecticut 46.5 per cent, Texas 33 per cent, New Jersey 31.8 per cent, New York 31.2 per cent, Arizona 25.8 per cent, South Carolina 23.8 per cent, Utah 22 per cent and Minnesota 18.6 per cent.

SOME DECREASES

Decreases from last year were reported from Kentucky, which declined 96 per cent, Michigan, 55 per cent, Delaware 40 per cent, Montana 32 per cent, and Arkansas 1½ per cent.

The great increase in early season highway construction is a matter of considerable national importance, in the opinion of Secretary Lamont. Improved highways, he pointed out today, represent a material contribution to the stabilization of general business conditions of the present and future, and the large volume of early awards may be especially significant in connection with the problem of spreading employment more evenly over the entire year.

In addition to facilitating distribution of the products of the farms and factories when completed, highway construction operations involve the use of millions of tons of materials drawn from widely separated sources all over the country and provide employment both directly and indirectly over broader areas than any other type of public work. It is estimated by Commerce Department statisticians that nearly 50 cents out of each $1 spent for highway building and maintenance goes to labor.

BOMBS WRECK STORE AND TRUCK IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 11. (AP)—A black powder bomb shattered the windows of a West Side delicatessen store and another of the same make wrecked a truck in a South Side garage early today. No one was injured, police and operators of the places are without a clew as to the motive.

RADIO ADVISORY COUNCIL FORMS

National Education Body Will Aid Broadcast

Millikan of Caltech Named Committee Member

Carnegie Corporation and Rockefellers Backers

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—Organization of a national advisory council on radio in education was announced today by the American Association for Adult Education. The object of the council will be to "emphasize and develop educational broadcasting."

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the Carnegie Corporation of New York have made possible the organization of the council through their financial support for the first year. Levering Tyson, of Columbia University, has been appointed director.

The council will consist of fifty representative citizens. A series of local and regional councils will supply information to broadcasting stations. In general, the body will act as a clearinghouse for educational information for broadcasting.

Members of the executive committee include Dr. Robert A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, and Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern University.

DEADWOOD DICK FINDS END O' TRAIL

Pioneer Dakota Scout Laid to Last Long Rest in Rocky Crypt on Loved Mountain

DEADWOOD (S. D.) May 11. (AP) In a grave blasted out of rock on the Bismarck Trail on Sunrise Mountain, Richard Clarke, better known as Deadwood Dick, one of the last scouts of the pioneer days of the Middle West, was buried at sunset today as several hundred friends gathered for a final tribute. Clarke died last Monday.

Brief church services were conducted here late in the afternoon. Then the body was escorted up the mountain to the cabin in Pine Crest Park, where Deadwood Dick had lived most of his eighty-three years.

In the procession were Black Hills pioneers who rode in an old Deadwood stage coach; the band from the army post at Fort Meade, and relatives who followed the casket on foot despite a snowstorm on the mountain top.

Plans to have airplanes circle overhead and drop flowers were abandoned because of a storm. An Army squad fired a volley and taps were blown as the body was lowered into its rocky grave which he had selected for his final resting-place.

Pallbearers included Deadwood Dick's intimate friends. Among them were Silver Tip Tom Grant, "Diamond Dick" Tanner, "Rattlesnake Bill" Sherrill, Claude Williams, Ed Rents and Claude Flesher.

Sheriff's Force Saves Day When Rum Runners Hold Up Federal Agent

SANTA BARBARA, May 11. (Exclusive)—Fifteen thousand dollars' worth of whisky and wine was abandoned in San Marcos Pass near here this afternoon when liquor runners ran afoul of officers.

Federal Prohibition Agent Patterson, with his wife, was driving in the San Marcos region, when he recognized a bootlegger whom he knew as Burns, in a small car, followed by a truck load of liquor.

Burns shoved a shotgun against Patterson's ribs and told the truck men to go ahead, Patterson declared. Mrs. Patterson slipped from the car, jumped aboard a passing car and telephoned to the Sheriff's office at Santa Barbara. Undersheriff Ross intercepted the truck before the drivers could get it away. They ran it into a bank and disappeared in the underbrush.

Filipinos to Quit Trouble Area

AUBURN (Wash.) May 11. (AP)—Arrangements were made at a mass meeting here last night for the peaceful elimination of Filipino laborers from truck farms in the White River Valley, where white laborers who were supplanted by the Filipinos conducted a series of night raids on their camps early last week.

The meeting was attended by representatives of chambers of commerce, Kiwanis clubs, American Legion posts and white and Japanese truck gardeners of the valley.

~~Re-Perfected~~ Brougham
PIERCE-ARROW EIGHT
$2900

WE have but one of these eight cylinder Pierce-Arrow broughams in our used car department. It is a most delightful car to drive and is beautifully appointed. Some of the features are adjustable driver's seat, a steering column that can be tilted, a folding arm rest to divide the rear seat when separate compartments are desired, cushions built over Marshall springs, floor carpets soft and durable, with ozite insulation and numerous other refinements, such as a commodious trunk with waterproof cover.

The car has been used but little and has had every needed adjustment in our own shop so that we can guarantee it and service it as we would if it were brand new. The tires and finish are excellent. Two spares are mounted in forward fender wells.

You should see this car and drive it if you are in search of a fine eight cylinder car on which you can save considerable money, both on first cost and on operating cost.

CLASH IN INDIA BRINGS DEATHS

Two Toddy-Shop Employees Drown Fleeing Mob

Great Meeting 'Anniversary Passes Tranquilly

Situation at Scene of Recent Disturbance Grave

BOMBAY (India) May 12 (Monday.) (AP)—Abbas Tyabji, who succeeded Mahatma Gandhi as leader of the Indian civil disobedience movement, and all his immediate followers were arrested this morning at Navsari, as they prepared for a raid on the government salt depots at Dharsana.

JALALPUR (India) May 11. (AP)—Under strict police watchfulness and with troops ready for emergencies, India today tranquilly passed through the week-end marking the seventy-third anniversary of the outbreak of the great Indian mutiny and by the annual Moslem feast of Bakrid.

Measures taken by the authorities prevented outbreaks in any of the trouble centers. The Bakrid celebrations, which in the past have sometimes brought about racial clashes between Moslems and Hindus, passed peacefully on Saturday at Delhi, Allahabad, Lahore, Meerut and Bombay.

SHOLAPUR SITUATION

At these great Moslem centers there was no aftermath of trouble today, but tonight the stuation at Sholapur, where the worst rioting since the beginning of the civil disobedience campaign broke out Thursday, is said to be less satisfactory than yesterday.

Eight hundred troops are concentrated in that city. Shops and mills are still closed, and when some shopkeepers attempted to reopen for business today they were threatened by the mill-hands and had to give up their plans.

PROCESSION BROKEN UP

A procession organized last night in defiance of orders prohibiting the assembly of more than five persons, paraded the streets and dispersed only under the threat of police action. District Magistrate R. F. Knight appeared on the scene with several truckloads of armed police.

In all India only one clash was reported up to late this evening. This was at the village of Ongal, near Jalalpur, where pickets of the civil disobedience campaign, villagers and employees of a toddy-shop clashed. Half a dozen persons were hurt and two employees of the toddy-shop drowned while swimming a river to get away from the mob.

Wife in Dream Kills Husband

CHARITON (Iowa) May 11. (AP)—C. Frank Phillips, 61 years of age, Lucas (Iowa) barber was killed early this morning by his wife, who apparently had been dreaming as she slept beside him.

"I saw a strange face in the bedroom," Mrs. Phillips told County Attorney Harold Lewis, "and then I remember nothing more until I was in our daughter's room telling her that I had just shot father."

The county attorney and the Sheriff said they could find no motive for the slaying.

RIVERS IN TEXAS ON RAMPAGE

Heavy Rainfall Disrupts Traffic and Streams Rise Near to Flood Marks

DALLAS (Tex.) May 11. (AP)—Flood waters resulting from heavy rains Saturday and Saturday night continued today to cause disruption of traffic in various parts of the State, particularly in South Texas, although a bright sun today began to dry the mud, giving North Texas respite from almost a week of constant rains.

Rains which began falling in the Laredo section of the lower Rio Grande Valley continued through the night and today with a total precipitation of about one and one-half inches, and further showers in prospect.

The Trinity River still is rising and in places lacks only a few feet of being out of its banks. Other rivers in the State are rapidly approaching the flood stage.

Relief work is hindered in the section of Hill county near Anderson Bend, where a small tornado struck Saturday, killing F. W. Tucker and injuring several other persons.

At Georgetown the San Gabriel River threatens to go on a rampage and water threatens the streets of Bertram and Taylor.

Mother's Day Visit Becomes One of Grief

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) May 11. (AP)—Miss Charlotte Lansing Snyder, musical comedy actress, arrived home today to spend Mother's Day only to learn that her mother, Mrs. Flora E. Snyder, had died twenty-four hours earlier.

News of the death had been kept from Miss Snyder so that she might appear as prima donna in the "New Moon," which closed a run last night in Detroit.

Mother's Day Flight Fatal

SANTA ROSA, May 11. (AP)—Two brothers were killed and their companion probably fatally injured today in the crash of their plane two miles south of the Santa Rosa airport on the Joseph Smith ranch, where the mother and relatives of the injured youth awaited his homecoming on Mother's Day. Hay Berry of Modesto, piloting the plane, was almost instantly killed, while his brother Arnold was injured fatally, dying a few hours later.

The third youth, Robert Smith, former Santa Rosa Junior College football player, received cranial and spinal injuries which are expected to prove fatal.

SALT LAKE SAILOR'S BODY COMES ASHORE

SALT LAKE CITY, May 11. (AP)—Tied to an improvised mast on a rudely constructed raft, the body of Joe Gutierrez, 50 years of age, railroad worker and former sailor, who was lost on Great Salt Lake nearly a month ago, was found near Saltair Beach, eighteen miles east of here late today. Gutierrez and several companions were caught in a storm while riding the home-made raft April 13. The others leaped into the lake and swam to shore, while Gutierrez, unable to swim, remained aboard.

PASSION PLAY AGAIN ENACTED

Oberammergau Sits in Rain for Ten-Hour Drama

Inclement Weather Ignored by 8000 Spectators

New Christus Brings Novel Interpretation to Part

BY ALEXANDER WOOLCOTT

Copyright, 1930, by New York Times.]

OBERAMMERGAU (Germany) May 11. (Exclusive)—Under gray and dripping skies threatening with the memory of the snow and hail which visited this valley in the week just past, the good villagers of Oberammergau re-enacted today their immemorial Passion Play, thereby fulfilling once again and renewing for another generation the pledge their forebears made 300 years ago.

The play triumphed even over the village of Oberammergau, which in its least becoming light does suggest our own dear Ocean Grove and East Aurora in the days of the late Elbert Hubbard, when the unshorn followers of Fra Elebertus went about their business determined to be picturesque if it took their last ton of strength.

NEW INTERPRETATION

Of course, the chief interest of the 1930 production attaches to Alois Lang, the master wood-carver whom the votes of the village called to the central role. In height, in feature, in bearing and in his undeniable personal force he seems a medieval canvas come miraculously to life to meet the old play's needs. In strong contrast to the gentle, winning Christus of his predecessor, Anton Lang, the new Christus is aristocratic, princely.

It was the first public performance of 1930 and at its summons more than 5000 souls came from the ends of the earth to sit in the penitential seats of the vast auditorium—to sit, mind you, from 8 o'clock in the morning till 6 at night, equipped as for a November football game with blankets and hot-water bottles thoughtfully rented to them at the last moment by the thrifty natives, most of the spectators clutching hopefully at translations to guide them through a play performed in a language they do not understand.

SUN PLAYS PART

For a little moment the sun took part, entering the colloquy on Pilate's threshold and plucking such colors from the costumes as were there, and transmuted the scene in terms of radiant pageantry, but through the march toward Calvary the rain fell steadily and the Crucifixion was played in a downpour that veiled the unsheltered stage in curtains of water, while the wind howled in the mountains roundabout.

Fitts Organizes Up-State Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11. (AP)—On an organization tour of Northern and Central California, Dist.-Atty. Fitts of Los Angeles, gubernatorial candidate, held a series of conferences here during the day and left tonight for Sacramento, Stockton and other valley points.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Fitts and William G. Marvin, close friend and political adviser. Former Gov. Richardson was among those conferring with Fitts here.

CANADA TARIFF RISES DETAILED

Millions in Products From America to Be Affected

Preferential Treatment for British Goods Prospect

Department of Commerce Gives Official Analysis

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Tariff revision proposals of the Canadian government as advanced this month will impose higher import duties on between $175,000,000 and $225,000,000 worth of United States products customarily supplied each year to that country.

Further, products of the British Empire, more or less competitive to those of the United States, which Canada ordinarily imports to the value of $200,000,000 a year, will be given either increased preference in duties or an entirely free import status. This is the conclusion announced today by a Commerce Department analysis of the new Canadian tariff projects, which were formulated the 1st inst. by the Dominion Minister of Finance.

"Competition between imports from the British Empire and the United States is substantially increased," the departmental review of the new Canadian measure says, "about 216 items being added to the free list under the British preferential tariff. American exporters in many lines will be required to lay greater stress on service and quality."

As a response to the pending American tariff bill, the Canadian law has widely extended the scope of countervailing duties under which Canada will place duties against imports entering her border from any country which equal tariff duties imposed by that country on the Canadian products. Grain, meats, poultry products, dairy products and iron piping are among the additional items specifically made subject to the countervailing system. On metal manufactures of nearly all kinds, the preference to British products is increased and, in many cases, the rates that will affect the competing products when imported from the United States are increased.

Oklahoma Census Man Finds Three Brothers Triplicates in Marital History

SHADY POINT (Okla.) May 11. (AP)—William H. Haggard, Federal census enumerator for this section, says he has found an unusual situation at Panama, Okla.

Three brothers, Haggard said, who married three sisters were found residing in the same house. Each family has two children and in all three instances one child was born in Arkansas and one in Oklahoma.

The three families, the enumerator was advised, never have quarreled.

LOS ANGELES GIRL WINS HONOR AT UNIVERSITY

(Exclusive) Miss Margaret Hahn of Los Angeles has won a captaincy in the women's advisory system of the University of California, an organization which aids women students academically and socially. Among the advisers, whose duties become effective next August, are Margaret Tupy, Dorothy Dunster and Martha Carlson of Los Angeles; Virginia Armstrong and Flora Turner of Pasadena; Isabel Orton of Owensmouth and Anitra Martin of Colton.

NEGRO-BURNING CITY IN CONTROL

Sherman, Tex., Under Clamp of Martial Law

Troops With Machine Guns Keep Strict Order

Inquest Over Friday's Mob Victim Conducted

SHERMAN (Tex.) May 11. (AP)—Patrolling the streets under a hot sun and manning machine guns placed at strategic points, Texas National Guardsmen maintained strict order under martial law here today.

The highways leading into Sherman and the streets of this pretty little city were thick with Sunday motorists who found a new attraction in the burned Grayson County Courthouse and the Negro residence district stormed last Friday and Friday night by a mob incensed over the criminal attack upon a white woman by George Hughes, 41-year-old Negro.

NEGRO SUFFOCATED

Hughes was declared officially by a Coroner's jury to have been suffocated in a vault in the Courthouse into which he was thrust when Texas Rangers and other officers trying to save him from the mob were driven from the structure by the flames consuming it. The decision means the Coroner's jury believed Hughes was dead when entrance into the thick-walled vault was forced by the mob using acetylene torches and dynamite. His body, nevertheles, was dragged through the streets and then burned at a prominent corner in the Negro district.

A military order prohibiting the congregating of more than three persons tended to cramp the style of today's sightseers.

MARTIAL LAW REIGNS

The order was one of the first issued by the commandant, Col. Lawrence E. McGee of Dallas. Under his official instructions a means of getting to the bottom of the uprising was arranged. He appointed a court of inquiry with supreme authority to investigate and to direct arrests.

All business places except hotels, restaurants and drug stores were ordered to close at 6 p.m.

Martial law was clamped down last night under a proclamation by Gov. Moody, well after the rioting had ceased but in the face of widely reported rumors that a new onslaught on the jail was planned in an effort to liberate thirteen mob members held there.

The first arrest under the martial law occurred late today when a young man suspected of taking part in Friday night's riots was taken before the military officers.

ITALY FREES REPATRIATE FROM ARMS

Liberal Application Made of 1928 Law Relating to Military Service

ROME, May 11. (AP)—The Stefani News Agency in what is evidently a statement inspired by government sources last night declared that new dispositions have been taken to guarantee all Italian residents abroad freedom from military service on returning to Italy, no matter what their age or length of stay.

A single exception will be made for Italians who return to Italy during their minority and who, at the time of calling up their class for service, have resided in the country for more than two years.

The Stefani statement says that during the first three months of 1930 there were 2701 Italians resident in North America and 4841 from Latin America who returned to Italy with Italian passports. None of them was obliged to do military service.

The new dispositions taken by the government concern the general application of the law of December 24, 1928.

Woman Slays Mate and Self

ROCK ISLAND, (Ill.) May 11. (Exclusive)—Mrs. H. R. Dumont of Rock Island shot and killed her husband, an associated United States engineer, then committed suicide in her home early today. After killing her husband with a pistol bullet Mrs. Dumont telephoned the pastor of her church, informed him of the act and then turned the weapon against her head, firing two shots. When police broke into the home a short time later the bodies were found in a bathroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Dumont had had domestic trouble recently and were separated for a time. The woman left a note saying that her husband was trying to poison her.

Priest Killed in Auto Accident

SANTA ROSA, May 11. (AP)—Rev. Joseph Powers, 30 years of age, assistant pastor of St. Francis Church, Sonoma, was killed today when he lost control of his automobile, which plunged over a thirty-foot embankment near El Verano, twenty miles east of here. Pasing motorists extricated him from beneath the automobile.

The priest was ordained a year ago.

HERMOSA BEACH MAN STRICKEN ON STAGE

TOPEKA (Kan.) May 11. (AP)—A middle-aged man, identified through pap in his pocket as W. R. Green, Hermosa Beach, Cal., paving contractor, died in a hospitel here a few hours after suffering an apoplectic stroke in a transcontinental motor stage. He was en route to Washington.

NEWS OF MIDDLE WEST

These news briefs of happenings in the Middle West are collected by The Times' Chicago correspondent, and are sent by leased wire to Los Angeles. Efforts are made to obtain late news which will be of interest to the many former residents of that section, who are now in California.

NEBRASKA

Dr. Clyde A. Nelson, a former Lincoln boy who spent two and a half months putting the teeth of all the Byrd expedition members in perfect condition before they sailed from New York two years ago, is on his way to Panama, where he will examine the teeth of all returning members of the South Pole expedition.

IOWA

Twenty-seven hundred individual cherry pies, smothered in whipped cream, were served at the annual Veishea open house of the home economics division of Iowa State College, Ames, to prove that the co-eds take seriously their motto, "Science with practice."

Dr. W. L. Allen, 72-year-old dean of Davenport physicians and well known throughout Iowa and Illinois, died at his home of heart disease. Dr. Allen had been in ill health for nearly a year and a recently returned from a stay in California.

Dr. J. Lynn Crawford, widely known in the Midwest as a surgeon, died at Cedar Rapids of heart disease six weeks after his father, Dr. George E. Crawford, died.

MINNESOTA

Fred Coyle, pioneer veterinary of Lyon county, died at his home near Garvin.

Fire destroyed the Hayes-Lucas lumber yard at Tracy. Cause of the fire is unknown. It spread very rapidly despite a heavy rain. Estimated loss is $40,000 to $50,000.

Ernest M. Hanson, school principal at Hutchinson, succeeds M. R. Vevie as superintendent, who has accepted the superintendency of the State School for the Blind at Fairbault.

INDIANA

John Smith, president of the Exchange Bank at Spencer until closed last June, was sentenced to two years in State prison, fined $1653 and disfranchised for three years on a charge of embezzlement.

Dr. Charles S. Mack, 73-year-old pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem at La Porte, widely known both in medical and religious circles, is dead.

Henry Shuman, former president of the Madison County Farm Bureau at Anderson, was sentenced to prison for from one to ten years for embezzlement of $9727 in bureau funds.

Judge Howard Kemp of Crown Point, marrying squire of Crown Point's Gretna Green, just managed to squeeze into the nomination for justice of the peace. Judge Kemp is reputed to have made $50,000 a year and twenty-five candidates sought the job.

Valentine Penrose, 103 years of age, Brown county's oldest citizen, is dead at Nashville.

OHIO

The graduating class at Ohio State University, Columbus, will number 1400 students, the largest in the university's history.

Mrs. Mary A. Force, 65 years of age, resident of Akron thirty years, died at her home there.

George A. Mayberry, superintendent of the Home for Aged and Infirm, has resigned. Taylor Gray, deputy jailer, probably will be appointed, with Mrs. Gray succeeding Mrs. Edna Miller as matron.

The final step in the contest over the will of Judge Matt O'Doherty was taken when officials of the United States Trust Company, executors, turned over to Arthur B. Bensinger, attorney for the plaintiffs, the sum of $725,000 for distribution among them.

SOUTH DAKOTA

Attorney Thomas McInerney, Elk Point, has purchased the bond issue offered by Eden township. The proceeds are to pay the $17,500 judgment secured by Miss Ruby Pocklington, former Hawarden girl, for injuries received in an automobile accident five years ago when the car in which she was riding ran into a tree that had blown across a highway during a storm and had been left there.

WISCONSIN

Septic poisoning caused by an impaired wisdom tooth, the existence of which he had never known, caused the death at his home in Green Bay of John S. Dixon, 76-year-old pioneer resident of Calumet county. Mr. Dixon supposed that all his teeth had been removed and he was wearing artificial teeth when the infection developed.

The body of Dr. R. J. Fairchild, 67 years of age, for fifteen years a physician at Clintonville, was found in his office. A shotgun with one shell discharged was on the floor. Authorities said he committed suicide.

A gift of $5000 to the Institute of Paper Chemistry at Lawrence College has been announced. The E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Company, Wilmington, Del., is the donor. The gift comes in recognition of the nation-wide interest among the paper and allied industries which the institute has aroused.

ILLINOIS

California Land Show at Los Angeles Indorsed

BY JAMES L. DAVIS
"Times" Real Estate Editor

YOSEMITE, May 11. (Exclusive) California realty operators, comprising the executives and directors of the State association, concluded their executive council meeting here with the passage of a number of resolutions pertaining to realty affairs, chief of which was that the present Real Estate License Act be not amended needlessly but that it be permitted to function as it is until given a fair trial. The act was passed last year and has been in effect about six months.

Support of all realty boards in the State for the growth and progress number of the California Real Estate Magazine was requested in a resolution and directors resolved to call upon the school districts throughout the State to consider making this number of the magazine available as a book of reference and authority for the use of students.

During the closing session the San Gabriel Valley Realty Board was admitted to membership in the State organization. Directors accepted the invitation of Santa Ana to be host to the next executive council meeting. They formally accepted the invitation of the Santa Cruz board as the meeting-place for the State convention of the association October 22, 23 and 24 of this year.

Indorsement of the California Land Show was provided in another resolution, the directors holding the event, which took place recently in Los Angeles, to have been of State-wide benefit. The resolution recommended that the land show be made an annual affair, provided the means for supporting, financing and improving it can be found in the several counties, cities and the State itself.

WOMEN DEFEAT CAT SNATCHERS

Portuguese Housewives Shield Pets From Agents of Law

LISBON, May 11. (AP)—Frantic scenes were enacted at Alfama, the capital's slum district, when "cat snatchers" made their appearance to enforce the decree of extermination of stray cats.

As many of the felines seized were not strays, infuriated women put the agents of the law to flight and carried their beloved pets to safety.

The destruction of cats has raised such a chorus of protests that the government is considering amendment of the law. In future all cats must wear collars and be licensed.

Plates of Iron Now Print Bills

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—United States paper money now is being engraved from plates made of iron instead of copper. A new process for manufacturing iron engraving plates has been developed by the Bureau of Standards, and its use is proving more economical than that of copper.

In making the new plates, iron is drawn out of acid solution by electrolysis, and deposited in plate form on the proper surface patterns. When the iron plate is completed its surface is plated with chromium, one of the hardest among metals, to resist the wearing effects of long service in the printing machines.

MOTHER TELLS OF TRAGEDY

Girl Wife, Who Killed Her Babies, Reveals Pathetic Tale of Desperate Poverty

ST. GEORGE (N. Y.) May 9. (Exclusive)—The tragic story of the unhappiest marriage of all—so piercing in its pathos it sent tears coursing down the cheeks of the hardened members of a lunacy commission, was unfolded in a courtroom here.

It came from the lips of a woman branded a triple murderess by State indictments. She told why seven years of squalor, desperate poverty, hunger and forced motherhood had so drained her spirit from her numb body that she had turned on the gas, killing her three babies and attempting to kill herself at the same time, only to be rescued after the children were dead.

"Then I woke up in a hospital and found that I was alive and my babies were gone, and I was sorry I was alive," she said dully.

Only 22 years of age, the mother who killed her three children, Mrs. Mary Santonastasio, appeared to be 45, drawn and haggard and her cheeks burned a parchment-like brown by a diet of crackers, cabbage and beans—with 25 cents worth of meat weekly for the entire family of five—over a period of seven years.

Listlessly, she responded to the questions of her counsel, former Judge J. Harry Tierney, with her stark, pathetic tale.

"Yes, my husband Thomas, before he was my husband, forced me to accept his love. Then I was to be a mother. He married me and put me to live in the flat in Port Richmond."

Slowly, the young mother told how her children—Josephine, 6; Raphaele, 2, and Carmela, 10 months, came without medical attention. Then she related how—

She went to work two days after childbirth because her work at cleaning the apartment-house helped to pay the rent.

Her husband gave her two dresses in seven years and beat her once for spending more than $1 at a time for food.

She tried to commit suicide rather than have her fourth child, and iodine she drank left her ill for weeks.

She wanted to end her life alone, but feared her children would be given a stepmother.

Her husband gave her $10 a week for all household expenses and then took $6 back for his own.

She and her babes were forced to huddle together in a heap to keep warm because they had no money for fuel.

She often beat herself and choked herself when life became unbearable.

Before Mrs. Santonastasio finished with the statement that she liked jail better than home because the "matrons were kind" tears stood on the cheeks of all three members of the lunacy commission—John Furlong, Dr. Arthur S. Driscoll and Alfred V. Norton.

A decision on the mother's sanity will be announced later.

GIRL KILLED BY AUTO; THREE FRIENDS HURT

SANTA ROSA, May 11. (AP)—Miss Mildred Sauter, 27 years of age, San Francisco stenographer, was killed and her three companions were injured at Northwood, near Guerneville, today when their automobile left the highway, skidded in loose gravel and overturned. Her companions were Joseph Larkin and George Wentworth, San Francisco, and Joseph Smith, Guerneville.

CONTESTANT DROWNS IN MOTORBOAT RACE

OAKLAND, May 11. (AP)—Tragedy ended one of the outboard motorboat races of the Alameda Boat Club in San Leandro Harbor today when John Illich, 22 years of age, of Berkeley, was thrown from his craft on a sharp turn and drowned. William Weaver of San Jose, piloting a near-by boat, leaped into the water in an effort to rescue the struggling youth, but was unable to reach him in time.

POPE'S NAME DAY TO BE CELEBRATED IN ROME

VATICAN CITY, May 11. (AP)—Pope Pius's "onomastico," or name-day, falls tomorrow, and in accordance with custom those cardinals resident in or visiting Rome will call upon him to congratulate him on the occasion. His Holiness' Christian name is Achille, the Italianized form of Achilleus, and, therefore, St. Achilleus, whose feast it is tomorrow, is considered his patron.

LABOR PLAN EVOLVED BY MEXICAN

Electrician Proposes to Compel Workers to Save Money for Own Factory

MEXICO CITY, May 11. (Exclusive)—An original way of solving Mexico's unemployment situation is offered by Alfonso Gutierrez Zamudio, Mexico City electrician, who has presented his plan to President Ortiz Rubio.

The plan calls for passage by Congress of a bill that would make saving compulsory among all laborers of the republic. Each laboring man, according to the proportions of his wages, would be compelled to place a fixed sum monthly into a common fund. This fund would be deposited in a Mexico City bank and would be in the charge of a commission of laboring men.

When the fund reaches large enough proportions a factory would be established with it as the capital, and thus, according to the inventor of the project, the laboring men, instead of being "exploited by foreign capitalists," would be both capitalists and workers.

Senor Gutierrez Zamudio believes that with the enormous number of laborers in Mexico only one year would be required until the common fund would be large enough for the establishment of the factory, and work would be provided immediately for Mexico's unemployed.

CONVICTED MURDERER CONDEMNED TO DEATH

PECOS (Texas) May 11. (AP)—Pedro Aguilar, charged with murder, was assessed the death penalty by a jury in the One Hundred and Ninth District Court here. The jury was out only thirty minutes. Aguilar was convicted of shooting and killing C. R. Dakan, member of a posse seeking his arrest for the asserted slaying of two other Mexicans in the Ward County Jail, April 6.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11. (AP)—C. H. Lang, 69 years of age, of Red Bluff, committed suicide today by leaping from the third floor of the St. Francis Hospital, where he had been a patient.

CATHOLICS END TUNIS CONGRESS

Moslems and Jews Join in Closing Ceremonies

Thousands of French Troops Used to Keep Order

CARTHAGE (Tunisia) May 11. (AP)—The greatest multitude in the history of Carthage since ancient days gathered in this historic site of Christianity today for the closing ceremonies of the thirtieth eucharistic congress of the Roman Catholic Church.

Christians, Moslems and Jews, flocking in from the near-by city of Tunis, joined the thousands of foreign pilgrims here since the sessions opened on Wednesday. They came to see—not all could hear—a pontifical mass celebrated by Cardinal Lepicier, Papal legate, and a great procession in the afternoon.

CROWD TOTALS 100,000

At least 100,000 persons swarmed about the ruins of St. Cyprien Church for the pontifical mass. Five thousand French troops formed lines around the ancient walls and pillars to maintain order. Transportation facilities were swamped and most of the spectators had to go without lunch.

The African sun blazed down as eight cardinals and a score of other high church dignitaries in robes of red and gold gathered in a stand beside the altar. The resident-general of Tunisia, M. Manceron, and other French officials sat in the stand, their court uniforms, glittering with medals, making a brilliant picture with the robes of the prelates.

BENEDICTION GIVEN

Below the stand, hundreds of bishops clad in purple were assembled and behind them thousands of priests from all nations in garments of black, white and brown.

A choir of the White Fathers of Carthage, numbering 100 voices, sang the Gregorian chant, while the thousands of priests sang the responses to the mass.

Cardinal Lepicier, the representative of Pope Pius XI, in a brief allocution declared that the thirtieth congress had been a success and thanked Resident General Manceron for his hospitality and the assembled pilgrims for their loyalty to the Holy Father.

With a smile that won the hearts of the pilgrims he pronounced the Papal benediction, which fell with awe-inspiring effect upon 100,000 heads and followers of three faiths.

Education Held Aid to Wifehood

NEW YORK, May 11. (NANA)—College education does not unfit a young woman for marriage. On the contrary, college study develops a young woman's mental machinery to a degree which makes it possible for her to found a home and engage in some useful activity aside from her domestic duties.

The 1930 alumnae register shows the proportion of married graduates of Barnard College, New York City, is increasing each year. Of the graduates who have married, 29.2 per cent are working at paying jobs.

Ohio Police in Distillery Raid

CLEVELAND (O.) May 11. (AP)—Breaking through a steel door camouflaged with a layer of hollow tile, a police squad early today seized more than 37,000 gallons of industrial alcohol in vats awaiting distillation and several hundred gallons "cooking" in a huge still in a three-story brick building in the business district. The alcohol was valued at more than $100,000.

Operators of the plant escaped through a seventy-five-foot tunnel.

ICE BREAK ON YUKON HERALDING SUMMER

DAWSON (Y. T.) May 11. (AP)—The ice in the Yukon River in front of Dawson, commenced to break up and move down stream at 6:43 o'clock last evening, heralding the advent of summer and the opening of navigation. The ice moved out quietly with the lowest water stage ever recorded here.

JOFFRE ATTENDS MEET

PARIS, May 11. (AP)—Marshal Joffre, victor of the Battle of the Marne in September, 1914, is enjoying excellent health and yesterday attended a session of the French Academy. Reports of his illness have been denied.

BEAUTY INDEX TO BUSINESS

Prosperity Forecast as Women Flock Back to Parlors of Pulchritude

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11. (AP)—The economic foundations of society, as a radical soapboxer might call them, are reflected in an interesting way in beauty parlors.

Employees of what is claimed to be the largest beauty parlor on the Pacific Coast, owned and operated here by a large department store, say that prosperity is definitely on the upgrade because their old customers are beginning to come back and to spend more money.

One operator in the salon said that within a week after the big crash on the New York Stock Exchange the number of patrons, who are exclusively women, diminished by 50 per cent. And of the 50 per cent that remained virtually all of them had less work done.

This condition continued for some weeks. For instance, the wife of the owner of a large garage here got about half as much work done as she usually had. She said that her husband catered to the physicians and dentists and that these professional men cut down their patronage and some of them even could not pay because they said their clients could not pay.

After the nervousness quieted down and things looked a bit brighter the doctors and dentists began to collect and began to do more business with the garage man whereupon the garage man's wife got marcels and massages, etc., which she had to do without before.

Wives and daughters of radio men told much the same story. Some women would come in and get $15 and $20 worth of work done at a time and come back often and leave tips ranging up to $5. Came the crash. The woman who got $20 worth done got $10. The woman who got $10 worth of attention got $5 and the woman who got $5 skipped a week and the woman who got $3 worth every other week quit coming.

Now the $3 customers are coming back and the tips are going up slowly because, it is declared, husbands are more able and willing to make an outlay for spousely decorations. Hair is being bobbed oftener and there are more smiles.

That eternal barometer, milady's toilette, says good times are ahead.

Old Customers Bring New Ones...

"CAN YOU recommend a good bank?" This is a frequent question in Los Angeles where, every day, hundreds of newcomers arrive to make their homes here.

"You'll like the Union Bank...that's my Bank!" This is the answer that most of our customers give. We know that, because about 78% of all our new business is brought to us by our present depositors.

We mention it here because we think it is an excellent advertisement for the manner in which we conduct our business.

Ice Boxes are seen by all your friends

California hospitality . . . with friends often gathering informally in the kitchen . . . means that every housewife should take pride in keeping that kitchen in accordance with 1930 standards.

How about your old ice box! Does it have the gleaming sanitary appearance of the modern ice refrigerator . . . or do you feel apologetic for its looks?

And of far more importance than looks alone . . . do you realize that modern ice refrigeration is important in guarding your family's health?

New developments . . . research by Columbia University engineers . . . years of experience, have gone into these beautiful new refrigerators. Temperatures are safely below 50°. Scientific air circulation carries away every trace of odor and impure air. (Only with ice refrigeration is this possible; only with ICE can you preserve the full flavor and juices of your foods.)

For as little as $30 (others only up to $70) you can have one of the beautiful white or pastel colored ice refrigerators delivered and installed in your home. Easy terms and a liberal allowance on your old ice box.

Ask a Union Ice Co. delivery salesman today.

Especially in the summer months . . . there is a demand for more ice for cold drinks and table use. With an ice refrigerator, you need never be annoyed by that dismal cry "we're out of ice" . . . so common in the house with a chemical-electric refrigerator. Stop a clean Red, White and Blue Union Ice Truck for satisfactory ice service.

Make Electricity Cheap!

Another Victim of Poor Lighting

A dark stairway—a misstep—crash!—an injured knee; and all avoidable with good lighting!

Why put up with the inconveniences and risks of dark halls, dark stairways, dark porches, basements and garages—when good lighting is so easy and inexpensive to have?

The good lighting of stairways, halls, porches, basements, etc., will provide proper general illumination, as well as proper light for special use at working points.

And when wiring, provide ample convenience outlets for the easy use of the many electrical appliances available to the modern home.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

REDONDO PIER FACES TEMPEST

New Legal Storm Blowing Up in Two Separate Suits

Solidity and Legality of Assessments Attacked

Feasibility and Propriety of Extension Questioned

BY CHARLES C. COHAN

REDONDO BEACH, May 11.—Torrid court warfare looms for Redondo Beach in the form of new indicated litigation in two separate actions involving the following already much-argued issues which have been responsible for considerable court history:

(1.) The attacked, and as vigorously asserted, solidity of the beach city's horseshoe pier, about 1500 feet in curved length and costing approximately $67,000 and the legality of the assessments levied to pay for the structure.

(2.) The feasibility, and propriety, of a plan to construct a seaward extension from this municipal pier for a distance of 268 feet at an estimated cost of $30,000.

Back of these prospective legal engagements rises a controversy involving on one side the contention that the proposed extension is necessary to combat asserted existing, or threatened, monopolistic control of landing facilities for fishermen by a privately owned pier-extension now in place. Opposed to this is the argument that the contemplated new extension is only another phase of asserted antagonism against the privately owned extension on part of union fishermen.

The far-reaching importance of Redondo Beach as an ocean-front resort extends the interest in the imbroglio far beyond the confines of the beach city.

FURTHER ACTION

So far as the disputed solidity of the horseshoe pier is concerned, preparations are being made either to seek a new trial or to appeal the case in which Judge V. N. Thompson of El Centro, sitting in the Los Angeles Superior Court last fall, ruled in favor of Redondo Beach taxpayers. They contended that the acceptance of the municipal pier was illegal because it was not properly completed and opposed the assessments levied. City Attorney Polglase of Redondo Beach, speaking for the City Council here, says this ruling will be fought to a finish. The Council's faith in the pier is indicated by the fact that it continues open to public use.

Following the blocking by previous court actions of the proposed pier extension, the City Council has advertised for bids for it to be submitted by the 20th inst. Attorney Lewis E. Whitehead, who has been the legal head of the suits brought against the municipal pier and the extension, says that, representing Redondo city taxpayers, he will move to block these bids, just as he previously has done.

FIGHT FROM START

The horseshoe pier, which extends from Emerald street to Pier avenue, was built in 1928 and the legal fireworks were touched off when in January of last year the City Council disregarded the protests against the pier and accepted it. This brought the suit which Judge Thompson decided. While this action was pending, proceedings were started by the Council for the proposed extension. A court action against this resulted in the abandonment of the proceedings by the Council, due, says the City Attorney, to certain contingencies which delayed the project and made the proceedings stale. Subsequently the Council again started proceedings for the extension which then involved the building of a comfort station at the south approach to the already existing privately owned pier-extension. The owner of the latter structure sought to enjoin the placing of the comfort station there but lost out, the decree holding that his structure's means of ingress and egress was not impeded. In connection with his suit, an injunction was asked and granted, against the opening of the bids for the proposed extension. The bids were withdrawn and the Council proceeded thereafter to ask for bids which will be considered later this month.

WHO'LL HOLD SACK?

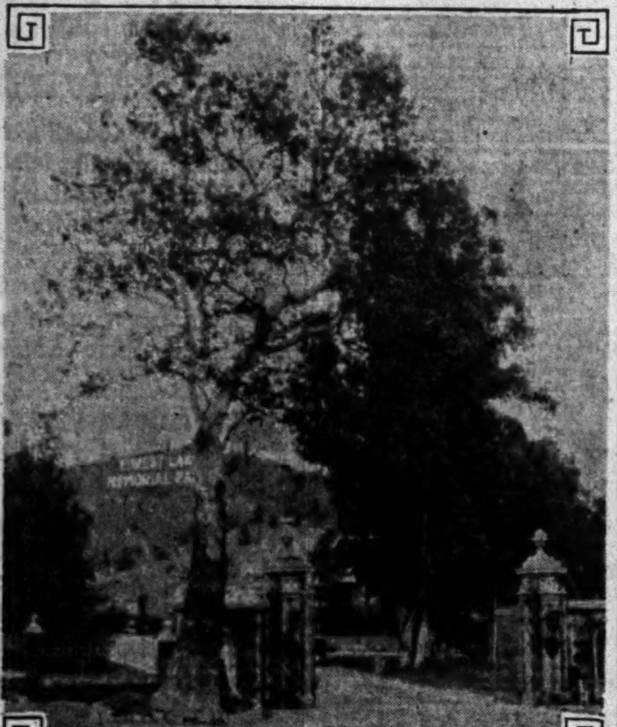
One report says that a portion of the assessment, under the 1911 act, was collected by representatives of the contractor, the remainder to be covered by the issuance of bonds which are being withheld pending the outcome of the suit. It is understood the contractor was bonded or financed by a Los Angeles bonding company.

It is maintained that whereas some of the taxpayers thus assessed paid under protest, a good many did not. Whether only the former, therefore, have preserved their right to seek reimbursement looks like a matter for legal adjudication. That under any circumstances the city of Redondo Beach is financially in the clear because the contractor is asserted to have received a considerable part of the amount due him, appears to be the position maintained by the City Attorney. On the other hand the assertion comes from the protesting side that the city will be asked to make good if the protestors win out and then the city can plot its own course as to the financial responsibility part of it.

Who will have to hold the sack? is the outstanding question of this part of the muddle.

SYCAMORE MADE MONUMENT

Tablet Unveiled by D.A.R. Regent



Historic Tree, Glendale Landmark

Mrs. Frank Phelps Toms of Pasadena, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, presides at unveiling of bronze tablet just outside entrance of Forest Lawn Memorial Park, designating aged tree as a historic monument.

GLENDALE, May 11.—Daughters of the American Revolution today unveiled a bronze tablet designating as a historic monument an old sycamore tree which stands just outside the entrance to Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mrs. Frank Phelps Toms of Pasadena, State regent of the organization, presided at the ceremony.

The unveiling will follow a dedicatory program to be given on the lawn across from the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn. The program, starting at 3 p.m., featured talks by Mrs. Toms and Frank H. Olmstead, engineer and Southern California pioneer, who told the history of the old tree.

The tree is one of the oldest landmarks in this section. Surveyors used it as a starting point in running their lines when the historic old Rancho San Rafael was broken up into parcels and sold, according to the speakers. It is believed to be more than 300 years old.

The trunk is scarred with spikes and marks left by the engineers in the days when Los Angeles was a pueblo.

Speedy Bus Line is Planned for Riverside Drive

BURBANK, May 11. — The Burbank Realty Board has gone on record as favoring immediately a bus line to traverse the entire length of Riverside Drive which runs from the Los Angeles business district via Burbank far into San Fernando Valley.

The board will work to engage the interest of the proper persons or concerns to start the line. Only a few sections of Riverside Drive remain to be paved, and these will be completed soon.

The drive when finished, will follow the general route which has been in the minds of advocates of the proposed rapid-transit plan for San Fernando Valley. A bus line will solve a part of the needed hurry-up transportation that has been sought by valley residents for several years, members of the realty board point out.

SCHOOL EXECUTIVES NAMED

Compton to Institute Changes Next Fall, With Combined Senior High and Junior College

COMPTON, May 10.—Executives to be used in the local secondary school system, which will open in September with a combined senior high school and junior college and five junior high schools, were named today by O. Scott Thompson, superintendent of the Compton Union High and Junior College district. Mrs. Ardella B. Tibby, former dean of girls in the college, will be assistant district superintendent, while Al P. Mattier, high school business manager, will assume the business management for the entire system.

Robert C. Gillingham, vice-principal assigned to the junior college, will be registrar for the senior institution and has been given the task of working out a uniform method of registration for the entire system. Paul E. Martin, teacher in the junior college, has been placed in charge of the department of counseling and guidance, and will be assisted by H. A. Spurgin, now vice-principal of Compton Intermediate School.

Miss Edith Sanborn, present high school registrar, has been named dean of girls for the senior institution while Karleton Scott will be dean of boys. Mrs. Vega B. Roberts, head of the high school home economics department, has been chosen to supervise cafeterias of all six institutions.

Considerable reorganization work is under way. Operated as two separate institutions at present, the senior high school and junior college will next year be a single student body, a new plan in California education. Eleventh and twelfth-year students will be known as the "lower division," while the additional two years, now classified as the junior college, will be the "upper division." While tenth-year (sophomore) students will continue in the central school next term, they are to be segregated in the building now occupied by the junior college.

In September of 1931 the tenth-year students are to remain in the junior high schools, making them four-year institutions. The junior high schools are to be located in the Compton, Enterprise, Lynwood, Clearwater and Willowbrook grammar school districts.

Airport to Raise Funds by Making Levy on Stock

VAN NUYS, May 11.—An assessment of $1 a share has been levied on the capital stock of the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, Ltd., located here, it is announced today by the president, Lloyd S. St. John. The assessment is payable June 5, next, and is delinquent July 1.

The capital to be raised by the assessment is to be used to build another hangar at the airport to take care of increasing activities, it is stated. In St. John's report it is shown that the rental income of the airport for the first quarter of the present year was $10,161, compared with $3372, for the corresponding period of last year. This is an increase of about 300 per cent.

The income for the quarter was $10,383, the report shows. Against this were expenses including taxes, interest and other charges amounting to $22,058, resulting in a net loss for the period of $11,674. The stock assessment called is necessary to make and maintain the needed improvement.

Ray of Hope Gilds Ontario Airport Future

ONTARIO, May 11.—A ray of hope brightened Ontario's darkly clouded airport situation when it was announced by members of the City Council that negotiations are now being carried on with a private individual who wishes to lease the airport and make it one of the Southland's model fields.

City Attorney E. H. Jolliffee, City Manager Austin Burt and R. C. Williams, representing the American Legion, are drawing up the lease and expect to have it signed Monday.

Members of the City Council proposed closing the airport at the last meeting of the board, declaring it too much of a drain on the city to keep it up and pay liability insurance on it, with no returns coming to the city.

Councilman Fred Price, member of the American Legion, forestalled the action and secured two weeks' delay in order that the Legion and Chamber of Commerce might devise a plan for operating the field.

COTTON-GIN OWNER IN LOS ANGELES POST

CALIPATRIA, May 11.—W. B. Coberly, veteran cotton-gin owner in Imperial Valley, will go to Los Angeles to become general manager of a consolidation of the Pacific Cottonseed Products Company, of 2301 East Fifty-second street, and its subsidiaries. The company announces that Imperial and San Joaquin Valley interests of this company have been centered from the office under Coberly's direction.

NEW PRESS INSTALLED

LANCASTER, May 11.—The Lancaster Ledger-Gazette, leading newspaper in Antelope Valley, yesterday installed a new Miehle press, replacing a Campbell press that has served in Lancaster for a quarter of a century. The current issue of the Ledger-Gazette shows the excellent work done by its new printing equipment.

GRADUATION WEEK WILL BE BUSY ONE

Three Hundred Students to Get Diplomas at Chaffey High and Junior College

ONTARIO, May 11.—Three hundred students will graduate from Chaffey Union High School next month and seventy-five will complete their work at Chaffey Junior College. Leading up to the commencement activities are several events in which all students of the high school and junior college will participate.

Starting on the 15th inst. with the Spanish Club puppet show, there will be something special practically every day.

Outstanding events are, the 16th inst, junior play; the 17th inst., Fiddlers' Club and Pegasus beach party; the 19th inst., senior beach party; the 20th inst., Eschscholtzia and Pegasus gatherings; the 23rd inst., junior farm center fair; the 24th inst., junior farm center fair and Atleta Beach party; the 27th inst., tennis banquet, Hotel Ontario; the 29th inst., varsity "C" Balboa week-end; 31st inst., faculty beach day; June 2, anthology-Eschscholtzia picnic at Riverside; June 6, junior-senior reception; June 8, commencement sermon; June 11, last day of school and public concert by chorus; June 12, homecoming day; June 13, junior college commencement, and June 17, high-school commencement.

Dr. R. C. Stone, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Upland, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of high school and junior college.

Memorial Day Arrangements at Redlands

REDLANDS, May 11.—Plans for the Memorial Day services and parade were made last night at the American Legion clubhouse at a meeting called by Frank Godsall, with representatives of the various organizations to participate in attendance.

Capt. Robert B. Melville was appointed to act as grand marshal and will be responsible for the organization and order of parade. A. E. Isham is to be master of ceremonies at the Bowl services following the parade, and C. A. Munson, department commander for the Spanish American War Veterans, will be speaker.

Capt. Melville will get his committees at work within the week and be ready to announce the definite parade plans soon. The parade is to start at 8:30 a.m. the 30th inst. It is planned that it shall be led by the American Legion Drum Corps and followed by Grand Army veterans in cars with their wives and widows, Spanish War veterans, American Legion, D.A.R. Relief Corps, Spanish War and Legion auxiliaries and by the schools and patriotic organizations. This is the tentative order in which the organizations have been placed by Capt. Melville, it was announced today.

The Bowl services will immediately follow the completion of the parade. The Bowl portion of the program this year is in charge of the Spanish War Veterans, with Joe Hook as general chairman.

Services at the grave for the Unknown Soldier will be conducted at the cemetery as a finale, with members of the Grand Army of the Republic in charge. The ceremony will be at the American Legion's plot in Hillside Cemetery.

Sunday morning memorial services will be conducted at the Presbyterian Church on the 25th inst., according to plan. The patriotic program will be held at 10 o'clock.

ENCINO CLUB ELECTS MRS. B. C. FREEMAN

ENCINO, May 11.—Mrs. B. C. Freeman, director of the Van Nuys Realty Board and a district official of the California Real Estate Association, yesterday was elected president of the Encino Woman's Club at the annual meeting. Mrs. C. G. Bleasdale was named vice-president; Mrs. J. M. McMillan, secretary, and Mrs. A. G. Stepper, treasurer.

HAMBURGER MAN HUNTING WIFE

Unusual Offer Made Public Through City Manager

ALHAMBRA, May 11.—A dandy opportunity for some hardworking woman, 18 to 38 years of age, to secure a husband who is unable to support himself with two trades and a hamburger stand, is open.

City Manager A. E. Stockburger has the offer. It's in a letter from George O. Strand of 126 East Oregon avenue, Las Cruces, N. M., who in his quest for a mate, modestly declares that he's 42 years old but looks only 30, and, as a clinching argument in his favor, announces that he loves all clean sport.

His letter reads:

"I am seeking a life mate with some means and ability, as I am unable to make a fair living with two trades and a hamburger stand in this cit All women age 18 to 38 will be given fair consideration. My age is 42, look 30, height 5 feet 7½ inches, weight 150 pounds, brown eyes, black hair and a lover of all clean sport, and also a home.

"Here's hoping your city may hold some lonesome women that are interested."

So far there is no sign of a waiting line.

City Attorney to Recommend Bond Election

GLENDALE, May 1.—Recommendations that a bond issue of $120,000 to defray the cost of grade separations at Los Feliz and Brand Boulevards across the Southern Pacific tracks be submitted to the voters of Glendale will be made to the City Council by Bernard C. Brennan, City Attorney.

Brennan is now studying the necessary legal steps to be taken to present the matter to the voters either in August or November, in accordance with the orders of the State Railroad Commission.

The commission has been advised that the city is unable to finance the proposed grade separations from its general funds, and in case the bond issue should be defeated, Brennan says, the commission can then order the work to be done and obtain a writ of mandate placing the city's share of the cost on the next tax levy.

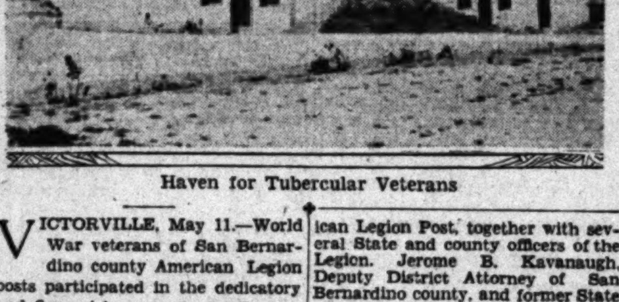
The commission's order requires the Southern Pacific to install the grade separations, the railroad company to be reimbursed by the other parties to the plan on the proportion allotted to Glendale and the city and county of Los Angeles. Glendale's share of the cost would be one-eighth of the outlay.

Petitions Asks Civil Service in Departments

GLENDALE, May 11.—Petitions seeking to have the police and fire departments placed under civil service rules are in circulation here today, the only persons in the two departments who would be exempt being the respective chiefs. The petitions are said to have been placed in circulation by the Glendale Civic Study Club, but those who are offering them for signature profess to be ignorant of the personnel of the sponsors of the movement. The City Council is asked to submit the proposal to the electors at the election in November, in the form of an ordinance. City officials are reticent in the expression of their opinion on the proposal until they can investigate it further.

VICTORVILLE HOSPITAL OPENS

Legion Posts Aid in Dedication



Haven for Tubercular Veterans

VICTORVILLE, May 11.—World War veterans of San Bernardino county American Legion posts participated in the dedicatory and flag-raising program at the new Victorville Hospital today. The event marked the formal opening of the largest and most modernly equipped institution of its type in the desert district of Southern California. In conjunction with the hospital the Legionnaires are planning to erect a rest camp for the use of veterans and their families in need of the Mojave Valley's climate in their battle with tuberculosis.

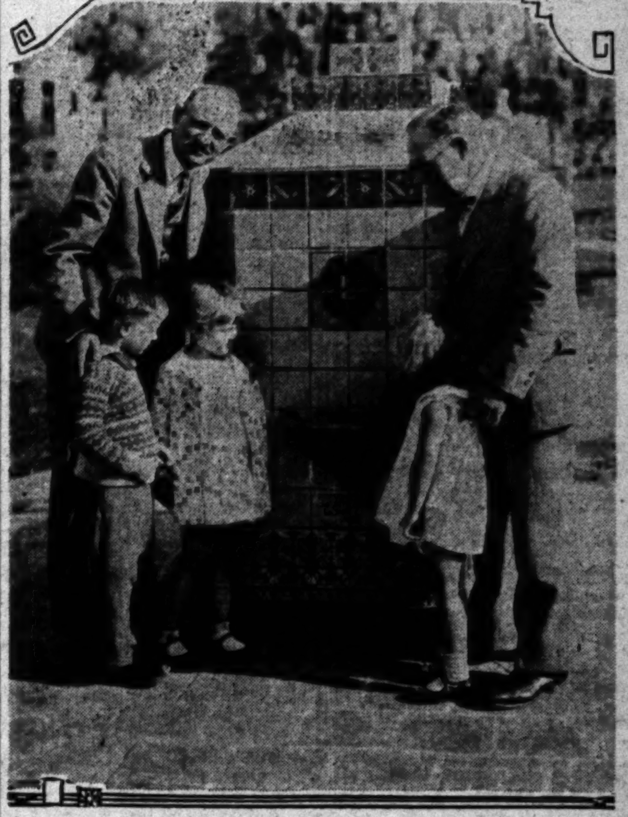
Assisting in the dedicatory program was the drum and bugle corps of the San Bernardino American Legion Post, together with several State and county officers of the Legion. Jerome B. Kavanaugh, Deputy District Attorney of San Bernardino county, and former State vice-commander of the Legion, was orator of the day.

County officials, representatives of the medical profession, and nurses took part in the dedicatory program following the flag-raising ceremony which began at 1:30 p.m.

The new hospital is under the management of Miss Annabelle McBee, World War nurse. It is equipped with a modern operating theater, X-ray facilities, and maternity ward. Sanatorium cottages are to be built and operated in addition to the usual hospital rooms and wards.

LIONS' CLUB GIVES FOUNTAIN

City of Montebello Accepts Gift



Little Ones Shown How to Operate Fountain

MONTEBELLO, May 11.—With an impressive ceremony the Lions' Club yesterday presented the new drinking fountain just installed in the City Park to the City of Montebello. Mayor William H. Cook accepted the fountain on behalf of the city.

The fountain is built of colored tile, octagonal in shape, with the Lions' Club emblem worked out in colored tile on four sides. Four drinking fountains are so placed as to accommodate both youngsters and grown-ups. Fresco figures are patterned around the base. The fountain is located at the intersection of the two main paths leading from Whittier Boulevard into the heart of the park. The citizens of Montebello are very grateful to the Lions' Club for the need of a drinking fountain has been felt for many months.

The Lions' Club financed the fountain by presenting a minstrel show last fall. The fountain cost approximately $600 and was erected by Hughes Brothers of Whittier. Dr. J. S. Trewhella is president of the local club and the committee in charge of its installation was headed by N. C. Banks.

Medical Deans in Conference on McCormick

SANTA BARBARA, May 11.—With the arrival of Dr. William Ophuls and Dr. Langley Porter, deans of the medical schools of the University of California and Stanford, the recently augmented board of personal care for Stanley McCormick, multimillionaire incompetent, met here for practically in all-day session yesterday.

Harold F. McCormick, the brother, and Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine, the sister, the two guardians who opposed Mrs. Katharine McCormick, the wife, in her successful petition to stop the psychoanalytic treatment of her husband, were present for the meeting as was Mrs. McCormick.

The board met amicably in the Courthouse in the morning and in the Biltmore Hotel in the afternoon. Judge Crow of Superior Court conferred with them. The principal topic of the meeting was the history of the treatment of the court ward. The two new guardians, the medical deans, were given transcripts of the proceedings of the case several weeks ago. The other members of the board with their reminiscences added to the general history of the case.

A new metabolic examination and complete physical tests probably will be made of the ward before any definite decision as to the kind of care and treatment he is to receive is arrived at. The two new guardians also will meet McCormick before returning to their respective schools, it is understood.

Arcadia to Put Up Lighted Signs

ARCADIA, May 11.—Through action taken by the new City Council, neon signs for Arcadia will be erected on Huntington Drive at the west city limits, at the Santa Anita Wash bridge on the east, and at First avenue and Foothill Boulevard, according to City Clerk G. G. Meade.

Bids for a sprinkling system, shrubbery, and landscaping the grounds of the new Public Library Building on First avenue, will be opened on the 21st inst., Meade stated.

Young Named Police Chief

MOTEREY PARK, May 11.—William J. Young is Monterey Park's new Chief of Police, succeeding Don Johnson who resigned upon the advent of a new city administration

Young has been on the force for the past five years, working under four different chiefs. He was at one time a member of the Philadelphia police force and also served in the United States Army in the Philippines.

CHURCH ANNEX DEDICATED

LANCASTER, May 11.—Dr. W. C. Buckner, superintendent of the Pasadena Community Church district, today officiated at the dedication ceremonies of the new Community Church Sunday-school addition which was erected here at a cost of $13,000. The edifice becomes one of the most attractive church buildings in Lancaster.

Church Edifice Up for Sale at Alhambra

ALHAMBRA, May 11.—Announcement of the sale of one of Alhambra's oldest church edifices and plans for the construction of a handsome new church building was made today.

The Latter Day Saints' Church of Alhambra has sold its interest in the edifice on North First street to the Seventh Day Adventist Church and is seeking a site for a new building to be erected at a cost of approximately $100,000, it was stated.

The building on North First is one of the first three churches to be erected in Alhambra. It was preceded only by the First Methodist Church and the Alhambra Presbyterian Church.

The sale of the building to the Adventists has been completed. The Latter Day Saints will continue in joint occupancy of the building for about six months or until their new church can be finished, according to members of the bishopric. The Latter Day Saints first occupied the building in 1925. Their new church will probably be erected near Garfield avenue and Valley Boulevard, the center of the church district.

The building involved in the sale was erected in 1889 by the Baptist denomination and served as the Baptist Church home until a few years ago when a new building was constructed. The structure was built by the late A. S. Blackburn, pioneer contractor of Alhambra and a charter member of the church. Rev. C. W. Gregory was the first pastor.

CALIPATRIA SHIPS HEAVILY

CALIPATRIA, May 11.—April shipments of commodities from this city alone numbered 341 carloads, it is announced by the railway company. Hay led in commodities shipped, 118 cars of alfalfa being sent to Coast and otherpoints. Other commodities included ninety-six cars of cattle, sixty-one cars of sheep, fourteen of peas, four of carrots and eleven cars of cotton and cotton products.

REFORM? BANDIT QUEEN SNICKERS

Anna Larson in Chicago Jail Under Heavy Bond

Her Erstwhile Sweetheart Called "Just a Chump"

Charge of Her Framing Him Vigorously Denied

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

CHICAGO, May 11. (Exclusive)—"Me frame him? Why, say, if I wanted that chump tamed I'd beat him up myself."

That's Anna Larson talking. Bandit queen she's been called in her day—and she's only 23 years of age now; consort of gunmen and gangsters; married but ignorant and indifferent as to the whereabouts of her husband.

There's nothing queenly now about Anna as she talks about her most recent "boy friend," the sweetheart who tried to reform her, who offered marriage to her and, for his pains, was tortured and "taken for a ride" by Anna's hoodlum friends.

But the "ride," for once in Chicago's gangland history, failed, and so the three men and Anna and a woman companion are in the County Jail, each under bond of $125,000, held on charges of kidnaping, assault to kill and robbery.

REFUSES TO TALK

At first Anna snarled at her questioners. She refused to talk to the police and the prosecutors any further than to say, regarding her erstwhile sweetheart, Earl Holmes:

"He was just a chump. I might as well have taken him as the next Jane."

Today she learned that she's been enmeshed in plenty of trouble with the voting of indictments against her and the rest of her "hard-boiled torture" gang.

Anna, who is described by her woman jail-mates as a "dirty blond," and their inflection puts a double meaning into that word "dirty," cooled off at the news long enough to give an interview.

A cigarette hung from the corner of her mouth. Her fingers trembled as they clutched the steel bars of her cell. Her hair was disheveled, her clothing slovenly draped about her.

"I guess I'm in a jam proper this time," and Anna whistled as she greeted the news about the indictments.

"But, you know, this isn't such a bad place. I've been here before and they didn't treat me so bad.

"JUST A POOR BOOB"

"What? Me marry that fella? Say, he was just a poor boob. Of course, I never loved him. Sure, I let him buy me clothes but what's that? It all makes me laugh so, this talk of me having him taken for a ride so he wouldn't squawk on the gang. If I wanted to throw a scare into that boy I'd do it myself—with one hand. Say, got another cigarette?"

Anna said she had know Holmes for a year and a half but insisted she never took him seriously and never gave him cause to believe she was willing to marry him or was susceptible to reform tactics.

"Reform me?" she laughs with a nervous toss of her once blond curl, "I'll have you know I'm my own boss. Nobody tells this girl what to do, see. That guy framed little Anna just because she wouldn't marry him and get dragged around again, see. He's no good, I tell you."

HOLMES "THROUGH"

Mr. Holmes is definitely "through" as far as attempting to reform "good little girls gone bad" is concerned. He's still nursing hundreds of bruises and trying to recover from the scare he had until three suburban policemen turned the spotlights of their car onto the preparations for his informal execution.

Holmes's story is that he had been engaged to the girl and had persisted in trying to induce her to "get away from the gang." The gangsters, he said, must have come to the conclusion that he would "squeal" on them if they didn't release the girl from membership and decided that she was more valuable to them than was his life.

Now the State is letting rough justice that will parallel the brutal tactics of the gang sweep through its usually tangled prosecution machinery. And Anna, who hasn't enough friends to provide the high bond of $125,000, is experiencing a few scares of her own.

Frances Starr Appears Today in Divorce Role

RENO (Nev.) May 11. (Exclusive) The fervent hope burning in the breast of Haskell Coffin, famous artist, that his wife will relent and return to him, seemed destined to disappointment today, when the former Frances Starr, ex-stage beauty and toast of Broadway, announced that nothing he can do will prevent her appearance in court here tomorrow.

While the complaint made by Miss Starr accuses Coffin of nonsupport, she indicated that more spicy evidence may be introduced at the trial. She declared she wished to spare the artist as much as possible, but that his intimation that she deserted him when he was in ill-health has made it impossible to be "polite."

FLAPPERS AS OLD AS HILLS

Powdered Noses and Plucked Eyebrows Nothing New, for Egyptians Did It 5900 Years Ago

CHICAGO, May 11. (Exclusive)—The girl who powders her nose, plucks her eyebrows and stains her finger nails, is simply following a feminine urge that is as old as the human race.

There is being displayed in the hall of Egyptian archeology at Field Museum, a case filled with objects illustrating vanities of ancient Egyptian women and men as well. The men of those days went in heavier for personal adornment than they now do. Included in the articles, which range from the predynastic period to the Coptic or Christian period, or about 4000 B. C. to 600 A. D., are jars which held unground cosmetic ingredients, slate palettes and flint pebbles for grinding the cosmetics. There are sticks of bronze, wood and stone, used to apply cosmetics to lips, cheeks and eye lashes. There are spoons for applying unguents, tiny ear spoons, mirrors of highly polished bronze, combs, tweezers for depilatory purposes, razors and various personal ornaments.

The use of tweezers and razors appears to have begun far back, as early as the first dynasty. The first razors embodied the scraping principle. Later there was evolved, perhaps during the eighteenth century, a rotating saw-type of razor, which became established and was in general use thereafter.

Mirrors were made of bronze. Combs were made of wood, bone and ivory and were long and short-toothed. Personal ornaments included in the exhibit, are ivory hairpins, ear-rings, ear plugs and many pins, finger rings and bracelets, which compare favorably with those in vogue today.

REECE PLAN FOR SHOALS APPROVED

House Military Committee Will Report in Favor of Leasing Project

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Taking the view that all possible means of satisfactorily disposing of Muscle Shoals to private interests should be resorted to before government operation is considered, the House Military Committee has concluded in a draft of its formal report to the House that the Reece plan for leasing of the project "is the very best that can be formulated."

The committee plans to file the report tomorrow. Special legislative status to permit early consideration of the plan is sought in the hope that Congress can finally agree upon legislation that will meet with executive approval and turn the $160,000,000 project to useful purpose after ten years of idleness.

The Reece plan was substituted for the Morris resolution to provide for government operation, which recently was adopted by the Senate. It would authorize the President to set up a board of three to lease the project for fifty years for the manufacture of fertilizer and development of power. Favorable action by the House would send the measure to conference.

Methodists Will Debate Cutting Bishops' Tenure

DALLAS (Tex.) May 11. (AP)—A proposal to cut the tenure of office of bishops to eight years instead of life is to be considered by the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South in quadrennial session, when it resumes consideration of the proposed written constitution here tomorrow. The amendment affecting the bishops' term was pending when recess was voted yesterday.

Final disposition of the move to adopt the constitutional draft proposed by a commission selected at the Memphis (Tenn.) conference four years ago, holds equal interest with consideration by a subcommittee of the episcopacy of charges asserting undue political activities against four bishops of the church.

Slayer Changes Mind on Dying

RENO (Nev.) May 11. (AP)—After having announced that he would prefer to die in the lethal chamber at the Nevada State prison rather than spend the remainder of his life in the institution, R. H. White, now in death row, awaiting his execution June 2, for murder, has changed his mind, according to a statement made today by his wife, Katherine White.

Mrs. White said she has persuaded her husband to ask for commutation of his sentence to life, a course which he had previously refused to follow.

Gangster Chief Kills Bartender

WHEATON (Ill.) May 11. (AP)—Edward Karish, a bartender, was shot to death by the leader of a band of six gunmen when he refused to elevate his hands during the hold-up of the Bangert roadhouse near here early today.

WHOLE TRUTH PLUS $7 MAKES SPEEDER FREE

EVANSTON (Ill.) May. 11. (AP)—Alice would have wondered her very utmost in the Police Court yesterday. Diogenes would have turned out his lantern. John Smola was there, accused of driving his automobile at an excessive rate and promising to tell the whole truth about it.

"The street wasn't very crowded," Patrolman Higley testified compassionately.

"But the street was very crowded, lots and lots of cars coming home," Smola protested. Patrolman Higley blushed.

"He was going twenty-six miles an hour," the officer added.

"No, no. I went thirty-five miles. I saw it on my speedometer."

This time Patrolman Higley counted 100 before speaking. Then he inquired as to Mrs. Smola's sanity.

"I have never been arrested before," the defendant explained. "I don't know, but I promised to tell the truth, didn't I? Well?"

The judge, recovering judicial composure, uttered some quotation about "The truth shall make ye free—for $7."

BYRD DATED UP FOR STAY AT PANAMA

ABOARD S.S. RANGITIKI, AT SEA, May 11. (Exclusive)—Rear-Admiral Byrd will arrive at Balboa Wednesday morning and already has many invitations for functions during his two-weeks' stay in the Canal Zone, extended by the Governor, Army and Navy posts and the President of Panama. He hopes to be able to accept most of them, but at the same time desires greatly to get out into the country and avoid as much as possible celebrating in the heat, to which all members of the expedition are as yet unaccustomed.

A Ford plane has been put at his disposal and possibly he will fly up into the higher country.

The other expedition ships will arrive in about two weeks after Admiral Byrd's landing and after closing will start north, probably arriving in New York about the middle of June.

Admiral Byrd has been spending his time aboard the Rangitiki working on his reports and playing deck games and is in excellent health.

Prohibition Law Extended Throughout World

Ships of Nation With Liquor Ever Open to Seizure

Federal Judge's Decision Given in Florida Case

MIAMI (Fla.) May 11. (Exclusive.) A decision by Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter, issued yesterday, extends the prohibition law throughout the world, so far as vessels of American registry are concerned.

"The United States District Court," the decision said, "cannot interfere with proceedings undertaken by customs officials in connection with the seizure of an American registered boat in British waters. The law is well settled that the Coast Guard may, upon probable cause, stop any vessel upon the high seas without reference to the coast line distance and search and seize the ship on finding that it is loaded with contraband liquor. No matter where such vessel may be, the trade it is permitted to indulge in is controlled by United States law."

The decision was made in the case of the motor boat Fornella, flying the American flag and of American registry, which was seized by a Coast Guard patrol boat in British waters, eleven miles from Bimini and thirty-four miles from Miami July 29, 1929. On board the boat were George L. Ford and Harry Jones and a cargo of 336 sacks and thirty jugs of assorted liquors. Ford was owner of the craft. Eugene Sherman of Bimini was owner of the cargo of liquor.

THE EVERGREEN PLAYGROUND

The lovely
San Juan Islands
... near BELLINGHAM

As you drive along the famed Chuckanut Drive on the Pacific Highway just south of Bellingham or look towards the setting sun from the observation car of the Great Northern, you'll see a group of blue-green islands—ninety-nine in all—stretching across the Gulf of Georgia between Bellingham and Anacortes and Vancouver Island, B. C.

These islands are indeed beautiful—wooded with oak, pine, madrona, spruce, fir and cedar—in part covered with living Christmas trees down to the water's edge—their rocky banks covered with moss and Alpine flowering plants, and between each promontory countless little bays and beaches.

The passenger and auto ferries plying between Bellingham and Anacortes and Vancouver Island thread their way through these islands along deep blue channels at times no wider than a river and at others across blue straits opening up vistas of unsurpassed loveliness. Calls are made at picturesque villages and some of the larger islands offer roads to new scenic delights.

The visitor to Bellingham should not fail to "take in" the delightful voyage to the San Juan Islands and for a reasonable outlay may rent sea-going launches for still greater enjoyment among the islands.

Bellingham is only one of seven cities that welcome you to "The Evergreen Playground." Visit Longview, Seattle, Everett, Tacoma, Vancouver, B. C., and Victoria, B. C. All share alike in scenic attractions and perfect summer climate.

Come North this summer by rail, sail, paved highway or plane. Information from your local ticket office or auto club. If going East, have your agent route you one way via Puget Sound and British Columbia. From California the through rate by steamer here and on East is the same as your direct rail ticket, and only slightly higher via all-rail Northern lines. Mail coupon for more information.

Seraphs Capture Series Easily by Drubbing Bells in Twin Bill

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11. (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels clinched their hold on the favored position in the Coast League standings by taking a double-header from the San Francisco Misions today to win the series five games to two.

The nightcap was a free-hitting affair with the Angels gathering eighteen safe hits off four Mission moundsmen to turn in an 11-to-6 victory which was credited to Holling after Horne was yanked in the third. In the forenoon game Barfoot hurled the Angels to a 6-to-2 win, each team gathering nine hits. The score:

BY PAUL LOWRY

Relying solely upon boys heavy in the hoof and elsewhere, Doyle Fistic Enterprises, Inc., presents the initial outdoor boxing program of the year at Wrigley Field tonight.

For the edification of local fans the postponed Jim Maloney-Armand Emanuel fight has been tossed in with the Frankie Campbell-Les Kennedy match for joint consumption.

Each was originally scheduled for single presentation at the Olympic, but because of the gum-up over the Maloney-Emanuel price scale Promoter Doyle lumped the bouts and added another between Vijo Doman and Ray Spiker, the marine. All are heavyweight scraps.

JACK DOYLE

Each match has its merits, and having put out something like $25,000 in guarantees to the principals Doyle Fistic Enterprises, Inc., is praying for a happy return on the initial investment.

Maloney is the Boston boy who either knocked out or fouled Emanuel in the second round of their bout in Beantown last January. Maloney rates among the ten best heavyweights in the country, and holds a ten-round victory over Jack Sharkey, who is likely to be crowned heavyweight champion when he meets Max Schmeling next month.

Maloney is a bristling body puncher, and he is favored to repeat his Boston victory over Emanuel tonight. He dropped Emanuel with a body punch that the Emanuel camp insists was below the border, and the dispute over the matter is re-

Cleveland Scores 25-to-7 Triumph Over Champions Before Huge Crowd

CLEVELAND, May 11. (AP)—Scoring in every inning but the eighth, the Cleveland Indians today walloped the world champion Philadelphia Athletics, 25 to 7, before an overflow crowd of 29,000. The Indians, who lead the American Leagu in hitting, smashed twenty-five hits off four Athletic hurlers, including nine doubles. Several of these would have been triples but for the crowd on the field, which made ground rules necessary.

Wes Ferrell, who allowed only four hits in six innings, was credited with his fifth victory of the season. Score:

BRITISH WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY STARTS TODAY; YANKEE STARS FAVORED

BY MAUREEN ORCUTT
(Member of the United States Women's Golf Team Playing in English Championships)

(Special cable dispatch to The Times and the North American Newspaper Alliance)

FORMBY, LANCASHIRE (Eng.) May 11. (NANA)—One hundred and seventy-nine women will tee up in the British championship, beginning here tomorrow. Twenty-two American women are in the line-up, representing many States.

HELEN HICKS

The system of permitting those with handicaps up to nine to enter has resulted in the largest field that has ever competed and there will be no qualifying round to reduce the field. There will be two matches each day, with final of thirty-six holes on Friday.

The method of picking the draw out of a hat places the two best English players, Molly Gourlay and Enid Wilson, as well as Mrs. Watson, the Scotch champion, in the top draw with seven of the American team, Glenna Collett, Helen Hicks, Mrs. Lee Mida, Mrs. Leo Federman, Bernice Wall, Mrs. O. S. Hill and myself.

Miss Collett after meeting Miss Gourlay in the fourth round, if she comes through that far, will encounter no other serious obstacle until the semi-finals. Miss Collett is favored by the British critics to win the title, owing to her splendid showing against Joyce Wethered last year.

Miss Wethered is much criticised for leaving the championship without a leader to defend the title.

Miss Gourlay may defeat Miss Collett, as she did in the international matches at Sunningdale. The English girl makes long shots from the tees, is a good iron player and a great putter. But Miss Collett, after practicing at Formby, which she has already made in 76, will be hard to stop.

Helen Hicks, after playing with Johnny Dawson, says Formby resembles the Inwood course and is much to her liking. Bernice Wall and Edith Quier, coached by Leo Diegel and Horton Smith, have improved their scores. Mrs. Hill, also coached by Horton Smith, announces 85 as her best score.

I scored 79 in playing a practice round with Molly Gourlay, who scored 77. I am bound to meet my team-mates, Miss Wall or Mrs. Hill, in the early rounds. Surviving these, I will meet one of the strongest players, Enid Wilson, on Wednesday afternoon—the same day as my match with Mrs. Hill.

Miss Wilson, the great hope of the English, is a powerful player, who scored 76 in the recent international match at Sunningdale.

Helen Hicks and Glenna Collett are also in this part of the bracket, so there are no easy matches for me.

The winner of the semifinals in the top bracket should win the championship, since the lower bracket is what the experts call soft. Virginia Van Wie is the outstanding player in the lower bracket. If Virginia can survive the severe strain of thirty-six holes per day, she should go to the final match.

Among the others who should do well in this bracket are Edith Quier, Mrs. Hanley, Peggy Wattles, Louise Fordyce, Marian Bennett and Mrs. Martelles.

The strong British players in the lower bracket are Mrs. Guedella, formerly Edith Leitch; Jean McCulloch, Diana Fishwick and Doris Park.

RUTH HITS HIS FIFTH HOME RUN

Yankees Score 7-to-6 Victory Over Detroit as Babe Connects

NEW YORK, May 11. (AP)—Charley Ruffing made his debut as a New York pitcher and lasted through nine innings as the Yankees defeated the Detroit Tigers, 7 to 6, today. Vic Sorrell was driven from the hill in the third inning. Wyatt pitched good relief ball.

Babe Ruth started the proceedings by hitting his fifth home run of the season in the opening inning with none on base. Earl Combs left the game after a collision with Byrd in the fourth. The score:

Oldest Member of American Walker Cup Team Loses to Rex Hartley at Sandwich, Eng.

SANDWICH (Eng.) May 11. (AP)—For the second time in his golfing career, Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland (Or.) dentist and oldest member of the American Walker cup team, today lost a play-off of a tie for the coveted St. George's grand challenge vase.

Willing and young Rex Hartley of the British Walker Cup team, who had tied at 148 at the end of the regular thirty-six holes of play yesterday, shot it out over the Sandwich course today and the Britisher

SCHMELING IN TIP-TOP SHAPE, LEONARD CLAIMS

BY BENNY LEONARD
Retired Undefeated Lightweight Champion of the World

ENDICOTT (N. Y.) May 11. (NANA)—I have just seen Max Schmeling in his first public workout here in preparation for his fight with Jack Sharkey, which will decide the next heavyweight champion of the world in the Yankee Stadium on June 12. Max looked great. He did four rounds of boxing, and eliminated all the usual accompaniments, such as bag punching, shadow boxing, rope skipping and other things that the ordinary fighter finds necessary in his training routine.

MAX SCHMELING

The reason for this is because Schmeling already is in fine condition. Max was said by some to be too light and not physically fit to start his training. He seemed ideally fitted to begin his work.

I do not think there is any danger of Schmeling going stale. I believe this, because of the methods of the training routine that the German evidently has mapped out with his manager, Joe Jacobs. All he needs now is the sharpening up, the general finishing touches which will sharpen his accuracy and his timing and he can get this only by boxing.

In my previous articles, I said that I believed Schmeling needs only boxing in his training, and he proved this by his work today.

From here we went to the shower, and although I was fully dressed, I shared the shower with him, for the water splashed all over me. I

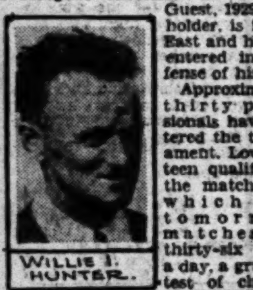
Pacific Southwest Professional Golfers' Association Championship Play Starts T

DUTRA BROTHERS FAVORED ON SANTA MONICA LINKS

Field of Thirty Pros Qualify Over Thirty-six Holes; First Round of Match Play Tomorrow

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Southern California's long-driving band of professionals gathers at the Santa Monica municipal course this morning to qualify over thirty-six holes for the 1930 Pacific-Southwest P.G.A. championship.



WILLIE I. HUNTER.

That a new champion will be crowned in the finals on Sunday is a foregone conclusion as Charley Guest, 1929 titleholder, is in the East and has not entered in defense of his title.

Approximately thirty professionals have entered the tournament. Low sixteen qualify for the match play which starts tomorrow; matches are thirty-six holes a day, a grueling test of championship golf, with the semifinal round slated for Thursday.

FINALS SUNDAY

The finalists will then have a few days of rest before meeting for the title on Sunday.

Olin Dutra of the Brentwood Country Club, who made a brilliant record in the midwinter tournaments, is the favorite. His closest competition is expected to come from his brother, Mortie Dutra of the Virginia Country Club, Willie I. Hunter of Montebello Park, and Chet Beer of Bakerfield. Tom Stevens of the California Country Club, last year's runner-up, is expected to enter at the first tee, and should be numbered among the outstanding candidates if he plays.

Both Mortie and Olin are playing fine golf at present. Recently they had a best ball of 60 at Virginia.

We rather like "Wee Willie" Hunter, who, as an amateur, held the British amateur and Southern California amateur championships. Willie has been off his game for some time, but is now playing well, his putting in particular showing a great improvement. Willie is a cagety match player and a great shot maker.

Beer is always dangerous. He has made fine showings in the past two P.G.A. championships, and may upset the dope.

Little Vic Dalberto, playing professional of the Los Angeles Country Club, is another par shooter who may cut into the money. Vic qualified for the National P.G.A. last year, and was up among the leaders in the Southern California open.

COURSE IN SHAPE

Other prominent professionals who have entered are Lewis Scott of Hillcrest, Joe Novak of Bel-Air Vic Owens of Royal Palms, Jack Tarrant of Hollywood, Harry Pressler of San Gabriel and Al Cameron of Agua Caliente.

George Basil, manager of the Santa Monica course, reports that everything is in shape for the tournament. The course has been lengthened and new traps placed at strategic points call for exacting shots to escape trouble.

RECORD FIELD EXPECTED FOR CATALINA EVENT

AVALON, CATALINA ISLAND (Cal.) May 11. (Exclusive)—All records, in the United States and in Europe, are expected to be broken when play stars in the annual Catalina tournament for women, the 25th and 27th inst. Last year more than 200 contestants participated in the event and from advance interest manifested, Mrs. G. M. Midgely, and those in charge of the tournament, believe that the total entry will pass the 300 mark.

The tournament committee is not worried over the large entry because this year a full-length, eighteen-hole course is available for play where last year only a nine-hole course could be used. The eighteen-hole course was completed during last fall by William P. Bell for William Wrigley, Jr., and is considered one of the sportiest and most interesting courses in the West.

The field of players which will compete in the Catalina tournament is a notable one, including as it does such celebrities as Mrs. Leona Pressler, finalist in this year's national championship; Mrs. Gregg Lifur, finalist in the women's western championship; Mrs. Roy Green, Los Angeles city champion; Mrs. Helen Lawson, former Del Monte champion; Miss Beatrice Gottlieb of the Los Angeles Country Club, former Metropolitan star, and many others of note.

The Catalina tournament carries added interest because of the fact that the national championship will be played in Los Angeles this coming October. This has been the incentive for many fine tournaments this year and the Catalina event looms as one of the best on the calendar.

The tournament will run over three days, with mixed foursomes coming on the opening Sunday, high-handicap golfers playing Monday and low-handicap stars meeting in competition on Tuesday, the 27th inst.

STANFORD GOLF COURSE PLANS NEW CLUBHOUSE

Construction of a $40,000 clubhouse on the Stanford golf course will begin some time during the coming summer, it was announced yesterday by Graduate Manager Al Masters of the board of athletic control. Plans for the building, which is to include locker and shower rooms and a light-lunch counter, will be drawn up soon. Since January 1, a total of 9477 persons have played over the Stanford links, according to Masters.

LOVE WINS TIN-WHISTLE PLAY AT LAKESIDE

Horace Love won the tin-whistle tournament played at the Lakeside Country Club yesterday with 62 points.

MRS. PRESSLER, NOBLE ANNEX MIXED FOURSOMES

Mrs. Leona Pressler paired with Weller Noble to win the mixed-foursome tournament at the San Gabriel Country Club yesterday with a 76. Mrs. Pressler won the Southern California women's championship over the Mission Club links on Friday, and culminated a brilliant week with her victory yesterday. Noble is a 2-handicap man, and holds the San Gabriel championship.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Boisot, 94-19—75, tied with Mrs. Paul R. Jones and Phil Carter, 81-6—75, for low net. They will meet next Sunday at 1:30 in a play-off for the trophies.

CAHILL LEADS IN PUBLIC LINKS TOURNAMENT

Scoring an 80 yesterday over the Wilson course at Griffith Park, P. J. Cahill had a total of 153 at the thirty-six-hole mark to lead the field in the first annual public links championship. Oliver C. Sleppy scored a fine 77 to take second with 155, two strokes behind the leader. L. I. Messenger, who registered an 80 yesterday, is third with 157.

H. Battiste had the best second-round score, a fine 76, but is still far behind the leaders as he encountered trouble in his first round.

Other low scorers yesterday were Gene Ruggiero, 77; David Brassell, Chester Coleman and O. J. Clisby, 78; E. W. Edwards and F. C. Wilson, 79, and L. I. Messenger and P. J. Cahill, 80.

Barney Lucas, one of the leaders, is in the finals of the Long Beach city championship, and will be allowed to play his second round some time this week.

Thirty-six-hole scores were as follows: O. J. Clisby, 158; E. W. Edwards and Chester Coleman, 159; Gene Ruggiero, Fred C. Wilson and R. J. Quimby, 161; Francis Schraeder, 162; Bud Oakley and H. Battiste, 163; David Brassell, 164; D. Romandy, 165; W. D. Wilson and Morris Lippman, 167; Forrest G. Smith and J. C. Turcott, 171; Henry Caris and George S. Sperry, 172; M. W. Scott, 173; E. Fehnders and Al Caris, 174; Bob Johns and L. Worrell, 178, and A. B. Callender, 185.

The following players have the privilege of competing for the low thirty-six and eighteen-hole gross trophies: G. Montgomery, D. Bell, M. L. Dodge, Walter Wilson, De Willo Semereau, S. R. Robertson, Bob Bennett, H. B. Atherton, P. H. Berry and Johnnie Ross.

NET CHOICES WIN HANDILY

who are playing their second tournament of doubles together, defeated Miss E. Dean and Miss P. Dean in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0. They won a tournament at Santa Monica a few months ago, losing only a very few games in the entire tournament, and plan to invade the East this year in quest of the junior singles and doubles titles. Helen was runner-up in the national juniors last year, and played doubles with Caroline Babcock.

Because a number of the tournament players are attending school, a great number of matches were played Saturday and yesterday, permitting slack schedules through most of this week. Semifinals are scheduled for Saturday, and the finals for next Sunday. Yesterday's results, and the pairings for today:

Midwick Polo Team Victors

BERESFORD, May 11. (AP)—Rough-riding poloists of the Midwick Club swamped the San Mateo riders, 13 to 6, on Beresford Field today to win the deciding game of a three-game series. The southern team scored seven goals to none for San Mateo in the first three periods and although the locals rallied in the later chukkers, they were unable to overcome the Midwick lead. Paddock of Midwick was high scorer of the game with five goals.

LINES TO LORD DERBY

They have named a race and a hat for you,
Or at least your family tree,
And that goes back, as I understand,
to around twelve-ninety-three.
I can see how your famous sporting clan,
In a day when sport was flat,
Turned to the horse for a gallant thrill—
But what made 'em think of the hat?

On to the Derby

EARL SANDE and Gallant Fox are now pointing in the general direction of Churchill Downs, where the fifty-sixth Kentucky Derby will be run on Saturday. The winner of the Preakness is out to tie Sir Barton's record as a double winner of the two May turf classics.

In spite of rebuttals from the West and South, the East now looks to have the best horse in the race on Saturday at Louisville with the Preakness winner. Gallant Fox looks good enough to make the grade, especially with Sande in the saddle. He will unquestionably be a strong favorite despite the sentimental play of southern and western turf followers.

In place of sulking at his last start Gallant Fox proved he could come from behind, and a long way behind, to win. He has the speed and the heart, and the dope points to his second win this week in Kentucky's masterpiece.

Blue Grass and Sand Dunes

This will be the week of blue grass and sand dunes in sport. Today the British women's golf championship opens at Formby with Glenna Collett and a powerful American entry trying once more to bring back home that elusive will-o'-the-wisp, the British cup, which no American woman golfer has ever bagged.

In the past the brilliant play of Cecil Leitch and Joyce Wethered was too strong for the invading side. But these two stars will be absent from the British lines this week, and the American delegation, with at least six first-class players, has its greatest chance to disperse the hoodoo.

There are strong entries from the British side—notably Mollie Gourlay, Enid Wilson and others capable of first-class golf. But Miss Collett remains the strongest single entry, and there are five others about as good as the top run of the British list.

On Thursday of this week Bobby Jones leads his Walker Cup team against the British contingent at Sandwich, a wind-swept stronghold that should give the British a first-class fighting chance.

It has been taken for granted that the strong American team will win with something to spare. This is taking quite a bit for granted. Two strong American teams barely pulled through in 1923 and again in 1926, where sensational rallies were needed down the stretch to win by a bare point, or by the margin of a stroke. And American golfers fare better at St. Andrews than they do at Sandwich on a general average.

It would not be at all surprising to see the British win. At least such an event would be no upset since the invading team in golf is always up against a heavy handicap. The British team isn't spectacular but in the main it has a brand of steadiness which Sandwich demands. The Lion's best chance to claw the Eagle will come in the rain and cold wind, if the weather happens to break that way.

The Winning Combination

In the last two weeks the Athletics and Cubs have put on the combination that is hard to stop—the same being steady pitching and heavy hitting. In this respect they are much alike. Neither has a great infield. But they both have a number of dependable pitchers and they both have more than their share of dangerous hitters, day in and day out.

Any pitcher who has to face Foxx, Simmons, Miller, Haas and Cochrane has his work cut out. The same is true of any pitcher who has to throw a ball in the general direction of Hack Wilson, Stephenson, Cuyler, Hornsby and Hartnett. They allow few breathing spells. If one doesn't crash through another will.

City Tennis Tilts Played

Heinz and Rose featured the play in the industrial tennis championships yesterday, defeating Gorchakoff and Malcolm in straight sets, 7-5, 6-2, in a second-round doubles match. The latter team was one of the favorites in the tournament, but fell before the surprisingly good play of the rival combination yesterday. Five doubles teams scored two victories. The results:

SAN DIEGANS CLIMB

Presidents Score Heavily in Bowling Congress With Smashing Game of 1033 Pins

The heavy artillery of the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress was turned on last night in the open five-man team standings at the Davenport Recreation Building.

The President's entry of San Diego, winding up its series with a 1033 game, mounted into second place with 2895. The team started with 883, climbed to 979 and then smashed out their great closing total.

Hal Brucker, lead-off man, started with a double. His first ball in the third frame was right in the 1-3 pocket for what appeared to be a perfect hit, but the ten pin stuck; he turned in the spare and followed with seven consecutive strikes for 267. J. C. (Daddy) Squires, president of the congress, collected 632 with a toll one of 248, his second game.

Star Lumber Company, Stockton, rolled into fifth position with 2766 and a grand finish of 1038, the highest team game shot in the tournament to date. A poor first game of 803 ruined their chance for the Coast title, as their middle total was 925. W. McDonald was the star pin destroyer with 592 and high game of 246.

Stockton Record nailed a 2600 even for twenty-first. Barker Bakery of Phoenix hooked at 2691 for ninth place.

surprised a large gallery by turning in a comparatively easy eighteen-hole victory over the veteran west coast shotmaker. Hartley won with a 79 to Willing's 85.

Seven years ago Willing fought and lost a play-off of a tie for the same trophy to Francis Ouimet of Boston, another veteran of the Walker Cup team.

The players were handicapped today by weather, rain falling during a part of the play. Later when the rain stopped the players were forced to breast a strong southwest wind on the homeward half of the round.

Hartley made victory virtually certain by going out in 35 to Willing's 43, leaving the Portland dentist with the almost impossible task of making up a deficit of eight strokes over the last nine holes. Willing apparently was off his game from the start and he was not playing with his usual confidence. His long game was uncertain and he was off the line a number of times with his putts.

Hartley, on the other hand, shot a brilliant first nine. He took three putts at the seventh and was bunkered at the eighth, but against these errors he sank a chip shot for a two at the third and holed a twenty-yard putt at the ninth for a three.

The Britisher missed a one-foot putt at the tenth, but Willing could not take advantage of it because he himself was bunkered and each got down in five. Hartley again missed a short putt on the eleventh and Willing regained a stroke, but the Briton retrieved it at the next hole.

NEW YORK TO PICK RING KING

HEAVIES CLASH AT BALL PARK

sponsible for tonight's bout.

In behalf of Emanuel his handlers point out he is stepping in with his punches instead of hitting while on the retreat, as in the past. His gymnasium form is superior to that preceding previous local bouts.

Campbell is set for his thirteenth straight knockout. His match with Kennedy has been talked of for months, but Les, after beating K. O. Christner and Jack De Mave, eastern heavyweights, was sidetracked by the Campbell managerial headquarters.

In fact, Campbell ran out on Marine Ray Spiker, who is meeting Vijo Doman, the jellyfish heavyweight, in an eight-round special.

But while Kennedy is the better boxer and is superior defensively to Campbell the hard socker from the north is favored to stop his man within four rounds.

If the bout should go ten rounds, Kennedy is a virtual cinch to win.

Doman should also get on the winning side with a knockout if he doesn't get hit first. Doman is a terrific puncher, but his chin is glass, and a sock on the whiskers will render him hors de combat.

Odd as it may seem, the advance sale has been below expectations and it will take a tremendous window sale at the park to pull the show out of the well-known "red."

The fact that Lou Daro drew around $70,000 for an outdoor world's championship wrestling match at Wrigley Field last Monday night and the continued threatening rainy weather slowed down Doyle's venture.

The weather boogie has been swept away, however, the last few days and typical California warmth promises to greet the customers.

BETTER THAN PAOLINO

Maloney is actually a better heavyweight than was Paolino Uzcudun, highly touted Spaniard, who fought George Godfrey here before a gate of $125,000.

And Emanuel has great possibilities if he could pick up a streak of viciousness and promote a timing punch.

Although they are laying 10 to 8 on the Boston man, Emanuel might flash home with the decision. He figures to outpoint Maloney at straight boxing—and it is not impossible that he might time a right hand on Maloney's chin for a clean kayo.

Maloney has shown a tendency to lose his head in gymnasium workouts when hurt. As late as last Friday he picked up one of his sparring partners and threw him bodily out of the ring. The sparring partner was his own stablemate, Tom Kirby.

If Maloney loses his head against Emanuel the barrister is apt to capitalize on it and score a win over a highly touted eastern man not far removed from his fellow-townsman, Sharkey.

Campbell with his asset of a knockout punch comes nearer being the answer to a successor for Dempsey than any youngster developed since the new ten-round law.

While Campbell has been knocking out his men with machine-like regularity many have come to doubt that he can take a punch as well as give one.

Kennedy, Long Beach longshoreman, is just the man to find out whether Campbell is a flash or a fact. Kennedy, uncolorful and tough, has lost but one decision in two years of fighting in California.

NO BROADCAST OF TONIGHT'S FIGHTS

Results of the heavyweight fights tonight at Wrigley Field featuring Jim Maloney vs. Armand Emanuel and Frankie Campbell vs. Les Kennedy will not be broadcast by radio. One of the preliminary bouts will be staged following the two ten-round features. The first bout starts at 8:30.

Fred Winsor will be in command of Emanuel's corner, it was announced yesterday. Whether Charley Emanuel will work in the corner with his son has not yet been decided. Dan Carroll will be back of Maloney. Cal Working and Tom Maloney will second Campbell with Herb White handling Kennedy.

Sharp Victor in Auto Race

SAN JOSE, May 11. (AP)—Seven Los Angeles drivers took the first seven places in the feature 100-lap automobile race here this afternoon before a crowd which numbered 10,000 persons.

Jimmy Sharp was the winner of the event, followed by Carl Ryder, with Jack Buxton in third place. The other money places went to Arvol Brummier, Chris Vest, Phil Spangler and Bill Hesiler. The time for the sixty-two and one-half miles was 51m. 20s. The track is five-eighths of a mile.

Clay Bushman, San Francisco, took the twenty-four-lap consolation race. Others placed as follows: Chuck Gelston, Los Angeles; Jack Webb, Fresno; Manuel Soares, San Jose. Time, 12m. 21s.

Eddie Spadafore, San Jose, won the first five-lap motorcycle race. Otis Wilson, San Francisco, was second and Les Driesbach, San Jose, third. Time 2m. 29s.

Les Driesbach won the second five-lap motorcicle race; Spadafore, second, and Al Chasteen, Oakland, third. Time 2m. 18s.

"Speed" Hinkley of Los Angeles threw a back wheel in one of the races, but was uninjured.

LAST HARD WORKOUT FOR LUTZE

Youthful Nick Ready for Koloff Bout at Olympic Wednesday Night

Nick Lutze will hold his final hard workout today in preparation for his finish wrestling bout with Dan Koloff at the Olympic Wednesday night.

During the past few days the Venice lifeguard and the most popular heavyweight to step on the local mat, has been brushing up on the defense against the headlock that he used when he wrestled Ed Lewis here last year.

Koloff is rated next to Lewis as a headlock exponent. Lutze expects to have an easier time defending himself against Koloff's pet grip than he did the former champion's. One reason for this is said to be the fact that Koloff is smaller than Lewis and, unlike the former champion, does not wrestle in a leaning position that would make it impossible for his opponent to nab him with a crotch hold for a body slam.

Lutze's pet way of breaking a headlock is to lift his opponent with a crotch after the head grip had been applied and then crash him into the mat, shoulders first. Koloff is expected to give Lutze plenty of trouble with this hold during the evening and, in the opinion of those who have seen the Balkan mat lion in action here, the possible outcome of the match is classed as a toss-up. A reason for this rating is that Koloff beat Gene La Doux here easily and in straight falls, while Lutze was given a terrific battle by the French-Canadian each time they met.

Don George, who will clash with Stanley Stasiak in the other finish match that night, is being watched by the wrestling fans of this section. Many who saw him wrestle at Wrigley Field believe he has top-notch possibilities, although he has had but thirty-two professional matches during his career.

Senators Cop Double Bill

OAKLAND, May 11. (AP)—The Sacramento Senators hammered out a double-header at the expense of the Oakland Oaks today and won the series, four games to three. The Solons won the forenoon game, 4 to 0, and walked away with the nightcap, 7 to 3.

The Sacramento batsmen found Daglia and Andrews for thirteen hits while the Reds were held to nine by Freitas in the nightcap. In the forenoon game, Keating blanked the Oaks, allowing only two bingles, while the Senators got eight safe hits off Dumovich. Score:

Casanova to Face Brooks

Sandy Casanova and Russell Brokos, light-heavyweights, and two boys who put dynamite in their punches, have been signed to meet in the chief match at the Main-street Athletic Club next Saturday night, it was announced yesterday by Carlo Curtis, youthful open-air boxing promoter and manager of Main street. Casanova has won by a knockout over nine opponents and by decision over six in recent bouts. Brooks is a Seattle boxer and fans will remember his tough ten-round go recently with Joe Pergrina, in which he lost by a close decision.

In the boxing matches last Saturday night at Main street Jimmy Alvarado and Jack Stephens, lightweights boxed a six-round draw in the main event. Morris Agolsov won by a foul over Leo Hernandez in the semi and James Finazzo, substituting for Hy Diamond lost a six-round decision to Joe Borolo in a special event.

MAXIE IS FIT, LEONARD SAYS

noticed his condition, and remarked about it to him.

"Why should I not be in shape?" he came back. "I neither smoke nor drink, and I keep good hours. When you were my age, pardon Benny, but know at that time what were you like? Weren't you, too, fine as you call it, all the time?"

The man was right. I recalled the times I was always fit to fight and, indeed, did on several occasions step in with a few days' notice to substitute in bouts.

Schmeling wore the conventional head gear that seems to be so essential to the boys in training nowadays, but Max didn't need it today. None of his spar-mates was able to land a clean sock on him, except one or two blows that Androlite got home. And poor Androlite took quite a beating in that one round.

"I try not to hurt them," said Schmeling. "Maybe it would be better that I didn't let them rest, but finished them as your great Dempsey used to do, but I am saving my—what you call it. They won't give me the title if I knock them out."

Schmeling came into the ring with his gloves on. I had watched him taping his hands in the dressing-room, and he posed for the photographers for some time before he began his work.

In addition to his boxing Max merely did some bending and limbering exercises and the work was all over. Tomorrow he will continue his boxing. He will work at 2 o'clock. He does his roadwork in the morning.

Schmeling is in better shape at the beginning of his training than any heavyweight ever was. He is in a happy frame of mind, has no worries over management or any other of the many things that harass prominent boxers these days. His hands appear to be all right.

Max had an operation, some time ago, on his left hand along the thumb, and the scar remains there, as it will as long as he lives.

The third finger of his right hand always is bent at right angles, that is, half closed, and he cannot open it out straight. It too, carries quite a scar. But this happened when he was only 12 years of age, a result of a blood poisoning coming from an infection. This is no handicap, for while the finger can't be straightened, it can be closed into a fist quite readily and easily. And a fist is all that Max needs. He has two good ones.

SHARKEY OPENS CAMP AT ORANGEBURG

ORANGEBURG, May 11. (AP)—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, arrived here late today to begin training for his world's title fight with Max Schmeling at the Yankee Stadium in New York June 12.

Sharkey weighed 208 after a siege of training at Boston and will work off about seven pounds before the night of the bout.

He was accompanied here by his wife, who will remain for the entire training period.

WIN IN TENTH

WASHINGTON, May 11. (AP)—Chicago scored two runs in the tenth inning today to win from Washington, 5 to 3. Lyons went the distance for the White Sox, allowing the Senators eleven hits, and winning a closely contested pitchers' battle with Bump Hadley who was withdrawn in the eighth for Fred Marberry.

Reynolds's single followed by Watwood's triple and Kamm's Texas leguer, in the extra inning broke up the game for the Senators. Bluege, Washington third-sacker, starred for the losers with three hits out of four trips, one a double. Score:

FREY IS HERO

CINCINNATI, May 11. (AP)—Bennie Frey, Cincinnati recruit pitcher, was credited with his fourth straight victory when the Reds took the third game of the series from Philadelphia, 5 to 4. Frey has not lost a game. The victory for the Reds made it two out of three from the Phillies.

Cincinnati was handed the game in the ninth when Frey, first man up, singled, was sacrificed to second by Callaghan, and took third when Heilmann and Walker were passed. With two balls on Stripp, Elliott relieved Koupal and walked Stripp, forcing in Frey, with the winning tally. Score:

STARS ANNEX TWIN BILL

drive off the left center-field wall also had its part in keeping the Sheiks' one-run margin intact through that final inning. Catina, though, made a marvelous pick-up of Pinch-Hitter Caveney's slow roller and threw Ike out at first by a half-step to end the game. Jerry Donovan, who had doubled to open the ninth, was on third and would have tallied to tie the score had not Catina made his sensational play.

The Stars got off to a two-run lead in the first inning of the nightcap, when two walks and a hit batsman filled the bases and Mickey Heath cracked one of Miljus's offerings to left for a single.

San Francisco got one back in the second on Baker's double and Sulik's single to center.

The Seals went ahead temporarily in the fourth, which Donovan opened with a single. Wingo went out but Baker singled to center and Donovan took third. Coleman's sacrifice fly to Rumler scored Donovan and put Baker on second. Sulik singled infield and then he and Baker worked a double steal, the latter scoring from third. Reed struck out to end the inning.

HEATH HITS HOMER

Heath tied it up in the Hollywood half of the fourth when he lined one of Miljus's fast ones over the center-field fence for the circuit.

A hit batsman and a walk put two Seals on the paths after two were out in the sixth but Turner disposed of Earl Sheely, batting for Reed, on an easy roller to Brannan.

Green fanned to begin the Hollywood sixth but Carlyle singled and Heath walked. Coleman captured Rumler's drive for the second out. Donovan, playing first while Sheely nursed a bad ankle, knocked down Bassler's torrid smash and held it to an infield single but threw to Miljus in an effort to make a play at first and Carlyle scored and Heath took third on the error. Bassler stunned the gathering by stealing third and then he and Heath tallied when Turner sizzled a hit over Crosetti's head.

Pinelli and Donovan got hits after two were out in the Seal seventh but Brannan went back on the grass in right field to get Wingo's bounder and threw Red out on a sensational play that ended the game.

STARS SCORE FIRST

Hollywood began the opener with a run in the first inning when Lee singled, took second on Green's hit and scored on Rumler's double. Heath fanned to end the inning and leave Sheiks stranded on second and third.

The Seals went ahead in the second when Alex Gaston parked one over the left-field wall with a couple of mates aboard the hassocks. Coleman doubled with one away and then Sulik was safe on Gazella's low throw. Whereupon, Gaston hit his homer and the Seals were leading, 3-1.

The Sheiks got a run back in the fifth when Page doubled to left and scored on Green's single to center.

Otie Brannan's home run into the centerfield bleachers after Severeid had singled gave the Hollywooders two more markers in the sixth and put them out in front.

Page blew up in the seventh and Yde had to pitch some snappy ball to get the side out with but one run scoring. Pinelli walked to start the round and was forced by Donovan. Wing walked and then Baker doubled, Donovan tallying with the tying run. Yde here replaced Page and walked Jahn, batting for Coleman, to fill the bases. Sulik forced Wingo at the plate, Yde to Severeid, and Gaston was the victim of a called third strike that ended the rally.

STARS BREAK TIE

Catina and McNeely singled to open the Hollywood half of the seventh and were bunted along by Green. Rumler was purposely walked to fill the bases. Wally Rehg, batting for Heath, popped to Baker but Severeid found the generous streak in Scotty McDougal's make-up and drew a pass that brought Catina in with the winning run.

Donovan gave the Seals a ray of hope in the ninth when he doubled past Rehg, but Carlyle, who had replaced McNeely in center, then made his sensational catch of Wingo's drive. Catina threw out Baker on a nice play, Donovan going to third. Jahn again walked and Caveney came up to bat for Sulik. Caveney hit a slow bouncer just over Yde's head and it looked like a sure hit with Donovan scoring the tying run, but Catina came in fast, scooped up the bulb and whipped it to Green in time to nail Caveney by a half-step. ROTH RETAINS RING TITLE

ROME, May 11. (AP)—The Belgian, Gustav Roth, European middleweight champion, retained his title today, holding Vittorio Venturi, Italian challenger, to a draw in fifteen rounds.

IRISH BEAT BELGIANS

BRUSSELS (Belgium) May 11. (AP) Ireland defeated Belgium, 3 to 1, in an International Association football match today.

Indians Grab Double-header

PORTLAND (Or.) May 11. (AP)—The Seattle Indians took the double-header from the Portland Beavers here today, winning the first, 4 to 3, in a great battle and walking off with the nightcap, 14 to 4, in a wild seventh inning. The Indians were trailing 3 to 4 in the sixth but after the next inning had a margin of 12 to 4. This double victory gives Seattle the series, six games to one, and places Bill Klepper's outfit at an even .500 percentage in standings. Five Portland pitchers were pounded in the second game for twenty hits. The score:

CITRUS BELT ARRANGES NIGHT BASEBALL PLANS

A schedule of twenty-four games in four rounds will be opened by the Citrus Belt Night Baseball League Wednesday, the 14th inst., with seven teams competing, it was announced today by Elmer Coble, president of the circuit.

Riverside, Pomona, Ontario, Bryn Mawr, near Redlands; Colton, Arlington and Corona are represented in the league, which promises to be one of the fastest in several seasons.

Night baseball as played in these cities is different from the national pastime, being a combination of the latter and playground ball, the size of the diamond and other rules governing play being suited to the limited field and lighting facilities.

Opening-night games will be played with Ontario at Colton, Corona at Colton, Bryn Mawr having a bye. The Riverside-Pomona opening game, scheduled to be played at Pomona, will not be staged until Monday, the 19th inst., due to a delay in preparing the new Pomona diamond at Ganesha Park.

The schedule:

UPLIFTERS BOW IN POLO CLASH

Elmer Boeseke's White Four Wins Mallet Game, 13-8

With long-legged Elmer Boeseke showing the way and T. Lyell Puckett clicking off goals with regularity the Whites galloped to a 13-to-8 victory over the Uplifters' polo four yesterday afternoon at Rustic Canyon field. Boeseke, a candidate for the American international big four, led the attack, sweeping big white pill up the field to Puckett, who smashed it across for seven goals. Hal Roach accounted for three digits. Boeseke tallied twice himself and Carl Beal once to make the thirteen total for the winners.

Boeseke was riding high, wide and handsome all afternoon and gave the fans a number of real thrills during the game. Lionel Pedley was the star of the losing four. He tallied seven goals and gave an all-around fine performance.

Snowy Baker and Hugh Blue did the officiating.

The line-ups:

Whites.		Uplifters.
Puckett (7)	No. 1	Rogers, Jr.
Roach (3)	No. 2	Wilson (1)
Boeseke (2)	No. 3	L. Pedley (7)

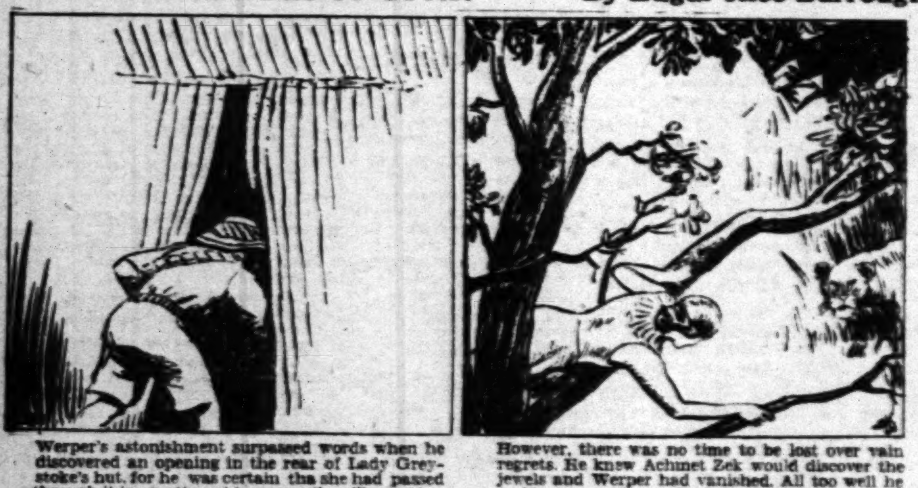
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Werper's astonishment surpassed words when he discovered an opening in the rear of Lady Greystoke's hut, for he was certain tha she had passed through it in an attempt to escape the village. Also, he was crestfallen; from the first moment that he had laid eyes upon Jane Clayton, he had nursed a secret passion for the beautiful American wife of the English lord. He had dreamed he might convince her Tarzan was dead, play upon her gratitude for saving her and thus win her for himself.

However, there was no time to be lost over vain regrets. He knew Achmet Zek would discover the jewels and Werper had vanished. All too well he could picture that ruffian's rage and the subsequent search. He struck boldly out for the jungle. A few miles south of him, Jane Clayton lay panting among the branches of a tree in which she had taken refuge from a prowling lioness. Her escape from the village had been much easier than she had anticipated.

Werper traveled slowly onward until dawn, when, to his chagrin, he discovered a mounted Arab on his trail. It was one of Achmet Zek's minions searching for him. The Belgian hastily slid into the screening bush. Down the trail rode the white-robed figure of his pursuer. Nearer he came. Werper crouched closer to the ground. Across the trail a vine moved; Werper's eyes centered upon the spot, for there was no wind to stir the foliage in the jungle's depth.

Opposite from him a form gradually took shape—a tawny form, grim and terrible, with yellow-green eyes glaring fearsomely across the narrow trail straight into his. Werper could have screamed in fright; but up the trail was coming the messenger of another death, equally sure and no less terrible. Paralyzed with fear, he remained silent. The Arab approached. Across from Werper the lion crouched for the spring, when suddenly its attention was attracted toward the horseman.

NEW DRILLING IDEA TRIED

Standard Tests Out First Electrically Driven Rig on Direct Current at Inglewood

A revolutionary move in the drilling of oil wells may result from an experiment to determine ease of operation and ecenomy of drilling now being made by the Standard Oil Company at its Vickers No. 1-24 in the Inglewood field where the first electrically driven, direct current rotary is being operated by two 400-horsepower Diesel engines.

It is believed that Standard elected to try out the new drilling process at Inglewood because the formation is particularly easy to make hole in. Details are lacking at this time as to the probable outcome of the experiment since the project is only a little beyond 1600 feet in depth. The well spudded in May 4 and has been making steady progress.

While the plan is thought to be absolutely practical, it still is rather an experiment in which one of the big national electrical supply houses is vitally interested. If the idea is a success it is considered highly probable that the electrical manufacturers will find themselves in possession of a new outlet for equipment which may be of great economic importance.

EARLY TESTS

Drilling with electricity was inaugurated in certain San Joaquin Valley fields years ago by the San Joaquin Light and Power Company, which developed considerable power business as a result of pioneering in that enterprise. More recently the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company discovered the Seacliff oil field west of Ventura by drilling with electricity. But all of the electrical drilling that has taken place heretofore has been done with alternating current which could not be directly applied to the drilling equipment.

The present experiment is novel and interesting for the particular reason that it involves the use of a direct-current generator, operating much as the street car is driven. Two 200-horsepower Atlas Diesel engines, made in Oakland, generate the electricity. The engines are driven by internal combustion of crude or low-grade oil. The engines drive the generator, it makes the electricity, and the latter is conveyed by wires to two 125 kilowatt electric motors which, revolving at a high rate of speed, drive the drilling machinery. Under the old system of drilling by electricity the alternating current, coming in over the power lines, had to be run through a motor generator set in order to be transformed into direct current in which form it could be fed to the electric motors.

EXPERIMENT WATCHED

Standard's experiment is being watched by scores of oil operators who are vitally interested in the outcome. Quite generally, throughout the oil fields of this State, drilling is done by generating steam in boilers which are fired with natural gas or fuel oil. Owing to the fact that the industry has so much gas equipment on hand and gas is almost a drug on the market, it is thought probable that natural gas will continue for a long time to be the main source of power generation for drilling oil wells, especially in proven fields, where gas is readily obtainable.

It is admitted on every hand, however, that if the Diesel-electric experiment proves to be a mechanical and economical success it has rather large opportunities to offer the oil operator who desires to drill wildcat wells. Much of the wildcat drilling in this State is done in hilly and mountainous districts, sometimes quite remote from railroads and highways, and seldom within reach of a natural gas supply. In such cases it is necessary to haul in fuel oil or other bulky material for use under the boilers to make steam.

Owing to the fact that the Diesel engine will utilize most any kind of crude ranging from the lightest type down to about 12 deg. gravity, the expectation is that this type of internal combustion engine will prove to be unusually economical in the oil fields. The elimination of alternating current and the use of direct current eliminates much unnecessary mechanical equipment and puts the drilling crew in a position to stop and start the machinery much quicker.

The Diesel already has proved its efficiency and economy as a generator of electricity for electric cars and switch engines on the railways, and is being widely adopted in the merchant marine. It now remains for it to prove its value in the drilling of oil wells.

NEW PLANT RUNNING ON MILL DUMP

Southwest Metals to Work Over Tailings of Old Congress Mine

WICKENBURG (Ariz.) May 11. (Exclusive)—A 400-ton mill has been completed by the Southwest Metal Extraction Company below the old mill dumps of the old Congress property, in Southern Yavapai county, with initial management by Harry T. Curran of Los Angeles, consulting engineer. The tailings supply is expected to last for years and is declared to be of remunerative value throughout.

The Congress, first developed by "Diamond Jo" Reynolds of St. Louis, still holds the gold mine depth record in Arizona, one of its well-equipped shafts 4500 feet down on an incline. The ore, from top to bottom, was an iron pyrite, in silica, in the richer sections running an average of $20 a ton. Two forty-stamp mills were operated for a while and the yield was large. At one time was operated a novel desulphurizing plant for the tailings, which were ployed around a horseshoe table, under a number of oil-fed furnaces. Joe Klein now is manager.

The Superior Court has given John H. Lemon possession of six unpatented claims within the Monte Cristo group, near Wickenburg. Judgment was against the Monte Cristo Mining and Milling Company and A. Krell, the latter representative of a group of Los Angeles and Phoenix stockholders who, last year, were successful in suits against the Julian interests, which had secured a majority of the company's stock from Ezra Thayer of Phoenix. It appears that both litigant parties failed to keep up assessment work on the claims here under consideration.

Mohawk Solves Water Trouble at Fruitvale

FRUITVALE, May 11. (Exclusive) The Mohawk Oil Company has been successful in shutting out the mud and water which permeated the flow from its No. 6 well on Sec. 27, 29-27, in the Fruitvale field. The hole is yielding about seventy-five barrels daily. Bottom of the well is at 4183 feet.

In the same field the Shell Oil Company's Moore No. 1 on Sec. 21, 19-17, has developed 296 barrels on the pump. Oil tests 16.8 deg. gravity with a cut of 44 per cent. The eleven and three-quarter-inch casing is set at 3730 feet. Shell is drilling ahead on its Shepard No. 1 at Fruitvale.

George F. Getty's Fairhaven No. 1 well on Sec. 23, 29-27, at Fruitvale is progressing after a casing job at 510 feet. Getty also is busy rehabilitating another worn-out producer, Farrell No. 1, in the same field.

Two New Oil Wells Started in Kern Fields

BAKERSFIELD, May 11. (Exclusive)—Two new oil wells were spudded in during the past week in Kern county—one in the Kern River field and the other in the Goose Lake district.

The Shell Oil Company has spudded in its Williams No. 1 on Sec. 17, 27-23, at Goose Lake, and the Bishop Corporation has begun its McDonald No. 1 on Sec. 26, 28-27, at Kern River.

Five tests for water shut-off were reported as follows: General Petroleum Corporation, No. 17, on Sec. 21, 27-28, and Pacific Western Oil Company No. 4, on Sec. 15, 27-28, at Poso Creek; Shell Oil Company No. 1, on Sec. 24, 28-20, Belridge; Standard Oil Company No. 23, on Sec. 15, 28-27, Kern River, and Shell Oil Company, No. 1, on Sec. 14, 29-27, Fruitvale.

GOLD STRIKE TIP SOLD FOR SONG

Indian Prospector Gets $200 for Promising Prospect in Nevada County

MINA (Nev.) May 11. (Exclusive)—The discovery of a rich gold deposit twelve miles west of Mina by Johnnie Brown, Indian prospector, is attracting considerable attention. The Indian sold his golden secret for $200 to three employees of the Southern Pacific Company, who seem destined to profit handsomely from the transaction.

Croppings are said to run around $100 per ton, with a strong ledge in sight. The Indian states that he knows of many good gold prospects, and expects to sell several to white miners.

Three Courses Announced for Summer Term

Dr. Jesse Perry Rowe, professor of geology at the State University of Montana, is to head three summer courses at the University of Southern California this year, one in historical geology, one in petroleum geology and one in petrology.

Special attention will be given to the Pacific Coast region.

Stratigraphy in relation to oil prospecting will be covered. Construction of underground countour maps, as well as graphic logs and peg models, will supplement the lectures.

Dr. Malcolm Bissell of the department of geology of Southern California also will head summer session classes between June 16, next, and August 30.

Neel Placer to Spend Huge Sum

CLIFTON (Ariz.) May 11. (Exclusive)—According to Dan C. Foley, representing the Neel Placer Company, about $1,000,000 will be spent at the Neel property, on the Gila, by the North American Dredging and Development Company, under contract with the owner.

Machinery is to be in operation on the ground before September 18. The ground has been surveyed by F. H. Vahrencamp, chief engineer for the North American Corporation.

MAGMA ORE PRODUCTION COSTS RISE

Copper Mining Company Reports Increase Over 1928 of 0.76 Cents

MIAMI (Ariz.) May 11. (Exclusive)—The annual report of Magma Copper Company shows that the cost of production rose last year, from 9.227 cents a pound to 9.987 cents, though the grade of ore was somewhat higher, averaging 7.62 per cent copper, 3.92 ounces silver and .036 ounces gold. Bullion production was 36,500,000 pounds, nearly 1,000,000 above the year before. The mine has a large quantity of developed, but unstoped, ore of good grade and the management is steadily prospecting its outside areas.

Miami Copper Company, here, is securing the benefit of its large improvement program and is making copper at less than 11 cents a pound, compared with 11 3-4 cents in 1929. Still lower cost is expected under new power and smelting conditions. There can be little comparison between Magma and Miami, for the local property secures profit mainly through the handling of vast quantities of very low-grade ore by the most economical of automatic processes.

Success is reported to be attending the operation of a number of Hanson amalgamator-concentrator machines now being used in this county on gold, tungsten and copper ores.

New mechanical cleaning methods, displacing the expensive cobbing heretofore known, are of large benefit to the asbestos industry of this section. Production has been resumed on the property of the Emsco Asbestos Company, sixty-five miles from this point, with a new cleaning plant in operation, and a new road completed.

GOLD MINE ERECTING NEW MILL

Seven Troughs Project Due for Commissioning in Next Six Weeks

LOVELOCK (Nev.) May 11. (Exclusive)—Manager L. A. Friedman of the Seven Troughs Gold Company announces that the new 200-ton mill will go into commission within six weeks. The 5100-foot ore body has been opened for 800 feet, and raises are advancing in rich gold ore. Caved sections of the old Coalition workings are delaying resumption of mining at this point, but this condition is expected soon to be eliminated. Values are said to be averaging nearly $1000 per ton the full eighteen-inch width of the new ore shoot.

Heavy production of quicksilver continues from the Opalite property of the Mercury Mining Syndicate, north of McDermitt, with a new and extensive deposit of cinnibar recently exposed in new territory. More than 200 flasks of the metal are turned out monthly, and fifty men are steadily employed. The company is a subsidiary of the Bradley Syndicate of California.

The Imperial Gold Mines Corporation states that steam shovels will be used in mining large quartz-gold deposits in the Hilltop section near Battle Mountain. Company engineers estimate that ore assaying as low as $1.50 per ton can be profitably mined by steam shovels. Leasers for several years have mined ore carrying much higher values.

SUBSTITUTE AUTO FUELS TEST PENDS

Findings of Texas Body to Determine Types for State Taxation

AUSTIN (Tex.) May 11. (Exclusive)—To determine what substitutes for gasoline now in use as fuel for internal combustion engines shall be subject to the 4 cents a gallon gasoline tax, chemical tests will be made of all such substitutes, according to R. M. Tilley, assistant Attorney-General.

Dr. E. P. Schoch of the University of Texas chemistry department, collaborating with chemists from the Agricultural and Mechanical College and others, will make the tests at the instance of the Attorney-General's department so as to fix the tax basis on all fuels used on the public highways and subject to the tax.

A large number of tractors using the public highways in freight and other service use gasoline substitutes for fuel and will be taxed under the coming definition. The tax will be refunded on all fuel used in farm tractors. The tax is paid by the vendor of the fuel.

General to Sink Gasser Deeper

BUTTONWILLOW, May 11. (Exclusive)—The General Petroleum Corporation is deepening its gasser on the Morris lease near Buttonwillow after shutting off the flow, which is rated at 10,000,000 cubic feet daily.

The gas was killed after the Pacific Gas and Electric Company decided to pipe all its gas from Kettleman Hills, where it is impossible to shut off the output. General Petroleum will drill deeper in search of an oil sand. Bottom of the Morris well is now at 3000 feet.

NEW GOLD WING FIND REPORTED

Strike Made in Property of Dunlap Syndicate

Katherine Property Revival Plans Under Way

New Concern May Take Over Plant at Murray

KINGMAN (Ariz.) May 11. (Exclusive)—From the Gold Wing district has come the report of another strike, with good milling ore across the face of a drift on a three-foot vein. Some high-grade stuff has been shown here from the new find, which is owned by the Dunlap Syndicate, and which is a mile from the original strike. The high-grade is being sacked for shipment.

There is possibility that new life will be given the Katherine property, on plans outlined by representatives of the Britannia Mining and Smelting Company of New York and Vancouver. The Sutro interests of San Francisco, heavy owners of the old corporation, are reported as favoring the new idea and the bankruptcy sale has been postponed awaiting developments.

Heretofore the only bids were for the mine and mill equipment. The new plans call for expenditure of $200,000 and for operation of the mine on a royalty basis. The mine, near the Colorado River, thirty-three miles west of Kingman, has yielded about $1,000,000 from the milling of low-grade ore by a cyanide process.

The Kingman Smelting and Refining Company is the title of a new organization, which may take over the Murray reduction plant here and accept custom ores. Initial capacity is to be about eighty tons a day. It is told that the new company is closely connected with the Kaaba Mining and Milling Corporation.

A mill is to be started by Albert Kemp on property owned by him in the south end of the Chemehuevis Mountains.

OIL COKE PRODUCTION GAINS

Heavy Increase in Supply of By-Product of Industry Laid to Cracking Process Advent

Southern California, which is one of the greatest oil-refining centers in the world, contributed in large measure during the past year to the supply of petroleum coke which, according to the United States Bureau of Mines, reached a value of $7,000,000 for the twelve months.

The advent of the cracking process greatly increased the supply of this valued by-product which is used extensively in the industrial art for the production of a super-heat. The straight-run refining process yields about 350,000 tons of petroleum coke annually, while the cracking units are now putting out more than 1,100,000 tons a year. The latter method is more productive of this type of coke because it handles heavier oil and leaves greater quantities of still residue.

Petroleum coke is formed as the solid residue of the destructive distillation of petroleum products whenever these products are heated above their decomposition temperatures. In appearance petroleum coke is somewhat similar to that made from coal and ranges in color from dark gray to black. The coking-style still type, when properly coked, is a dry, grayish material with a dark silver-gray sheen, while the cracking-still type frequently has an oily appearance.

Prior to the commercial application of the modern cracking processes the source of petroleum coke was the coking still. In this type of refining equipment reduced crudes are heated, usually at atmospheric pressure, until all but approximately 8 per cent of the volatile constituents have been driven off as an overhead product and the coke is left on the bottom of the still as a solid residue. The thickness of this layer might range from six inches with a Mid-Continent or California crude to thirty inches with a Mexican crude.

This type of still is operated intermittently; and when the refining of a particular batch of oil has been completed the still is permitted to cool sufficiently to allow the entry of workmen, who break up and remove the coke. Mechanical means have been devised for the removal of coke from coking stills, but in actual practice the operation is almost exclusively manual.

The consumption of petroleum coke is determined by the type and degree of preparation of the material, the demand for various finished carbon products, developments in foreign countries, and prices of competitive fuels. The demand for coking-still coke is largely a matter of meeting the needs of domestic and foreign manufacturers of electrodes, dry-cell batteries, and other carbon products, while the demand for cracking-still coke depends largely upon the prices of competitive solid and liquid fuels.

The largest single item of consumption results from the fuel needs of the petroleum refineries, as the relative prices of petroleum-coke screenings and fuel oil have caused refiners to burn their own coke screenings. Some quantities of the fine sizes are also sold to cement and brick plants, packing plants, and steel companies for use as a pulverized fuel.

A major portion of the cracking-steel coke extracted from the reaction chambers of cracking stills is in fine sizes and is sold for industrial pulverized fuel use, at relatively low prices. The United States Bureau of Mines says that if cracking-still coke is to become of increased importance in the industrial arts or is to bring a larger return to its producers, it should receive further treatment to reduce its volatile content, increase its strength, and provide uniformity in quality. Cracking-still coke subjected to such additional treatment should find an enlarged market as a "smokeless" fuel for domestic heating and an increased application in certain industrial processes.

DEEP OIL QUEST GIVEN SETBACK

Failure of Texas Project at 8904 Feet Dampener

Venture Estimated as Having Cost Over $200,000

Operator Sought to Prove Up Large Lease Holding

BIG LAKE (Tex.) May 11. (Exclusive)—Deep drilling in the West Texas area has received a setback by the failure to obtain production of the deepest hole ever drilled by means of cable tools. At a depth of 8904 feet this well has been abandoned. It was drilled by P. H. Williams at a cost of more than $200,000 upon a block of land upon which he owns a lease in Irion county, about thirty miles from the Big Lake field.

Widespread interest was taken by oil men in the outcome of this test. In view of the fact that large production is being obtained from the 8525-foot well of the Texon Oil and Land Company in the Big Lake field and that other wells in this field which have reached that horizon are producing in commercial quantities, the theory was held by some oil geologists that this deep oil producing sand was to be found throughout the Permian Basin of West Texas. Mr. Williams was willing to gamble on this theory and he lost.

At 8885 feet salt water was encountered in the well. It could not be cased out on account of subsequent caving. The drill was in a dark sandy lime when the hole was abandoned. A complete core of the well was taken and it is to be given expert scientific study. It is open hole below 4765 feet.

One of the interesting features connected with this record-breaking cable-tool project was that no serious difficulties were encountered in drilling the well. The hole is almost straight, which is regarded as remarkable when its great depth is considered.

5% Equipment Trust Gold Certificates

Series "M"

Principal and dividends to be unconditionally guaranteed by endorsement by the North American Car Corporation

To be issued under the Philadelphia Plan

GIRARD TRUST COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA, Trustee

To be dated May 15, 1930. Principal to be payable semi-annually in serial installments of $76,000 each from November 15, 1930, to May 15, 1935, both inclusive, and $77,000 each from November 15, 1935, to May 15, 1945, both inclusive. Payable to bearer (with optional registration as to principal) in denomination of $1000.

At the option of the North American Car Corporation, certificates are to be redeemable on any dividend date at 101% of their face amount and accrued dividends, in accordance with the terms of the Lease and Agreement. Both principal and dividends are to be paid without deduction of normal Federal income tax not in excess of 2% per annum.

The North American Car Corporation agrees to reimburse to the holders of these certificates the Pennsylvania State Tax (not to exceed 4 mills annually) upon application as set forth in the agreement.

Mr. Erwin R. Brigham, President of the North American Car Corporation, has written us a letter covering the issuance of these certificates, from which we summarize as follows:

These certificates are to be secured through assignment to the Trustee of title to the following equipment:

100 new steel underframe brine tank beef refrigerator cars
75 new all-steel insulated asphalt tank cars
50 new all-steel 8,000 gal. capacity 3-compartment tank cars
15 new steel underframe combination refrigerator and poultry cars
899 steel underframe poultry cars

The American Appraisal Company has currently certified that these cars have a total sound value of in excess of $3,137,616.58 or more than 136% of the face value of the certificates to be issued.

Pending the transfer of title to these cars, cash to the full face amount of the Certificates will be deposited with the Trustee to be withdrawn as cars are delivered.

The North American Car Company commenced business in 1908 and on February 1, 1926, all the assets owned by it were acquired by the North American Car Corporation which has become one of the largest lessors of privately owned railroad equipment in the United States.

There are no mortgages or encumbrances on any of the Corporation's plants or real estate, the only funded indebtedness of the Corporation consisting of Equipment Trust obligations.

Messrs. Arthur Young & Company, Certified Public Accountants, have certified that the net earnings of the Corporation for the years ending January 31, 1927 and 1928 and for the eleven months ended December 31, 1928 and for the year ending December 31, 1929, available for fixed charges, depreciation and taxes were:

January 31, 1927	January 31, 1928	11 months to December 31, 1928

December 31, 1929, $1,768,687.45

The earnings for the year 1929, after all charges including Federal Tax and preferred dividends, represent $5.48 per share on the average number of shares of Common Stock outstanding during the year.

We offer these Certificates subject to issuance as planned, and subject to the approval of the issue by counsel, and to prior sale. It is expected that temporary or definitive certificates will be delivered on or about May 15, 1930.

Freeman & Company, Blyth & Co., Inc.

GARNER ROYALTIES CO., LTD.

is engaged in making diversified investments in oil and gas royalties in various fields, 90% of its capital being invested in California and the remainder in Oklahoma. It owns 100 distinct royalty interests embracing 309 producing wells, 13 drilling wells and numerous locations for future wells, its holdings being spread over approximately 4000 acres in 13 proven oil fields.

Stability. Garner Royalties and its predecessor companies have paid 110½% to stockholders in 83 months. A record of consistent earning power through good times and bad.

Growth. Year by year the value of the assets of the enterprise has increased. The company is constantly seeking to build up its capital investments against future profits.

Diversity. In its investment policy Garner Royalties partakes of the principle of an investment trust, combining holdings of numerous royalty interests spread over a number of producing oil fields. The law of averages is the best rule of safety.

A Basic Industry. The oil business is an essential industry of tremendous scope and widespread activity. The income of oil royalties is derived from the production of this industry at its source.

Vested Ownership. A royalty interest, as its name implies, carries a sovereign title to its share of all oil and gas produced from real property, free and clear of all expense of drilling, equipment and production cost. A royalty interest is in form an underlying security.

Management. Nearly all the royalty interests of Garner Royalties underlie leaseholds of major oil companies, thus obtaining the benefit of the engineering organizations of the large operators. Moreover, Garner Royalties is officered by experienced business men, acting under a sound and conservative policy, affording a medium for investment superior to individual ventures into the field of business.

Growth is the aim of every forward-looking enterprise. Garner Royalties constantly seeks to expand its activities and holdings. The oil business in general is of such tremendous scope and widespread activity, all being based upon the production of petroleum from the earth, that the field for royalty investment is almost unlimited.

New capital is employed to add to the Company's holdings in accordance with its investment policy, which aims to maintain a conservative ratio of steady production, while constantly reaching out into new sources of revenue.

Should you desire more detailed information regarding this corporation, please do not hesitate to communicate with us.

DROP IN COPPER TO HIT ARIZONA

Entire Industry in State to Feel Effects

Blow Falls Heaviest on Small Mine Operators

Suspension Forecasts for High Cost Properties

PHOENIX, May 11. (Exclusive)—The drop in copper prices spells no good to the Arizona mining industry anywhere in the State, and is especially severe upon the small producer. The larger mines are able to turn bullion out at from 9 to 11 cents a pound, delivered at the refinery, but the outside operators simply cannot do anything with ore that is not of notably high grade.

Usually the truck transportation from the shaft to the nearest railroad station costs as much as the larger mines pay for all operations. Without doubt, even the larger producers would be pleased to suspend production till better days might come, but this drastic course would be productive of suffering to employees dependent on the companies for support and, as well, would disrupt organizations that have been carefully built up during years past.

These conditions were touched upon in a recent Interstate Commerce Commission hearing here, one at which was fought a suggested raise in rail rates on nonferrous ores. W. B. Gohring, secretary of the Arizona chapter of the American Mining Congress, stated that 75 per cent of the population of the State is concerned in the copper industry, with 75,000 persons directly dependent upon it.

Mines and their rail lines pay on 62 per cent of the State's total assessed valuation. According to William J. Graham of Phoenix, protection is needed not so much by the fourteen large copper producers as by 2000 small operators, who are struggling to develop mines that might be great producers in the future.

Two Maricopa Flat Projects Drilling Ahead

MARICOPA, May 11. (Exclusive) Two new wells are under way on the Maricopa Flats. The Union Oil Company is drilling Fried No. 2 on Sec. 8, 11-24, and at the same time is forging ahead in Houchin No. 4, a deep test on Sec. 10, 11-23.

The Barnsdall Oil Company's Hazelton No. 4 is about ready to start drilling, the location being 670 feet south and 650 feet west from the eastern quarter of the northeast quarter corner of Sec. 17, 11-23. Barnsdall recently completed three excellent producers in that vicinity.

Derrick is up and ready to be equipped on Sec. 17, 11-23 at Maricopa Flat, where California Western Oil Company will drill its Havenstrite No. 6, following failure to get a proper water shut-off in Havenstrite No. 5 at 3500 feet.

Phillips Plans Casinghead Gas Plant Increase

AUSTIN (Tex.) May 11. (Exclusive)—Plans have been adopted by the Phillips Petroleum Company for the construction of two more casinghead gasoline plants, which will give it a total of forty-eight such plants.

One of the new plants is to be located in Gray county and it will have a capacity of 40,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily, operating under natural well pressure and designed to process 60,000 gallons of gasoline daily.

The other proposed plant will be located in the Ector county field and will be of somewhat lesser capacity. Both plants will be of the absorption type, with two distillation units each.

OIL OPERATORS CUT PROGRAMS

Drilling Activity of Majors Sharply Curtailed

Reduction from Normal Set at 40 to 50 Per Cent

Shell and Standard Lead in Projects Under Way

That the major operating companies in California are doing their utmost to hold down the daily output of crude oil this year is indicated by the fact that most of them have pinched down their drilling programs to 40 or 50 per cent of normal field conditions.

At Santa Fe Springs practically all of the big companies are winding up their drilling programs, on the assumption that the deep zones are about done. The Shell Oil Company seems to be the most active operator in the State, with thirty-five strings of tools at work, compared with sixty drilling jobs under normal conditions. Standard is second to Shell with thirty-three active drilling jobs, against a normal program of fifty or more wells.

The Union Oil Company is in third place with twenty-five wells drilling, which is scarcely more than half a normal operating program. The General Petroleum Corporation, which often has had from fifty to sixty wells going at one time, is working on fifteen, and the Associated is only running fifteen strings of tools.

In the Santa Fe Springs field Shell has tapered down to two drilling jobs, and General Petroleum has only seven, but Union is drilling ahead in seventeen hole, nine of which are below 7000 feet. A survey indicated that the Ventura-avenue field is one of the most active in the State just now, Shell having twelve wells drilling there, while Associated is drilling eleven.

There probably is more wildcat drilling in Santa Barbara county than in any other portion of the State. Considerable drilling activity ranges along the Coast there and extends for some distance inland, to Gato Ridge and other points.

Imperial Japanese Government

EXTERNAL LOAN OF 1930 THIRTY-FIVE YEAR SINKING FUND
5½% GOLD BONDS
(Total issue in the United States $71,000,000)

Dated May 1, 1930 Due May 1, 1965

Interest payable May 1 and November 1 in New York in dollars and in London in Sterling as set forth below.

A cumulative semi-annual sinking fund, with payments beginning May 1, 1935, and calculated to be sufficient to redeem the entire issue on or before maturity, is to be applied to the purchase of Bonds if obtainable at or below 100% and accrued interest, or, if not so obtainable, to the semi-annual redemption, commencing November 1, 1935, at 100% and accrued interest, of Bonds called by lot.

Coupon Bonds in denomination of $1,000.

Not redeemable prior to May 1, 1940 except for the sinking fund. Redeemable, at the option of the Government, on May 1, 1940, or on any interest payment date thereafter, upon three months' published notice, at 100% and accrued interest, but, except for the sinking fund, only as to the entire issue.

Juichi Tsushima, Esq., Financial Commissioner of the Imperial Japanese Government in London, Paris and New York, has written us a letter under date of May 9, 1930, with reference to this Loan, the finances of the Imperial Japanese Government and present economic conditions in Japan. A copy of this letter, from which the following paragraphs are quoted, may be obtained upon request.

> The Imperial Japanese Government is issuing in the United States of America $71,000,000 of its External Loan of 1930 Thirty-Five Year Sinking Fund 5½% Gold Bonds, and contemporaneously is issuing in London £12,500,000 Bonds of its 5½% Conversion Loan of 1930. The Bonds of these Loans are to be direct external obligations of the Imperial Japanese Government. Of the $71,000,000 Bonds of the United States issue, $50,000,000 Bonds are to be offered for public subscription and $21,000,000 Bonds are to be exchanged for bonds of the Imperial Japanese Government 4% Sterling Loan of 1905, due January 1, 1931, now under control of the Japanese Government. Of the £12,500,000 Bonds of the Sterling issue, £2,500,000 Bonds are to be exchanged for bonds of the Imperial Japanese Government 4% Sterling Loan of 1905, due January 1, 1931.
> Principal and interest of Bonds of the United States issue will be payable in New York City at the office of The Yokohama Specie Bank, Limited, in United States of America gold coin of the standard of weight and fineness existing on May 1, 1930, or in London at the office of The Yokohama Specie Bank, Limited, in pounds sterling at the fixed rate of $4.8665 to the pound sterling, in either case without deduction for any Japanese taxes, present or future. Principal and interest of Bonds of the Sterling issue will be payable in London in pounds sterling or in New York in dollars at the fixed rate of $4.8665 to the pound sterling. Payment of the principal of the United States issue in Sterling or of the Sterling issue in dollars shall not be obligatory unless at least one month's written request shall have been made and the holder shall have complied with the reasonable regulations of the Government to assure presentation for such payment.
> The proceeds of such of the Bonds of these Loans as are not exchanged for bonds of the Imperial Japanese Government 4% Sterling Loan of 1905, due January 1, 1931, will be applied to their payment at maturity. The 4% Sterling Loan of 1905 was originally issued in the amount of £25,000,000 of which £1,553,680 bonds have been retired, and £23,446,320 bonds are now outstanding in the hands of the public or under control of the Japanese Government.

THE ABOVE BONDS ARE OFFERED FOR SUBSCRIPTION, SUBJECT TO THE CONDITIONS STATED BELOW, AT 90% AND ACCRUED INTEREST, TO YIELD 6.20% TO MATURITY.

Subscription books will be opened at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., at 10 o'clock A. M., Monday, May 12, 1930. The right is reserved to reject any and all applications, and also, in any case, to allot a smaller amount than applied for. All subscriptions will be received subject to the issue and delivery to us of the Bonds as planned and to the approval by counsel of the form and validity of the Bonds and of the relevant documents, proceedings and authorizations.

The amounts due on allotments will be payable at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., in New York funds to their order, and the date of payment (on or about May 27, 1930) will be stated in the notices of allotment. Temporary Bonds or Interim Certificates, exchangeable for definitive Bonds when received, are to be delivered.

Payment for Bonds allotted may be made in the bonds of the Imperial Japanese Government 4% Sterling Loan of 1905, due January 1, 1931, with unmatured coupons attached, which will be accepted, up to an aggregate principal amount not exceeding £8,500,000, at 100½% and accrued interest (viz., $99.47 per £20 of bonds of said 4% Sterling Loan if payment is made on May 27, 1930) equivalent to approximately a 3.15% interest yield basis computed from May 27, 1930 to January 1, 1931. If payment is to be made in this manner, J. P. Morgan & Co. must be so advised on or before May 20, 1930.

INCREASE IN VALUE of NATURAL CONSUMED IN UNITED STATES since

VALUE of natural gas consumed by homes and industries has practically doubled in the last years, and now represents about 75 per cent. of the gas produced.

Nothing could more emphatically establish the importance of natural gas than this record of increasing usage of a most efficient fuel for ever-widening purposes. Public utility generating plants are finding this fuel more and more necessary to the economical production of electric power, and industrial plants are benefited through lower production costs.

The companies in the Appalachian Gas Corporation group have some of the most important established markets in the entire country for their product, the territory embracing highly industrialized areas in West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas. The largest part of the production is sold under long-term contracts.

Associated System Electric Output
(Same Proportion, Entire Period)

1929 was a Good Year--- but 1930 is Better

Associated System electric output continues its advance during 1930. Such growth at this time is particularly noteworthy, especially since the 1929 increase was approximately equal to that for the two years 1927 and 1928 combined.

The continuance of new electric output records by the Associated System is made possible by a desirable balancing of residential and commercial with industrial demands. Instead of a concentration subject to the ups and downs of business conditions, the Associated System has a fortunate diversity as indicated by the sources of revenue.

Stability of electric output also is afforded through serving geographically distributed cities such as Rochester, Elmira, Binghamton, Staten Island (New York City), Ithaca, in New York State; Cambridge, New Bedford, Massachusetts; Reading, Easton, Johnstown, Erie, Pennsylvania; Bowling Green, Kentucky; Columbia, South Carolina.

There is, furthermore, a stability in the nature of the industry. Producing only for an existing demand, the industry has no period of production followed by a period of marking time. This, plus the advantages enjoyed by the Associated System through the desirable character of the area it serves, contributes to continued growth and to the enhancement of security values.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11. (AP)—Extension of the Hamburg-American Line from here to Carribbean and west coast ports was announced today by Sudden & Christenson, general agents on the Pacific Coast.

The new service will be effected by trans-shipment at Cristobal to connect with ships of the same line and with those of other lines. The motorship Los Angeles will leave here the 31st inst. on the new service.

A rapid "turn-around" was completed by the Ginyo Maru of the N.Y.K. Line, which arrived from the Orient Friday midnight, docked at 8 a.m. yesterday, discharged passengers and cargo, was fumigated, took on passengers and cargo and put to sea at 8 o'clock in the same night.

A fifteen-minute delay in the departure of the Malolo Saturday was caused when it was found that the baggage of Mrs. G. S. Wride, daughter of the postmaster at Newman, had not been taken aboard ship. While the Malolo waited in the stream the baggage was loaded.

Mrs. Lawrence M. Judd, wife of the Governor of Hawaii, is among the Malolo's passengers.

SEATTLE, May 11.—Especially built for the Pacific Coast-European service, the motorship Vancouver City of the Reardon-Smith Line will dock here Tuesday from Vancouver, B. C., where her arrival was celebrated by functions both ashore and aboard ship.

The ship measures 432 feet over all, with a beam of 54 feet and moulded depth of 28.4 feet. She has five holds and her hatches are extra large, for handling northwest cargoes. Her grain capacity totals 580,580 cubic feet, with 525,750 feet of bale. All deck machinery, cargo winches and similar equipment are electrically driven, making handling of cargo easy and rapid.

The ship has loaded grain at Vancouver and will take out a cargo of timber, doors and canned goods from Puget Sound. She is the seventh vessel commissioned out of a building program of eight new carriers for the Reardon-Smith Line to Europe.

PORTLAND (Or.) May 11.—T. S. Dixon, master of the British steamer Bradfyne, a unit of the Reardon-Smith fleet, which arrived in the river here today, said that a "hammering down of rates" and a scarcity of ocean freights have forced owners to send their vessels anywhere to pick up a cargo.

Capt. Dixon said the Bradfyne has been assigned to the Pacific Coast-European service for one trip as an extra. The craft will pick up cargo at six ports on the river as well as from Puget Sound and British Columbia.

TACOMA, May 11.—Although the tonnage movement in and out of the harbor today was light, several ships are booked for arrival tomorrow. The Williams liner Willfaro is coming from New York to take lumber as return cargo and the Oduna will make port from Alaska with copper.

OIL EQUIPMENT RUSH TO HOBBS

Rail Facilities Overtaxed by Flood of Shipments

Much Material Being Moved in by Motor Trucks

Record Drilling Campaign Now Under Way in Field

ARTESIA (N. M.) May 11. (Exclusive)—New Mexico's newest oil-boom town, Hobbs, already has taxed Lea county's only railroad, the Texas and New Mexico line, beyond capacity, and workmen have found it impossible to build sidings rapidly enough to relieve the congestion caused by the daily arrival of rigs and drilling machinery. Consequently much of the rig lumber, casing and pipe has been moved in by truck to speed up the greatest drilling campaign ever seen here.

Thirty-one wells now are drilling in the Hobbs area, in addition to five new tests recently announced, which are principally offsets to wells drilling. Included in the new locations staked are two more for the Humble Oil and Refining Company, known as Bowers No. 6 on Sec. 30, 18-38 and Bowers No. 7 on Sec. 30, 18-38. Other new wells in the Hobbs field are: Midwest Refining Company, State No. 8, on Sec. 4, 19-38, Amerada Petroleum Company, State No. 1-A, on Sec. 32, 18-38 and W. C. McBride's McKinley No. 1 on Sec. 30, 18-38. The Tidal Oil Company, has made location in the Eunice sector, known as Coleman No. 1 on Sec. 17, 21-36.

Only two drilling wells in the Hobbs area have gone through the first zone, these being State No. 1 of the Shell Oil Company on Sec. 32, 18-38 and State No. 1 of the Ohio Oil Company on Sec. 30, 18-38.

Shell's McKinley No. 1 on Sec 19, 18-38, is on top of the first break and has registered an increased flow of gas at 3170 feet. Operators are just as certain, once a number of the wells have been drilled in, that the production of the field will be prorated as they are of striking the producing zone.

Many persons are watching the progress of the State No. 1 of Fisher-Lowree-Penn, on Sec. 11, 18-38, it being the deepest drilling well in Lea county, and now below 4900 feet. So far this well, which may develop an important northwest extension of the Hobbs field, has failed to show anything more than 500,000 feet of gas.

The Lea district has run more than 1,000,000 barrels of oil in the pipe line since the first well was connected several months ago.

Upon completion of this financing the 5% Convertible Gold Debenture Bonds, of which there will be $42,880,000 outstanding, will constitute the Association's sole funded debt. There will be $4,691,500 of bonds, no preferred stock and $777,650 (par value) of minority common stocks of the operating companies outstanding in the hands of the public.

As officially reported, consolidated gross earnings and other income of the Association on an annual basis, and of subsidiary companies, irrespective of dates of acquisition, for the twelve months ended March 31, 1930, were $15,150,706 and consolidated net earnings for interest, depreciation, etc., were $5,608,570 or over 2.39 times annual interest charges of $2,339,126 on the $42,880,000 Bonds of the Association (including this issue) and on $4,691,500 Operating Company Bonds. Net earnings after depreciation amounted to $4,402,495 or 1.88 times annual interest charges. Over 96% of gross earnings as above was derived from electric and gas operations.

The management and supervision of the various operating companies are under the direction of the experienced public utility executives who have been responsible for the successful development of the properties to their present high standards. Attention is called to the fact, as stated in the circular referred to below, that while the Association is affiliated with the Associated Gas and Electric System, through ownership and control of its Common Shares by individuals who are important stockholders and officials of the Associated Gas and Electric Company, the Association is not owned or controlled by the Associated Gas and Electric Company, such ownership or control being impracticable in view of the provisions of Chapter 181, Section 10, of the Massachusetts General Laws, which provide for dissolution of a Massachusetts utility if any foreign corporation which owns or controls a majority of the capital stock of such utility issues securities based upon the property, franchises or stock of such utility.

We recommend these bonds for investment and shall be pleased to send circulars describing the issue in detail.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Caught Short." Marie Dressler and Polly Moran indulge in rooming-house humor with hilarious results.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"All Quiet on the Western Front." A mighty drama of war and its effect. This is one which should not be missed.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood—"Song o' My Heart." John McCormack and his Irish tenor cast their same spell around this gentle, sentimental tale.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"King of Jazz." Paul Whiteman and his orchestra provide a spectacle of color, glamour and excellent entertainment.

Figueroa, Fig. at Santa Barbara—"Sarah and Son." A delicately moulded drama of mother love gives Ruth Chatterton her best opportunity.

Filmarte, 1228 Vine—"The Mystic Mirror." A fantastic tale of magic, ruin and romance, well told by the U.F.A. studio.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"The Love Parade." Satire, music and mythical kingdoms on the style of Lubitsch and Chevalier insure excellent fun.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Boulevard—"Young Eagles." Another romance of the air with Charles Rogers and Jean Arthur.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Golden Calf." A Greenwich Village environment is enlivened with comedy. Laurel and Hardy frolic also.

Mayan, Hill nr. 11th—"Journey's End." A superb translation from stage to screen of a somber and splendid play.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Honey." A rather charming musical love story played by Nancy Carroll and Stanley Smith.

Palace, Broadway bet. 6th and 7th—"Such Men Are Dangerous."

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"The New Adventure of Fu Manchu." Warner Oland steps into his Chinese kimono again as the oriental menace. Like most sequels, it is not as good as the original.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"Honey."

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth — "He Knew Women." A clever transcription of a successful stage play to the screen. With Lowell Sherman.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Ingagi." Gorillas and their pastimes afford thrills and adventure.

Tower, Broadway at Eighth—"Hold Everything." A rough and tumble comedy of the ring, battled by Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th—"The Bad One." Dolores Del Rio in her first talkie is reminiscent of Charmaine. Edmund Lowe is her sparring partner.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"Honey."

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th—"Numbered Men." A melodrama of prison conditions enacted by Conrad Nagel and Bernice Claire.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Courage." Reviewed in today's Times.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado—"Honey."

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at Eleventh—"The Criminal Code." Opens tonight.

Biltmore, Fifth and Grand—"Strictly Dishonorable." A New York success about Bohemian romance, which may or may not prove disappointing. Starring Margaret Perry.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Love 'Em and Leave 'Em." An appealing combination of humor and drama in the life of the working girl. With Isabel Withers.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1733 Vine—"The Gorilla." Reviewed in today's Times.

Majestic, Bdwy. nr. 9th—"The Student Prince." This favorite combination of a mythical kingdom set to music is given an elaborate revival. With Allan Prior.

Mason, Bdwy. nr. 1st. — "Rah Rah Daze." Waring's Pennsylvanians entertain with their well-known music and the book is just fair. Dorothy Lee, Evelyn Nair and others are capable.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Goin' Home." Opens tonight.

President, Bdwy. at 8th. — "The Blue Ghost." Ghosts and spooks at midnight call for strenuous acrobatics by a cast headed by Bernice Elliott.

Vine-street, 1615 Vine—"The Questionable Elaine." Moments of comedy are intermingled with a young girl's quest for a soul. Kay Hammond is the lady.

OUTLOOK AT SIERRA MINE HELD BRIGHT

Ore Outlined on Steam Shovel Property Said to Exceed 20,000,000 Tons

LORDSBURG (N. M.) May 11. (Exclusive)—More than 20,000,000 tons of ore carrying 1 per cent or better in copper are reported outlined within a steam-shovel area in the Sierra mine of the Chino property of Nevada Consolidated Copper Company at Santa Rita. During the slack period there has been continuation of prospecting, largely by drilling. The company's mill at Hurley has been running at only part capacity.

Work has been stopped on the Norman King mine in the Steeple Rock district by A. F. Black of Albuquerque. It is stated that, after the workings had been unwatered, efforts to pick up a faulted vein were unsuccessful. Machinery is being moved from the property.

Sampling on the 600-foot level of the Bonney property of the Pacific Copper Company, across eleven feet of vein matter, is reported to have returned 8.6 per cent copper, $4 gold and five ounces silver. Ore has been found for a length of 360 feet. Shipments are being made at about three carloads a day.

Forty-two tons from the 400 level of the Miser's Chest mines gave return of $4339, with values in copper, gold and silver. W. H. Harrison is in charge of operation.

New Mexico Puts Up Rate on Oil Land Rentals

ARTESIA (N. M.) May 11. (Exclusive)—Land Commissioner A. D. Crile of Santa Fe has announced that the minimum rentals on State lands in the restricted oil areas of Lea county, including the Hobbs field, will be raised from 50 cents to $10 per acre, beginning May 15. The minimum rates, the Land Commissioner said, have ranged from 25 cents an acre up to $10, the 25-cent rentals represent a revision downward from the peak rentals in fields where there is no good geology or where dry holes have been drilled.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROF. R. GUERRERO

Encargado de la Sección Española de Este Diario

No sería difícil, siguiendo esta misma idea, nos dice más adelante Salvá, explicar por qué las proposiciones negativas universales van al subjuntivo, y convertidas en afirmativas piden por fuerza el indicativo. Parece al pronto que, "No puede discurrirse miseria humana que no haya recopilado Voltaire en su 'Cándido'"; "No hay mal que sobre mí no caiga", significan lo mismo que "Voltaire ha recopilado en su 'Cándido' todas las miserias que pueden discurrirse"; "Todos los males caen sobre mí". Sin embargo, bien examinadas estas sentencias, se advierte que encierran duda las de negación; tanto que pueden resolverse por una pregunta, conservando siempre el futuro de subjuntivo: "¿Qué mal hay que sobre mí no caiga?" mientras en calidad de positivas no envuelven ninguna especie de incertidumbre: "Todos los males caen sobre mí".

En esta delicada materia deben notarse hasta las menores pequeñeces, y la observación nos da a conocer que, sin embargo de no poderse atinar fácilmente el motivo, unas partículas piden el futuro de subjuntivo en las mismas frases en que otras el presente de indicativo. "Como SEA cierto", decimos, "que la verdad ARRASTRE al convencimiento"; y, "Por cuanto ES cierto que la verdad ARRASTRA al convencimiento"; "Se lo preguntaré cuando le VEA"; y, "Se lo preguntaré si le VEO"; "Ha convenido en capitular, con tal que, o, como no le LLEGUEN socorros dentro de cinco días"; y, "Ha convenido en capitular si no le LLEGAN socorros dentro de cinco días".

No negaré, por fin, sigue diciendo el señor Salvá, que en ciertas locuciones es permitido emplear cualquiera de los dos tiempos antedichos; v. g., "No lo recuerdo porque quiero, o, quiera mortificarle"; "No lo han prohibido las leyes, porque entorpece, o, entorpezca los progresos de la agricultura"; "Como pocos desconocen, o, desconozcan la utilidad de la maquinaria"; "Envíame una minuta de lo que consta, o, conste por los libros de ese archivo, cuya copia no se halla, o, no se halle en el de la casa de ayuntamiento". En otras es indiferente usar este futuro o el de indicativo: "Creo que no tarde, o, tardará en venir"; "Temo que le llegue, o, llegará la noticia antes de estar prevenido"; aunque con lo segundo manifestamos un recelo más positivo con que el "llegue". Pero esto no impide que nos pongamos muy alerta al leer los autores que, como Jovellanos y Martínez de la Rosa, son tan propensos al futuro de subjuntivo, que lo emplean usurpando, a mi modo de ver, los oficios propios del presente o de algún otro tiempo del indicativo. De estos dos escritores pudieran citarse muchos pasajes parecidos a éstos. De las obras de Jovellanos, pág. 149 del tomo primero: "De aquí se sigue que los gremios sean (SON) un estorbo para el aumento de la población"; y de las de Martínez de la Rosa, pág. 104 del tomo segundo: "Uno de los mejores trágicos que hoy posea (POSEE) esa nación". Lo cual prueba que todavía no se han fijado con perfecta claridad los verdaderos límites de este tiempo; y aunque yo lo he intentado, no dejaré por eso de recomendar a los jóvenes que procuren adquirir aquel tino que se forma con la lectura de los buenos modelos, única guía que puede conducirlos al acierto.

Termina el relato que hemos estado comentando con la visita de Daniel a la casa de su amiga, para regalar a ésta el ramo de claveles y rosas que le compró. Al llegar a la casa, frente a la cual se hallaba una carroza fúnebre (hearse) automóvil, se enteró con dolor de que la señora de la Rueda había fallecido repentinamente la noche anterior. No tardó en ver bajar por la escalera el féretro de su amiga.

Cuando muere una persona, lo primero que hacen los deudos es dar aviso del triste suceso a todas sus relaciones, invitándolas a los funerales. Tal aviso se da por medio de esquelas, que son cartas circulares sin firmar, orladas de negro, y redactadas de modo especial. Llámanse también esquelas de defunción, o mortuorias. A veces no hay reparto de esquelas, sino que en los diarios de la localidad manda insertar la familia del muerto un anuncio, llamado igualmente esquela, y redactado como ésta.

De todos esos pormenores, así como de los funerales propiamente dichos, se encargan establecimientos especiales llamados "empresas de pompas fúnebres" (undertaking firms), "empresas funerarias", o simplemente, "funerarias".

En España, las exequias religiosas comienzan con algunas ceremonias rituales en la casa del difunto, que luego es conducido a la iglesia en procesión, si bien suele suprimirse éste en las ciudades populosas por motivos de sanidad, y para no estorbar a cada momento el tráfico con los frecuentes entierros. Al frente de la procesión va siempre la cruz. Al llegar a la iglesia, entra en ésta toda la comitiva. En el templo se celebra el imponente oficio de difuntos, que consta de diversos cantos y oraciones. Camino del cementerio siguen los cantos litúrgicos, que terminan con el que se entona al echar tierra a la fosa: "Ego sum resurrectio et vita".

Cuando la sepultura no estuviere bendita, por no estarlo el cementerio en su conjunto, el sacerdote oficiante la bendice, la rocía con agua bendita y la inciensa. Terminada la ceremonia, los dolientes salen del cementerio, y se disuelve la comitiva.

Sunnyside and Dewey Mines to Boost Output

An aggressive development campaign has been planned in the Sunnyside and Dewey mines, including the erection of a first mill unit capable of handling 150 tons daily, by the American Gold Corporation, Ltd., which recently acquired the properties, according to J. S. Tremayne, general manager. Units will then be added as development warrants.

Mill ore blocked out has been reported to be in excess of 400,000 tons by Robert A. Davis, Jr., mine operator of Nampa, Idaho. Churn-drilling has revealed the existence of a vast tonnage of commercial ore adjoining the main ore body which is a blanket formation, twenty-five feet in thickness.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Olivine

LOS ANGELES, April 23.—Question: I am a reader of The Times, and interested in your column—In the Earth—each Monday. Please give me qualitative analysis of Sample No. 1, and what it could be used for? Would it answer for fluxing copper ores. Does it contain any gold? What metals does No. 2 contain, and what is the character of the rock? Thank you and The Times for your courtesy.
E. A. W.

Answer: But one sample was received. It will be a pleasure to analyze a duplicate specimen for you. The sample is basalt rock (orthosilicate of iron and magnesium,) and it does not carry any of the gemstone known as peridot. It contains no free gold, and probably would not answer for fluxing copper ores.

Not Bentonite

LOMPOC, April 23. — Q.: I am sending you herewith a sample of earth taken from a large deposit of such material near Stockton, Cal. We believe that it contains considerable aluminum. Kindly make a general analysis, and classification of this sample, and state its commercial value, if any.
R.

A.: No quantitative analyses made for this department of The Times. The sample reacts as a fair grade hydrous aluminum and magnesium silicate. Such mineral occurs so plentifully in California and elsewhere that the supply greatly exceeds the demand. Mineral represented by the specimen is of problematical value.

Not Brucite

MONROVIA, April 24. — Q.: In separate container am sending sample found near Benton Sta., Cal. Have been told that it is a valuable metal and that brucite is found in similar formations. Would appreciate a general analysis. Thanking you, etc.
HERBERT R.

A.: Qualitative analyses only: The sample is lime carbonate. Brucite is not a metal. It is hydrous magnesite and soluble in acids without effervescence. It occurs in serpentine.

Calcite

LOS ANGELES, April 24. — Q.: Under separate cover I am sending you sample No. W.M.O. and ask that you advise me just what it is, whether spar, gypsum or borax. Will look for report through In the Earth column.
O.

A.: Chemically, the sample is lime carbonate—crystallized. It is not the high-grade and high-priced transparent variety known as Iceland spar. Mineral on the order of the sample is used for laboratory work in universities and colleges, and has a low value for specimens, etc.

Flake Platinum Absent

BANNING, April 25. — Q.: Am inclosing a sample of black sand and expect that it carries platinum. From two prospectors.
P. and M.

A.: The two samples show hematite, titaniferous iron, and mica-like titaniferous iron. Rather doubtful platinum-bearing sand.

Two Specimens

ROMOLAND, April 26.—Q.: I am sending two samples from Riverside county. Kindly inform me through In the Earth column if they carry ore of any value. Thanking you kindly.
U.

A.: One of the samples is iron-magnesium shale, and the other one reacts for more or less iron and manganese. Cinnabar absent.

Two Samples

LANCASTER, April 26.—Q.: Could you kindly give me through your column, an analysis of the two samples inclosed? No. 1 is from a vein and cropping in granite. No. 2 appears on top of the ground in outcrops and is found all over this section. Both were found in decomposed granite about twenty miles east of Lancaster, Cal.
G.

A.: No. 1 is blackish hornblende rock. No. 2 carries grit, lime carbonate, silica, and traces of bitter sodium-magnesium sulphates. Both samples probably represent rather doubtful commercial values.

Too Many Samples

BRENTWOOD HEIGHTS, April 27.—Q.: Specimens come from near Springdale, Nev. Please analyze them, especially for rare minerals. A prospector has sent them to me to have The Times analyze and report thereon.
B.

A.: Five specimens at one time is the limit. Sample No. 1 reacts for iron and manganese; sulphur anhydride present. No. 2 shows a bare trace of microscopic cinnabar. No. 3 is a chip of opaline silica. No. 4 carries a microscopical stain of cinnabar. Nos. 5 and 6 are altered feldspathic rocks containing hematite, some lime carbonate, and zinc in low percentage. No. 7 is a mixture of hematite and lime carbonate. No. 8 is altered conglomerate rock; lime carbonate and clay present. All represent doubtful commercial values.

Chiefly Calcite

PARKER (Ariz.) April 28.—Q.: I am sending you a sample of rocks. Please analyze the yellow minerals for tungstite, molybdenite, cadmium, or any other mineral of value. Locality—San Bernardino county. Thanking you in advance. Sincerely yours.
H.

A.: Uranium is absent, and also all of the minerals named by you. The yellow specimens when dropped into water show streaks of limonite.

CITY NEWS—EDITORIAL—SOCIETY—THE DRAMA

ABOUT THESE WATER BONDS

Los Angeles voters on the 20th inst.—a week from tomorrow—will go to the polls to act upon one of the most important civic issues to confront this community for a decade—the $38,800,000 water bond proposition.

Between this time and the special bond election The Times will present as briefly and as definitely as possible all the pertinent information concerning this projected means for financing the needed expansion of the city's water supply system.

It is assumed that every intelligent citizen of Los Angeles will approve the issuance of these bonds if satisfied that the money to be derived from them is actually required for the community's security and development and will impose no undue or disproportionate burden thereon.

This newspaper has made a thorough and independent investigation of all aspects of the situation and has arrived at a conclusion in the matter which it feels should be made fully apparent to its readers.

The Times believes that a crisis in the affairs of the community exists and that this problem can be recognized calmly and solved on its merits without recourse to alarmist methods, exaggerated and extravagant statements and misleading propaganda.

The proposed water bonds are not entangled with any question of partisan, sectional or personal politics. They present solely a question of economics. Either the city of Los Angeles needs the betterments which the bonds will provide; or it does not need them.

If the need is present, the bonds should receive the two-thirds majority vote necessary to their approval. If there is no need it would be folly and extravagance to vote them. There is no other issue, problem or contention involved in this situation.

The support which the proposed $38,800,000 issue has received from men, women and organizations representing the best and most substantial elements of the community is in itself a recommendation to those who have no personal opportunity to learn the facts, but it is imperative to the success of the proposition that the electorate as a whole be well informed.

Opposition to the bonds has developed here and there, some of it sincere and unselfish, and part of it misguided or directed by those placing personal or local interests above the general welfare.

A misconception exists here and there as to the manner of repayment of the bond money. Sale of water will accomplish this result. There will be a profit, not a loss, to the taxpaying population of Los Angeles if the bonds are voted.

ACTIVE OPPOSITION, HOWEVER, WHETHER FROM HONEST MOTIVES OR FROM THE MOST SELFISH CONSIDERATIONS, DOES NOT CONSTITUTE HALF THE MENACE TO THE SUCCESS OF THIS GREAT COMMUNITY SAFEGUARD, OR THREATEN CIVIC PROGRESS AND GROWTH IN ANY SUCH DEGREE AS INDIFFERENCE AND APATHY ON THE PART OF THE CITY'S VOTING POPULATION.

When all the merits and demerits of the proposal have been fully canvassed it is for the voters to decide. And in order that that decision may be determined by realities and not by conjecture or inference based on wrong or partial information, The Times will present the case, earnestly urging its readers to give the matter thoughtful consideration.

CITY WATER NEEDS SHOWN

Citizens' Committee Tells What Records Disclose; Limit of Present Supply Declared Reached

That Los Angeles faces the threat of a water shortage that must be remedied without delay is the conviction expressed by members of the Citizen's Water Committee following a close study of the water records in the engineering offices of the City Water Bureau.

Acting on the suggestion of Chief Engineer Van Norman of the Water Bureau, members of the committee, organized to investigate and help solve the city water problem, recently made the study.

Headed by Chairman Joseph Scott and including representatives of business, the banks, women's organizations, home owners' groups, union organizations and taxpayers generally, the committee reviewed the water supply figures submitted for scrutiny by Chief Engineer Van Norman. Their conclusion, as voiced in a statement being released today, is expressed in the terse declaration:

LIMIT REACHED

"Los Angeles has reached the limit of its present water supply. If we hope to maintain and increase the values of our homes and our business investments—if we hope to insure the security of our jobs and to create more jobs—we must provide more water for our city."

In submitting the Los Angeles water situation as it exists today, Van Norman pointed to the following facts:

(1.) The amount of water that can be developed locally in Los Angeles is sufficient to meet the needs of not more than 300,000 persons.

(2.) Only by bringing in water

Tomorrow Set for Straw Hats to Oust Felts

It is almost here! With the dawn of tomorrow, Straw Hat Day will have come again to Los Angeles. Good-by then to the felts that have served so well.

The new straws are Panamas, Milans, leghorns or sailors, though if one is to be deeply in style he will choose two varieties, the sailor-shaped hat being this year's style for evening wear only.

AUTOMOTIVE SCHOOL COSMOPOLITAN BODY

Six States are represented among the newly elected executive committee members of the National Electric and Automotive School's student body, who will take office Wednesday noon. Nello Tonelli of Los Angeles is president-elect. The school has an enrollment of 500 students from South America, Hawaiian Islands, the Orient and the United States.

MOTHER'S DAY OBSERVED WITH SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Mother's Day was observed by special services in practically every church here yesterday. Two outstanding programs were conducted as tributes to the mothers of the nation.

Dr. Frederick Warde delivered the day's address at special services in the afternoon by the Elks' Lodge at Elks' Temple. Exalted Ruler Frank S. Hutton opened the impressive ceremony that was marked by organ music by Sibley G. Pease and vocal selections by Frank E. Geiger.

Esteemed Lecturing Knight J. D. Thomas was chairman of the local program, similar to those conducted throughout the land by the 1600 lodges of Elkdom.

In answer to a call made by P. H. O'Neil, diocesan Holy Name president, nearly 100,000 Catholic men and boys were estimated to have attended a special mass in each parish church yesterday to receive Holy Communion. Breakfast meetings in the churches at which mothers were guests also were conducted as part of the Catholic observance.

LEWIS TRIAL OPENING SET FOR TODAY

Prosecution Ready and ex-Julian Executive Will Act as Own Attorney

S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, here under guard from the Federal prison at McNeil Island where he must serve a seven-year sentence on a mail-fraud conviction, will go to trial before Superior Judge Wilson on a bribery charge today.

Yesterday Dist-Atty. Fitts announced the prosecution ready and Lewis, from his cell in the County Jail, declared himself as prepared to fight his case in open court.

Lewis, according to his announcement, will act as his own attorney in the case, which is expected to last about ten days. Dep. Dist.-Attys. Costello and Jones will appear for the prosecution.

The court action which is to begin today had its inception more than a month ago when J. H. Weaver and others told of a bribery plot connected with the first Julian trial jury in 1928. In various confessions obtained by the authorities it was charged that, through Weaver, Lewis attempted to bribe Mrs. Caroline Love, a member of the jury. The amount involved was $10,000.

According to the story told by Mrs. Love and Weaver, the money never reached the woman juror, but was given by Lewis to Weaver, who instead of delivering it to Mrs. Love began to spend it himself.

Lewis, who was committed to the Federal prison shortly after he was indicted on the State charge, and who was returned to this city by order of the Attorney-General for trial on the bribery indictment, yesterday denied the entire affair and said he will be able to disprove the charge in court.

Tomorrow, with the Lewis trial under way in Judge Wilson's court, the Julian usury conspiracy cases are scheduled for trial before Superior Judge Aggeler. The cases will be prosecuted by Special Prosecutor Frank Stafford and probably will be tried without a jury.

TESTIMONY BY CHAPLIN EXPECTED

Comedian Scheduled to Take Stand Today in Case Against Bantappa Raw

With Charles Chaplin, film comedian, expected to be the first witness, the State will resume the statement of its case against Bantappa Raw, self-styled "swami," accused of obtaining $4600 from Mrs. Adele Banks Allerhand, said to be a descendant of Aaron Burr, this morning in Municipal Judge Turney's court.

Chaplin, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Holland, has not yet been served with a subpoena, but with a statement by Judge Turney that he will issue a warrant for the arrest of the film comedian if the latter evades service of the subpoena issued last week, Chaplin is expected to appear in court this morning. Mary Pickford and Gloria Swanson, film actresses, already havetestified against Raw, who, according to Mrs. Allerhand, obtained the money from her by representing himself as a close friend of the screen celebrities. Both declared they had never heard of Raw until they read his name in the newspapers in connection with the case.

Fifty Traffic Signals Ordered

On recommendation of the Finance Committee, the City Council has authorized execution of a contract with the Acme Traffic Signal Company for the purchase and installation of signals at fifty intersections at $1950 per intersection.

A request by the Tarzan Garden Club that one of the seeds from the famous "Friendship Tree" in Philadelphia, several of which were donated to the Park Department by a historic society recently, be planted in the recently acquired Reseda Park has been granted by the Park Commission.

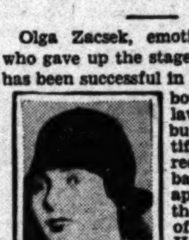
PORTIA WINS WAGE FIGHT AS ACTRESS

Woman Who Left Stage to Study Law Backed by Court in Pay Action

Olga Zacsek, emotional actress who gave up the stage to study law, has been successful in her first court bout, not as a lawyer, however, but as the plaintiff in a suit to recover $450 back pay for her appearance in the leading role of the play, "The Hotel Imperial."



OLGA ZACSEK

When the production, given at the Egan Theater last summer, was ended, Sydney Sprague, the producer, owed the actress $450. She brought a suit and was given a judgment for the amount in the Municipal Court. Unable to collect the judgment, Miss Zacsek attached property of Sprague in Hollywood. However, the end was not yet, for Mrs. Sprague brought a counter-action to quiet title, asserting the property belonged to her and not to her husband, therefore was not subject to the attachment.

Miss Zacsek, at the trial of the case several weeks ago before Superior Judge Gould, asserted that Sprague had transferred the property to his wife to avoid payment of any claims against him.

Judge Gould has just handed down his decision after having it under submission in which he holds that the attachment must stand until Miss Zacsek is paid her $450.

CONCERT TO HONOR COUPLE

At the golden wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brady, 2645 Kenwood avenue, more than 150 friends and relatives will gather at the Knickerbocker Hotel today where a concert has been arranged in their honor. One of the vocal artists will be Irma Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brady. The Bradys were married in Evansville, Ind., where Mr. Brady conducted a wholesale grocery. He retired ten years ago and the family came to Los Angeles.

Luther E. Young, 34 years of age, 3912 Revere street, was almost instantly killed while driving on Foothill Boulevard near the Big Tujunga bridge, when he was forced from the road by a motorist and his car overturned. His wife, Laura, 32, suffered a fractured pelvis while Mrs. Hilda McBride, 64, 3177 Atwater street, suffered a broken wrist and scalp injuries. Mrs. Anna Hadley, 28, at the same Atwater-street address, suffered a broken right shoulder.

James Kerr, 17, 1621½ East Nineteenth street, Long Beach, died at Seaside Hospital last night as the result of a traffic smash in the afternoon at Walnut avenue and Burnett street, Signal Hill. He was riding a motorcycle. Cyrus McNew, 16, 1633 Dawson avenue, riding with him suffered a broken leg.

OFFICERS IN CRASH

Raymond Mosqueda, 26, of 915 Mission Road, was killed when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into the curb at the corner of Mission Road and North Main street and turned over against a telephone pole. Another Mexican occupant of the car, identified only as Estrade, received severe internal injuries, which physicians at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where the group were taken, said will probably cause his death.

Other occupants of the car were Jerencio Guitirrez, 25 years of age, 1077 Grace street, Watts, skull fracture; Jesus Clemente, 30, 517 Gallardo street, cuts and bruises; Epignenio Alvaco, 31, 725 North Spring street, possible skull fracture, and P. Clemente, 901 Mission Road, uninjured.

WOMAN FATALLY HURT

As the result of a collision between the automobile her husband, George Harper, was driving, and a county machine in which Deputy Sheriffs Keenan and Atkins were taking two robbery suspects to the County Jail, Mrs. Bertha Harper, 40, of 858 Fairfield Circle, Pasadena, died at the Hawthorne Hospital

DEFERRED FIESTA KEPT BY MEXICAN RESIDENTS

A five-day delay in the celebration of Cino de Mayo by Mexican residents of Los Angeles served only to increase the enthusiasm of the celebrants, judging by the throngs yesterday at Lincoln Park, where the affair was held.

The festival, held annually on May 5, commemorates the Mexican victory in the Battle of Pueblo, an event equal in importance to Independence Day as seen by Americans. Elaborate preparations had been made for the observance on Monday, the 5th inst., but rain interfered, causing a postponement until yesterday.

A costume pageant in which several hundred Mexican girls and boys participated, arrayed in colorful native dress, featured the afternoon program and in the evening prizes were awarded for the most picturesque of the lot. Dancing and music completed the day's festivities.

TRAIL LOCATORS' TOUR SUCCEEDS

Auto Club Road-Breakers at Home Victorious

Five Thousand-Mile Journey Proves Feasibility

Highway to Bring Nations of America Closer

After nearly two months of road trail blazing by automobile in Mexico, three cars and three members of the Automobile Club of Southern California scouting expedition returned to Los Angeles yesterday.

C. E. McStay, field secretary of the club; Bert E. Sandham, radio operator, and Bob Deason, technician, drove the cars into the club's garage at Figueroa and Adams streets shortly after noon, following the final drive from Blythe.

They brought back with them enthusiastic reports of the reception accorded the plans for the proposed Pacific International Highway through Mexico along the west coast. Mexican governors of the various States and the Mexican Federal government are elated over the road proposal and are doing everything they can to carry out their part of the project, that ultimately is expected to link by highway Fairbanks, Alaska, with Santiago, Chile.

ANCIENT CRAFT

With them the three men brought pottery that came from a Toltec burial ground near Acambaro, Guanajuato, believed to be about 1500 years old. The pottery, little idols, food bowls and a vase, are splendid specimens of the art of the ancient race, inhabitants of Mexico before the Aztec civilization.

In some of the bowls, McStay said, chicken bones remained, revealing the Toltec custom of burying food with the dead. One of the idols had retained its red coloring of ancient dye. The specimens will be submitted today to experts for accurate identification, but McStay declared that there is no doubt the objects are from the Toltec era.

Since leaving here on March 15, last, the five cars of the scouting party traversed and explored country that never before had been conquered by automobile. The party, headed by E. E. East, the club's chief engineer, split in Mexico City, East, Philip Townsend Hanna and D. C. Rhodes driving west to Acapulco, where they boarded a steamer and are en route here by water now with two of the cars, while the trio who arrived home yesterday struck out northward from Mexico City and drove back through Laredo, Tex.

END OF TRAIL

Puebla, 160 miles south of Mexico City, was the most southerly point reached on the expedition. The object of the tour was to map out the best course for a western highway that when complete will extend 15,000 miles and link eighteen countries of the Americas.

The United States government has set aside $25,000 for a road from Fairbanks to the Canadian northern boundary. Canada will scout a course this summer for a highway that will connect with the Alaskan road.

On its trail-blazing southward trek the five cars reached Mexico City on April 25, last, by way of Mexicali, Los Mochis, Guila, Culiacan, Tepic and Guadalajara. The mappers drove two of their cars into the barrancas of Jalisco, negotiating grades as steep as 40 per cent and at times were forced to tie ropes to the machines to prevent them from falling over precipices. The traversed a route where the best roads were nothing more than Aztec or Indian trails.

ALL CARS RETURN

The round trip of the three cars that returned here totaled approximately 5000 miles. The cars, all light four-cylinder cruisers, were fitted out especially for the adventure. Two of them were used as supply cars for the others, the party having been forced to carry fuel for the motors while penetrating the wild country of the south.

One of the cars carried a complete short-wave radio sending set, over which Harry Carr's dispatches of the party's progress and descriptions of the country were sent to The Times.

The three men who returned were tanned from the tropical sun they had experienced and the automobiles bore marks that testified to the hard going to which they were subjected. The homeward trip, however, did not result in much difficulty, McStay reported, as the route followed the highway most of the distance that connects Mexico City with Laredo.

ROAD TO BE BUILT

McStay said he is convinced that construction of a western highway is feasible and it will open up some of the most beautiful country in the world. Such a highway, it was pointed out by the mappers, would not only become a commercial boon for Mexico and Central and South American countries but would represent a link for goodwill politically and socially in the Americas.

The party was elated over the successful automobile pioneering, as some doubt was held at first that

by Harry Carr

I NEVER visit an Indian tribe that I am not impressed with the fact that its hope is in its women. The same is true of Mexico, which is Indian at heart and turning back to its Indian heritage more every year.

Mexican women from peon to aristocrat are smart, prodigiously industrious, enduring and fired by hope.

BARRED WINDOWS

The Spanish conquistadores came to Mexico straight from a country that had only just been released from the domination of oriental people. They brought with them a good many of the superstitions and standards of the purdah. The windows of every Mexican house are still barred.

This attitude toward women more or less obtains after all these centuries. A Mexican wife yields to the king of the household as a matter of course. If her heart sorrows she keeps it to herself.

"AWFUL BOSSY"

There have been, however, many marriages between American boys and lovely Mexican girls. One such husband told me ruefully: "When they marry an American, my gosh, but they get awful bossy."

The Mexican women are eager for a new day. Don't tell me that these peon women carry five-gallon cans of water on their heads half a mile from the river because they like it.

DRUDGES

At the present time, the life of a Mexican woman of the lower class is unremitting toil. A kind of cooking that involves grinding corn on a stone metate and the making of cakes patted by hand until they are as thin as paper is no cinch. You hear much of the lazy Mexican. The truth is the woman works from sun to sun. She washes ordinarily every day. She is as clean as she has the resources to be; and wash day is every day. She pats the clothes on the rocks at the edge of the river; then she wades in and takes her own bath.

GIRLS SEEK EDUCATION

People who ought to know tell me that 90 per cent of the children in Mexican schools are girls. A great many of them speak English. They impress you as being smart and quick and observing. And very charming. As a gesture, they still maintain the old ideas of the duenna who hovers around, but the Mexican girl today walks by herself and talks with males without embarrassment. And those hot, liquid chocolate cream eyes are taking in a great deal.

Quinn to Take Office Today as Supervisor

John R. Quinn, appointed by Gov. Young to succeed R. F. McClellan as Supervisor for the Fourth District, will take office today. With the new Supervisor inducted into office the first order of business will be the election of a chairman of the board.

Both Sidney T. Graves and Henry W. Wright are said to be in a receptive mood for the office, and according to report last night Graves will get the necessary votes. Mr. McClellan was chairman of the board for many years.

WEED TAX EXEMPTION ASKED

Fred W. Hughes has taken time by the forelock and notified the City Council that he has cleaned his lot of weeds, and therefore does not wish to be assessed for any lot cleaning tax. The Council referred the matter to the City Engineer whose lot-cleaning crews soon will be on the prowl.

Burglar Suspect Forces Way Into House

Woman Felled Defending Mate From Attack

Police Make Capture After Neighborhood Chase

Three citizens of the Wilshire district and two police officers took active part in a spectacular man hunt yesterday morning which ended in the capture of Chester C. Lamb, 23 years of age, of 1727½ North Wilcox avenue on suspicion of burglary.

The trouble began when Mr. and Mrs. H. Detrick in their home at 739 South Normandie avenue were confronted by a man who forced his way in the house after ringing the doorbell. Detrick dashed for the telephone and had just succeeded in getting a connection through to the Wilshire police station when the man ran out of a bedroom, realized his predicament and threatened to kill Detrick if he did not hang up the telephone receiver. Fearing that her husband would be shot, Mrs. Detrick bravely grasped at the intruder's hands and was brutally knocked to the floor.

Detrick, having called the police, leaped to his wife's assistance and battled with the intruder. The latter attempted to reach an exit but each time Detrick succeeded in preventing his escape, though he was unable to hold the suspect or disarm him. By this time Officers Barr and Bateman arrived. The man ran up a stairway to the second floor and threatened to shoot the officers if they came after him, but when the latter, undeterred, started in pursuit, he jumped out of a window and landed on a lawn outside.

For the next five minutes the officers and Detrick searched the immediate vicinity for the suspect and had almost given up when T. B. North ran around the corner of his home at 701 South Irolo street and shouted that a man was trying to break into his home.

Barr and Bateman circled the dwelling and found Lamb, they said, crouched in the rear. In the scuffle to take him into custody, a bone in Barr's right hand was broken.

FINANCIER'S RITES TODAY

Funeral services for Nathaniel W. Hamilton, Pasadena financier, who died Friday, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the Turner and Stevens chapel in Pasadena. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Mausoleum. Mr. Hamilton formerly was president of the California Mausoleum Company. His company built several of the largest mausoleums in this section.

PILOT LETS PLANE GLIDE HALF HOUR

Dead-Motor Exhibition Shows Aviation Something New in Safety Flying

Thirty minutes after W. Merle Nelson, pilot for the aviation division of the Texas Company, shut off the motor on his glider-like Aeromarine-Klemm monoplane yesterday afternoon over Santa Monica he landed at Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport, fourteen air miles away.

Nelson took the light ship aloft to demonstrate the ease with which a pilot can travel long distances in case the motor stops. He was 9500 feet high when he started the glide and remained above the airport for several minutes before landing, losing altitude slowly with the plane under control at all times.

O. C. LeBoutillier went aloft in another ship as official observer of the dead-motor demonstration.

Reasons for Judge Bishop's Double Honor

Superior Judge Bishop is to be honored for two reasons at a dinner given tonight at the Alexandria by "alumni" of the County Counsel's office. One of the reasons is that today is the judge's birthday anniversary and the other is his launching his campaign for re-election to the Superior Court bench.

Judge Bishop entered the office of the County Counsel as a deputy in 1915. In 1918 he took leave to serve with the Y.M.C.A. in France. He returned to the County Counsel's office in 1919, was promoted to chief deputy and then to assistant. In 1923 he was appointed by the Board of Supervisors as County Counsel, in which capacity he served until 1926, when he was appointed by Gov. Richardson judge of the Superior Court. He was elected to the office in 1926.

ART COURSE ANNOUNCED

A summer course in American art will open at the University of Southern California on June 16, next. Sculpture and mural decoration in America also will be studied. Art structure in painting, architecture, lettering, costume, crafts, and home life will be covered in another summer-school class.

WELCOME TO ARTILLERY

At the monthly meeting of the Army-Navy-Marine Corps Association at the City Club next Friday evening Mayor Porter will deliver an address welcoming the Sixty-third Coast Artillery to Los Angeles. Lieut.-Col. C. W. Waller, commander of the newly arrived Coast Artillery regiment at Fort MacArthur, will respond to the Mayor's address.

HEALTH CLASSES TO OPEN SOON

WRONG

Girls Correct Physical Faults
Miss Leona Clare and Miss Dorthy Garden of the Young Women's Christian Association gymnasium staff show proper and improper postures.

THE summer term of the health department of the Young Woman's Christian Association will begin Thursday with an extensive program featuring swimming, diving and life-saving. In addition classes will be formed for tennis, golf and horseback riding instruction.

A combined course of individual instruction in exercise, dancing, games and swimming will be given for those wishing to reduce, gain, keep fit or to overcome physical handicaps, under the personal supervision of Ella Stevers, head of the health department.

The summer health program has been arranged so that individuals may select morning, afternoon and evening classes which are most convenient to them and are open to all ages during the summer term.

FOUR PERSONS DIE IN TRAFFIC

The crash occurred late Saturday night at Western avenue and Ballona street in Hawthorne. Mr. Harper was not seriously injured, it was stated. The deputies and their prisoners were only slightly hurt.

The deputies assert that they were traveling with red lights showing and the siren sounding when Harper drove his machine into theirs at the intersection. The suspects they had in custody are Paul Helmick, 21 years of age, of Orange, and Cassius Dugle, 24, of Moneta. Both were booked at the County Jail on suspicion of highway robbery, and are suspected of numerous recent robberies in the county.

TRAIN HITS MAN

Mrs. Louise Howard, 59, of 219 East Fifty-fourth street, was probably fatally injured, and five other persons less seriously hurt in a collision between two automobiles at Angelus Mesa Drive and West Jefferson street. Mrs. Howard was given emergency treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for possible internal injuries and a broken leg and arm. She was in a car driven by her husband, F. R. Howard.

The other machine, according to police, was driven by Albert W. Porter of 3014 Eighth avenue. With Porter were Mildred Arthur, 24; Irene Graham, 28, and Minnie Barsughi, 24, all of 3445½ Eleventh avenue. All were given treatment at the Receiving Hospital for cuts and bruises. Mrs. Howard later was transferred to the Arcelus Hospital.

Struck by a Redondo-Hawthorne Pacific Electric train at Hawthorne Boulevard and Carolina street, A. L. Murphy, 112 Parkway avenue, Hawthorne, received injuries which are expected to cause his death. He drove his car directly on the tracks in front of the oncoming train, Motorman L. Marshall told officers. His skull was fractured, his lungs crushed and punctured and he suffered other internal injuries.

A desert whirlwind at Bagdad, ninety-five miles east of Barstow, caused two machines to collide and burst into flame yesterday. Will Murchisen, 412 West Vernon street, sustained a fractured jaw and injuries that may cause his death while his companion, Joe Fletcher, 1320 East Twentieth street, Long Beach, sustained slight injuries. Murchison is in the Mojave Valley Hospital.

AUTO UPSET IN HIT-AND-RUN CRASH

SANTA MONICA, May 11. (Exclusive)—Colliding with another car last night at Fourteenth street and Pico Boulevard, an auto driven by J. Manzana of this city, was overturned. Manzana and his daughter, Marie, 6 years of age, were hurled to the pavement, but were only dazed. They were taken to their home by another motorist. The hit-and-run operator of the other car is being sought.

MOTHER RAN HOUSE

Isaac Newton Mayfield insisted that his mother run his household rather than his wife, Mrs. May Mayfield, according to the latter, who appeared before Superior Judge Lambert and was granted a divorce. "He even gave his pay check to his mother to run our household on," the wife testified. "When I objected he told he that I would have to mind his mother or get out." They married September 6, 1927, and separated March 7, last.

Hans Andersen Birthday to be Observed Here

Stories and songs of Hans Christian Andersen, the creator of celebrated fairy tales, will be sung and recounted at the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of his birth by the Danish societies of Southern California at Patriotic Hall Wednesday night. The program has been arranged under the auspices of the Danish Central Committee and Aid Society.

The principal address will be delivered by Ryan Grut, Danish Vice-Consul in Los Angeles. The address of welcome will be delivered by Theodore Pedersen, president of the Danish Society. Included on the program will be singers and speakers well known in Danish circles in the State. The program is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

'In Dutch' With 'Dutch Courage

Taking a "bracer" after a spree to enable him to go to court for arraignment on liquor charges proved disastrous to William B. Murphy, according to an affidavit which his attorney, George Damon, filed with Municipal Judge Curtis in seeking to set aside a bail forfeiture.

Murphy, according to the affidavit, took more than one "bracer," with the result that he became drunk and was unable to appear in court. Damon asked Judge Curtis to set aside forfeiture of his client's $1000 bond, ordered when he was not present for arraignment.

Judge Curtis, declaring the showing was not legal grounds for exonorating the bail forfeiture, refused to set it aside. Murphy then pleaded guilty to the liquor charge and was fined $1000 and sent to jail for 120 days. He admitted two prior convictions.

REALTY BROKER DEAD

TUJUNGA, May 11.—Funeral services took place during the week for Roscoe W. Tonkel of 202 Jardine street, with interment in Forest Lawn, Glendale. Tonkel was 38 years of age. He was a real estate broker and had resided in California for sixteen years. His former home was Fort Wayne, Ind. Mrs. Bertha Tonkel, his widow, survives.

TOWN CLOCK REFUSED

The City Council has denied the request of the Women's Relief Corps for the erection of a town clock on the civic building in West Los Angeles at a cost of $1300.

MURDER OF POLICEMAN DUE TO RAGE

Drunk Driver Suspect Who Slew Officer Brindley Has Brief Police Record

Enraged because he had been dragged out of his automobile is the only reason, apparently, why John Reyna of 236 East One Hundred and Seventh street shot and killed Officer Verne A. Brindley, 28 years of age, late Saturday night. This was indicated yesterday when detectives learned that Reyna is not wanted for any crime and had been arrested only once before, on a charge of drunkeness.

Details of the shooting were given yesterday in the report of Officer L. E. Williams, who was shot in the knee by Reyna after Brindley was slain.

Williams and Brindley, members of the vice squad, were returning to Central Police Station with two colored women taken into custody on a morals charge. The stool pigeon or "operative" the officers had used was sitting in the back seat of the police car with the women, Williams said, when at Adams street and Central avenue, Reyna backed his car toward them and nearly caused a wreck. Williams said he and Brindley suspected Reyna of being in an intoxicated condition and ordered him out of his car.

When he refused they dragged him out, Williams said, handcuffed him to the stool pigeon and placed him in the rear seat with the two women. Then Brindley climbed in the back and sat partly on the lap of the stool pigeon and partly on the lap of one of the women. Williams drove and another member of the vice squad rode in the front seat with him. Just after the machine started away Reyna snatched the revolver from the holster at Brindley's belt, and shot him dead.

In the scuffle to disarm Reyna, Williams got a bullet in the knee. He is now at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Reyna is held on a charge of murder and assault to commit murder.

the cars could actually traverse the route as planned.

Everywhere the party was enthusiastically welcomed by the Mexicans, McStay stated. One celebration after another was accorded the men and cars that arrived in towns where many of the natives had never seen an automobile.

Suspect Stays in Jail After Second Arrest

James I. Hayhurst was arrested twice yesterday and the second time he stayed in jail.

Early in the day he was taken to Georgia-street police station on a charge of drunk. He sobered up, placed bail and left.

Then it was discovered that a warrant charging him with grand theft bunco, and issued February 5, last, had not been served. Detective Lieutenants Appledorn and McCreadie called at his home, 1421 North Normandie avenue, and placed him under arrest. Michael J. Marcus, 29 years of age, also wanted, was picked up with him.

It is asserted by the police that Hayhurst advertised in newspapers that he had business ventures to sell. It is charged that he would rent furniture and simulate great activity in an office. After the sale the furniture people would come for the furniture and the new owner would call on the police.

Junior Groups of Church Plan Summer Camps

Plans for leasing a summer camp site near Idyllwild to be used for conference purposes by Christian Endeavor groups were announced yesterday at the close of a two-day executive conference. A committee of five was appointed to meet with other leaders of the movement and work out the details.

The final session of the meeting was held at the Evangelical Church, Twelfth and Hope streets. The State convention will be held at Sacramento, June 25 to 29 and an attendance of 4000 or more is anticipated.

Lawrence Downen of Visalia, State chief executive of the organization, presided at the business sessions.

CASILLAS ALIMONY CASE SET FOR TODAY

Fortino Casillas, Belvedere rancher, whose wife is said to have shot him in the leg when he went to discuss alimony with her, will appear in court today to discuss alimony with Superior Judge Guerin. Meanwhile Mrs. Casillas, mother of seven children, is facing a charge of assault to murder.

ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED FOR CONVENTION WOMEN

Los Angeles society leaders comprising a reception committee headed by Mrs. John D. Fredericks will unite in providing special entertainment for women accompanying delegates to the National Foreign Trade Convention here next week.

The program, as announced yesterday by J. A. H. Kerr, executive chairman in charge of local arrangements for the convention, begins Wednesday morning, the 21st inst., with a visit to the Breakfast Club. During the forenoon the visiting women will be escorted to the Paramount studio to see a Movietone picture in the making and later will be luncheon guests of the studio management. Wednesday night they will be expected at an informal dinner at the Biltmore, provided as a convention feature.

Thursday is to be occupied by a motor trip through the San Gabriel Valley, culminating in a visit to the famous Huntington Library and Art Gallery. The program Friday includes a drive through the Santa Monica Bay district with tea at the Bel-Air estate of Mrs. Alphonse E. Bell. Visiting delegates and the women visitors will be the guests of the Los Angeles Steamship Company Saturday on an all-day trip to the channel islands aboard the liner Los Angeles, with a reception and dance on the ship that night.

TAX DELINQUENT ROLLS INCREASE

Fiscal Year's Figures Set at 5.87 Per Cent

Total of $123,103,786.60 Paid to County

Those Holding Back Dues Will be Penalized

Final figures of county tax collections for the fiscal year of 1929-1930, as compiled by the office of Tax Collector Welch, reveal $123,103,786.60 paid in of the $130,780,061.07 to be collected, leaving a delinquency of $7,676,274.47.

The delinquency is 5.87 per cent of the total tax as compared to 4.29 per cent in delinquencies for 1928-1929 collections.

Taxpayers who failed to pay their taxes on or before April 28, last, comprise the delinquency list, which is to be published June 8, next. Notices of delinquencies will be sent those whose addresses are known, though this procedure is not required by law, it was stated.

All taxes which appear on the delinquent roll will be subject to a penalty of 5 per cent as well as a cost charge of 50 cents for each parcel taxed. Beginning on June 9 the Tax Collector's office will receive payments of delinquent taxes until June 30, when the property on which taxes are still due reverts to the State and makes necessary its redemption through the County Auditor.

Air Line Opens Night Service

Travel between the orange groves of Southern California and the snow-capped mountains of Puget Sound between midnight and noon is now possible through inauguration of night airplane passenger service out of Los Angeles by Pacific Air Transport, Boeing System. Passengers leaving United Airport at Burbank at 11:45 p.m. reach San Francisco at 4 a.m., Portland, Or., at 9:30 a.m. and Tacoma and Seattle at noon. South-bound passengers from the north reach United Airport, which is the Boeing base for Southern California, at 5 p.m.

The new schedule is the first midnight airplane passenger service out of Southern California, although Boeing System has flown on other divisions 4,500,000 miles at night with mail and passengers.

FIREMAN'S WIFE SAYS HE AIMED HOSE ON HER

Just because Thomas Edward Burton was a fireman is no reason why he should turn the hose on his wife, Superior Judge Desmond decided after hearing the evidence in their divorce case. Besides throwing water on her, Mrs. Burton testified, her husband threatened her with a knife, abused her, and made her go to work when she was ill. She was represented in court by Attorney Joseph A. Ball.

Census Data Compiled Automatically

Martha Anderson and J. P. Kiely, Demonstrators

All the detailed information that some 1600 United States census officials have been collecting from the 2,500,000 or so persons in Los Angeles county during the last month and a half soon will be lost among the stacks upon stacks of such documents that 100,000 enumerators working among the 123,000,000 persons in the United States are sending to Washington, D. C. There the names of John Doe and Mrs. Ribbington Von De Smythe-Jones who were so finicky about giving the information to the lowly enumerator will disappear into the anonymity of mere numbers and all the information they gave will be just so many holes in a card of some color or other.

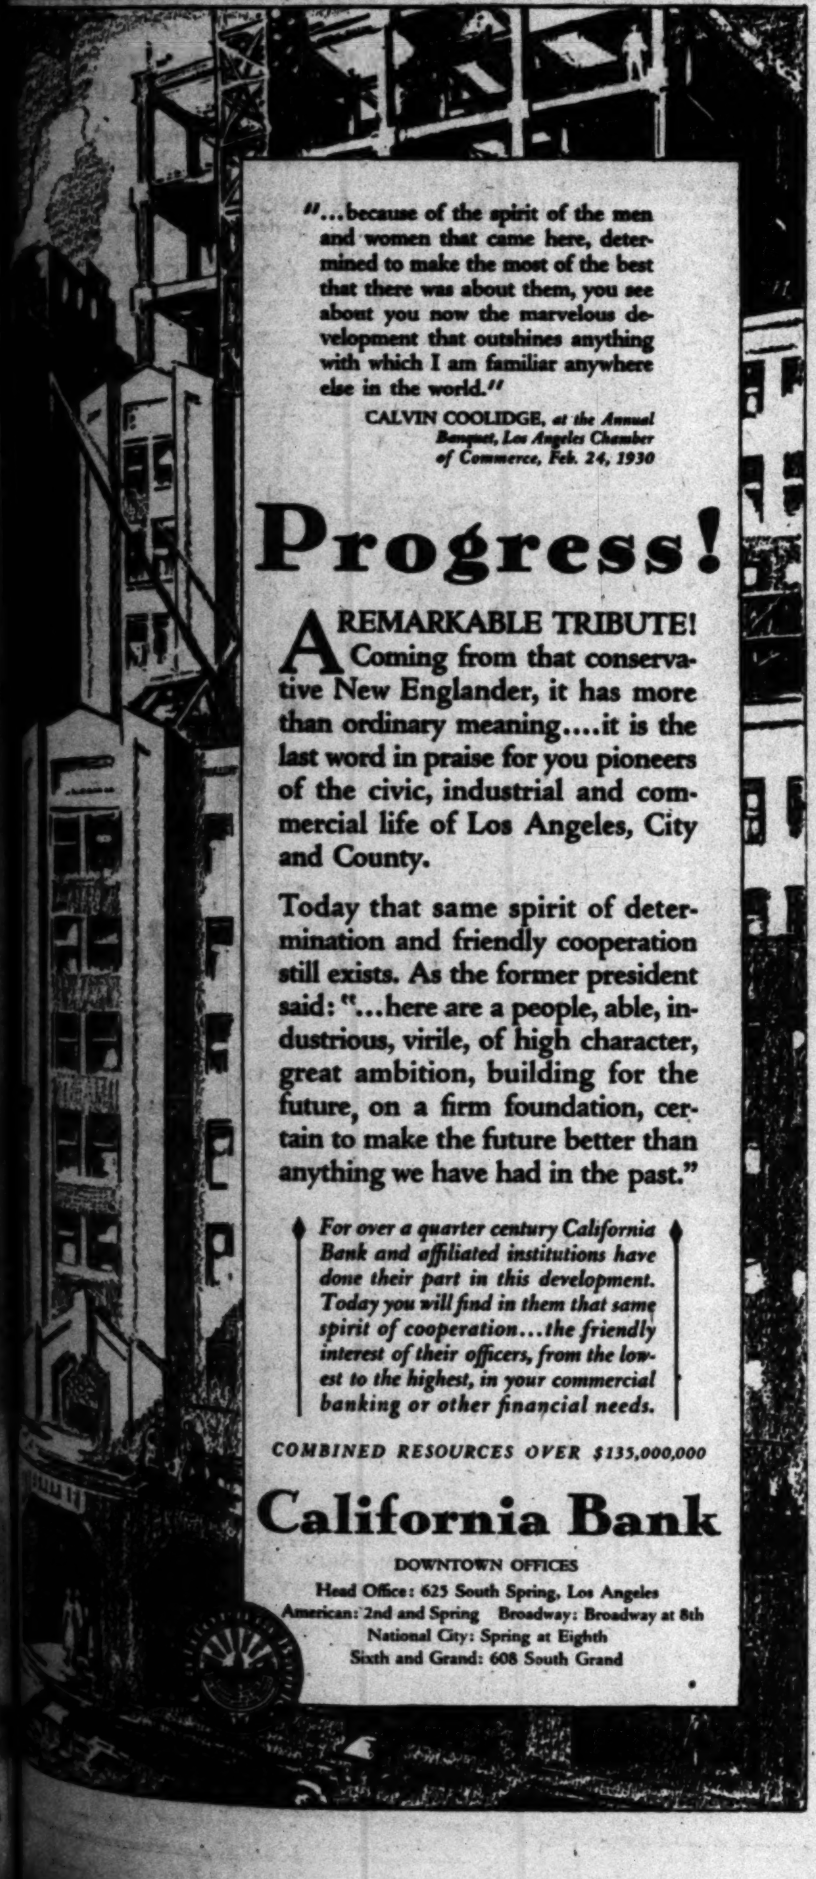
According to Alvin Snyder, formerly in the census offices in Washington and now with Census Supervisor Munson in Los Angeles, it would be physically impossible to carry out the mammoth census program of the whole country were it not for the intricate machinery used to register, sort and tabulate the information after it has been received. If the work were to be done by hand, he said, it would take an impossible army of clerks years and years to do it.

And there is where J. P. Kiely of 131 East Sixth street comes in. He is one of the salesmen for just such machines as are used in the census work. They are not used here, to be sure, for census work. But they do the same sort of registering, sorting and tabulation of business facts and figures necessary to run a modern commercial institution. In fact, these machines, now put out by International Business Machines Corporation, are built mostly under the patents procured in the first place by Herman Hollerith, a census bureau worker, who devised crude machines to help make use of census data long ago.

The machines are in use in scores of city, county and State offices, in business houses and manufactories. They are marvels of ingenuity and mechanisms. In the registering of census data one machine is used to punch holes in a numbered card that stands for the Mrs. Smythe-Jones. The holes are punched according to a code and by the time an operator is through with the card it looks like a sieve—but the holes in the card tell Number So-and-So's history from A to Z, according to the answers to the enumerators' questions. Then come the sorting machines, into which the cards are run.

With remarkable precision the cards by groups, farmers, doctors and whatnot. Also they assemble sorting machines assemble the aliens, citizens and criss and cross until an enormous mass of data is at hand to tell how many persons there are in Los Angeles, how many are doctors, how many speak Spanish as a native language, how many are unemployed and all that information.

Business houses use the machines to keep a line on what comes in and what goes out and all about it in between times.



"...because of the spirit of the men and women that came here, determined to make the most of the best that there was about them, you see about you now the marvelous development that outshines anything with which I am familiar anywhere else in the world."

Progress!

A REMARKABLE TRIBUTE! Coming from that conservative New Englander, it has more than ordinary meaning....it is the last word in praise for you pioneers of the civic, industrial and commercial life of Los Angeles, City and County.

Today that same spirit of determination and friendly cooperation still exists. As the former president said: "...here are a people, able, industrious, virile, of high character, great ambition, building for the future, on a firm foundation, certain to make the future better than anything we have had in the past."

For over a quarter century California Bank and affiliated institutions have done their part in this development. Today you will find in them that same spirit of cooperation...the friendly interest of their officers, from the lowest to the highest, in your commercial banking or other financial needs.

INTERCOUNTY ROADS DESIRED

Amendments Planned for Breed Act

Santa Rosa Assemblyman Outlines Need

Joint Highway Committee Prepares Report

Hope that the joint highway district law, known as the Breed Act, can be so strengthened or amended that several counties can join with State aid in the construction of intercounty highways that will form feeders for State highways or links for new ones was expressed yesterday by Assemblyman Frank Luttrell of Santa Rosa, chairman of the Legislative Joint Highway District Committee, who left Los Angeles after a visit of several days in connection with his committee work.

"At present," he said, "some question has arisen on the bonds for these highways, seriously delaying the work. One great advantage of the joint highway, wherein counties unite in building a road, either a feeder to a State highway, or for the flow of heavy intercounty traffic, will be that the counties will cease their efforts to foist numerous county roads on the State highway system."

Mr. Luttrell declared that the joint highways meet a great need in the northern part of the State and several already have been started in the south, notably the Maricopa-Ventura connection, the loop road in the Mt. San Jacinto region, through San Gorgonio Pass from Riverside.

"The joint highway is the equitable solution of the situation when traffic originating in one or more counties makes heavy use of the roads of another country, without paying the bill, such as upon roads leading to mountain resorts or to the seashore," Mr. Luttrell said. "The committee will file its report with the Governor by October 30, next, and we hope to have devised amendments whereby greater use can be made of the joint highway district acts."

TWENTY AIR TRANSPORTS PURCHASED

Continental Will Expend $360,000 for New Craft, President Announces

Purchase of twenty air transports at a total of $360,000 by the Continental Air Express for use in passenger and express service over the company's feeder routes was announced yesterday by its president, H. H. Pursell. Sunbeam planes, built to carry four passengers, 450 pounds of express and pilot, are under production at the Commercial Aircraft Corporation, Ltd., factory at the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport and will be delivered as each is completed, according to A. B. Green, general manager. "The commercial plant," it was announced, "is operating with a force of thirty-five men. The first group of three planes under construction will represent a cost of $54,000 when fully equipped, and includes the engines, which are Wright Whirlwind J-6, nine-cylinder, 300-horsepower. The Commercial Sunbeam is capable of 145 miles an hour at open throttle and has a cruising speed of 115 miles."

FUR-FARM PROMOTER RETURNED

O. C. Ike Brought From Detroit to Face Charge of Securities Fraud

Suspected of having obtained several thousands of dollars through promotion of a scheme to establish a rabbit farm for fur without permission of the State Corporation Commission to sell stock, O. Clayton Ike was returned here yesterday from Detroit by Deputy Sheriff Fox. He was placed in the County Jail on a charge of violating the Corporate Securities Act.

The organization said to have been promoted by Ike and two other associates was known, Fox said, as the West Coast Co-operative Fur Industries. Ike was arrested in Detroit on information furnished by the local Sheriff's office.

Polish Beauty Billed to Wear Jewelers' Gems

Countess Janina Smolinska, "Miss Poland," winner of all the beauty contests of recent years in Europe, has come to Los Angeles to participate in the "Pageant of Jewels" to be held at the Biltmore during the tri-State convention of jewelers tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday which will be produced under the supervision of Peggy Hamilton.

In the glittering pageant of beautiful society and cinema women in rich gowns with jewelry valued at more than $3,500,000, Countess Smolinska will appear as "The Song of the Flame," personifying the ruby and depicting as humanly as possible the life and fire of this precious gem. The Countess, who was the premier danseuse of the Folies Bergere, danced "The Song of the Flame" for the Parisians and created a sensation.

Countess Smolinska will wear diamond earrings, a diamond lavallier and a diamond ring—all matched pieces valued at $120,000—during the presentation of her dance. Her mother, the Countess Vanda Rutkovska, gave her daughter an ancestral shield of rubies estimated to be worth $50,000.

Today's Bible Text

But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ.—Eph. 1:3.

WANT

A new book called "What Women Want" is just off the press. It might well be the price list of a mail-order house.

HEADLIGHT

A shiny nose is the badge of youth—it shows an excess of oil which age lacks, is an expert's remark. Will the grandmothers use unguents instead of face powder? We wot not.

HORNETS

Chicago needs no defense. Its gangsters are but hornets on the flanks of a lion, says Ambassador Dawes. The British lion, maybe—but why bring that up?

TIPPING THEM OFF

The way the police announce their crime-wave drives in advance is like hunting mule-tail deer in the Lassen country with brass bands snorting, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

PLANE TALK

France now has 1300 first-line war planes; Italy, 1100; the United States, 900; Great Britain, 700. Not sinking Noah's arks, but a parity of planes, might employ the next conference.

SLAVES

At a March meeting of the League of Nations it was reported that 6,000,000 human beings are yet held as chattel slaves in the world. This may be another reason why Russia barred "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

IT IS DONE

The Baltimore school board that can't find a law permitting the clocks to be set ahead one hour for daylight saving time should send a committee to watch the sergeants-at-arms during a closing session of Congress.

THE SAFETY VALVE

Bolshevist, lately from America, has built a railway linking Siberia with Turkestan. If more of these Red propagandists would go back home and harness up their energies to something worth while, both this country and Russia would be better off.

AMERICAN TRAITS

A Britisher, traveling in this country, writes back to his home folks that Americans have two supreme virtues: Honesty and kindliness. He says we hide nothing, not even our vices. He also confesses that we have the royal conception of hospitality. The glad-hand of the Chamber of Congress must have held his hand.

TO BE LET ALONE!

When asked by a reporter what his political ambitions for the future are, Mr. Coolidge replied rather tartly, "To be let alone!"

He is weary of being the target of all eyes. He has had enough of prying and photographers. He is surfeited with publicity and wants privacy. He is tired of being a goldfish in a bowl. He wants a chance to be human.

Mr. Coolidge craves time to relax. When he was President, he could not awake when he wanted to; there was always a room full of restless job-hunters waiting to ask for the postoffice at Podunk. He could not go downtown to the corner drug store to buy a morning paper without having a flock of secret service men tagging along behind. Consider always being watched!

He could not go anywhere without having a mob following to salvage his leavings. If he signed a document, his fountain pen was snatched from his hand by a souvenir seeker.

He could not eat when and what he wanted—some high-priced chef chose his meals. He could not choose the road and speed—a chauffeur or committee did that. The only thing he could choose was not to run! He could not travel by rail without having all the switches spiked down ahead of his special—no detours for him.

Matters have improved but little for him today. His is the heavy responsibility of being the only living ex-President.

CLOSED-SHOP CONTRACTS

A lot of perfervid oratory was loosed in the Senate, during the course of the discussion of Judge Parker's nomination, about antiunion closed-shop contracts and those great minds, Senators Norris, Blaine and Walsh (of Montana) took advantage of the opportunity to bring into the Judiciary Committee the perennial anti-injunction bill, containing, this time, a clause declaring such contracts null and void. Such a declaration, dispassionately examined, is readily seen to be class legislation of the kind which the courts have time after time ruled out as against public policy. Either these Senators and Senator Borah, who has advocated similar legislation, are half-blind in a very curious way, or they are deliberately sponsoring a bill which they know to be invalid and are trying to sell the American Federation of Labor a gold brick.

Either the bill will have to outlaw all kinds of closed-shop contracts or none—and the reaction of union labor to the outlawing of the union closed-shop contract can readily be imagined. It is arguable that all closed-shop contracts ought to be done away with—an action that would establish the open shop by law and forbid discrimination in favor of or against any man on account of union membership or the lack of it. But it is not arguable that contracts which forbid a man to join a union can be ruled out while contracts which require a man to join one are upheld and sanctioned.

At present the Supreme Court upholds both kinds and expressly declares them legal. That it will continue to do so unless Congress outlaws both kinds is hardly open to question.

In the Hitchman case the majority opinion—and Justices Brandeis, Holmes and Clark did not dissent from this view, but differed on another point—of the court said:

> The same liberty which enables men to form unions, and through the unions to enter into agreements with employers willing to agree, entitles other men to remain independent of the union, and other employers to agree with them to employ no man who owes any allegiance or obligation to the union. In the latter case, as in the former, the parties are entitled to be protected by the law in the enjoyment of the benefits of any lawful agreement they may make. This court repeatedly has held that the employer is as free to make nonmembership in a union a condition of employment, as the working man is free to join the union, and that this is a part of the constitutional rights of personal liberty and private contract. NOT TO BE TAKEN AWAY EVEN BY LEGISLATION, unless through some PROPER EXERCISE OF THE PARAMOUNT POLICE POWER.

The limiting word "proper" in the last phrase clearly indicates that the court could not hold valid any such legislation as is now proposed, without stultifying itself. The court has held repeatedly, and without exception, that the police power must be exercised reasonably and not arbitrarily. No more unreasonable exercise of such power—which is, briefly, the power to provide for the general welfare and has nothing to do with policemen—could be imagined than that of attempting to give the American Federation of Labor a monopoly of employment and permit it to dictate who should be allowed to work and who must subsist, if at all, on charity.

It is plain that the 42,000,000 workers who do not belong to the American Federation of Labor are entitled to the "equal protection of the laws" which the Fourteenth Amendment guarantees to every citizen and that neither Congress nor any State could take away this protection and give the right to work solely to the 3,000,000 unionites.

Senators Blaine, Norris, Walsh and Borah, and their ilk, are imagining a vain thing. If they could persuade Congress to pass any such foolish statute as this they propose, it would not stand five minutes after it had been brought into court. If these Senators do not read the Constitution and the Supreme Court decisions, at least they should remember the fundamental rule of all legislation, that "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

CALORIES AND CEREBRATION

"One oyster cracker or one-half of a salted peanut," says a specialist, "is enough food to provide the extra calories needed for an hour of intense mental effort." Effort to produce what? Did Shakespeare write any one of the scenes in "Hamlet" on one-half of a peanut? When one thinks of the prodigious quantities of roast beef and venison the people of his time used to consume at a sitting one hardly can fancy the Bard of Avon contenting himself with a handful of peanuts as food for mental effort to produce even one page of his manuscript. Half a peanut! How far would it have gone toward the creation of the character of Benedick, "the valiant trencherman" in "Much Ado About Nothing," or of stout Jack Falstaff?

Keats is credited with having written his famous sonnet, "On First Looking Into Chapman's Homer," in an hour. One doubts whether half a peanut would have provided sufficient mental pabulum for a single line of that poem.

Byron could dash off several stanzas of such verse as is found in "Childe Harold" in an hour or less, but one fancies that it would require many bags of peanuts to frame up so sturdy a character as the hero of that long-winded lyric.

Come to think of it, a great deal of the mental effort used in the production of popular songs and in the composition of jazz "music" must be of the order that requires only an oyster cracker or half a peanut for its writer's hourly sustenance. Perhaps it was mental products of that kind that our scientist friend had in mind when he limited the necessary provision to such a minute particle as half a peanut per hour.

DEHORNING MOTOR CARS

New York City is struggling with the auto-horn problem. There is a substantial civic group there that is for abolishing this noise creater altogether, as has been done lately in Finland, to the delight of lovers of quiet. But Police Commissioner Whalen is toning down the most raucous of these foes to sensitive auditory nerves and seems willing to let it go at that.

Numerous tests of horns are being made under Mr. Whalen's direction and many car owners have had to change ear-splitters for instruments of a quieter sort. A fixed standard will be adopted and no tooting that is at noisy variance with it will be allowed.

When Abbe Ernest Dimnet, the French writer and lecturer, was here last year he expressed great annoyance with our "terrible motor horns." In his "Art of Thinking," a book widely read in this country, he recommends the abolition of the horn and says that if no car was equipped with one there would be fewer accidents, as drivers would have to exercise more care. There are motorists who depend upon their horns to clear the crossing and road hogs are continually abusing the horn button.

Our motorists and legislators will await with interest the outcome of the experiment of hornless Finland. We now have a law in California against unnecessary tooting and if more arrests were made under it our streets would be quieter. Let our constabulary enforce this law and there will be no need of following the drastic course adopted by Finland.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

THE arrest of a Hindu crystal gazer for hoaxing a woman client may be all right from a legal standpoint. But what could Hollywood do without a lot of mystics to hoax it?

It is doubtful whether any other community in the world, civilized or uncivilized, ever supported such a proportion of mystics as does Hollywood. The members of the film colony talk a lot about how busy they are. But perhaps the main reason why many of them are hard to catch is that so much of their time is taken up by interviews with mystics.

One of our most famous film stars naively told us that before choosing a name he had consulted a numerologist and picked out a name with "the proper number of harmonious vibrations."

And a noted actress tells us that she was assured by a numerologist that she needed an additional "a" in her name.

At last we may have the explanation of some of the funny names of picture folk!

Everybody Visits 'Em

"I've been in pictures long enough to know everybody of prominence," an actress told us yesterday, "and I don't know anybody who doesn't go to a mystic now and then. I don't have the habit, as so many of them have it. Why, until the other day, I hadn't been to a mystic for at least six months! And I wouldn't have gone then, but Mary Pickford had just told me about a new one—a young girl mystic. Of course we know, most of us, that there's a lot of hokum about it. We just go to mystics as some folks go to shows—for entertainment. We've got plenty of money, and it's worth $3 to have one of those clever people make you feel good and fill you with confidence.

OH, MAW GOOSE PIMPLES

"There's usually an outer room, and an inner shrine, usually with incense burning before it. There are crystal balls—I think the glass factory out in Burbank makes them now and ships them out to the trade in crates of six. And there are some well-thumbed cards.

Your Hand Always Unusual

"After the preliminary rites, the seer takes your hand—and then the thrill begins. You can see that the hand impresses him, or her. Then you are let into the secret—there is no other hand quite like yours! Yours is a very unusual and distinctive hand. You begin to feel separated from the common herd at once.

"And your intuition is correct. Further revelations show that you have very remarkable powers—perhaps not developed—and qualities. For one thing, your palm reveals the croix mystique, which shows that you have occult gifts (perhaps undeveloped.) Your potentialities for business and for winning success also are unusual.

Always Go Incog

"No casting director in Hollywood knows film faces better than these mystics do, and few of us know film biographies as they do. Of course we film folks always go to them incog. We think we're entirely unrecognized—and so, of course, it's marvelous what they tell us about our past lives. We cannot but be convinced that if they can read so much of our past they must be right about our future.

"Honestly, when I give a mystic $3 it's $2.95 for entertainment and only a nickel for faith. Yet every time I feel blue—and success doesn't keep me from often feeling terribly depressed—I go to a mystic just to be assured what a wonder I am and how certain the future is to bring me some great blessing. But I never pay more than $3. As soon as any mystic begins to hint big money to me I cut him off my list completely."

ALLA BAZAM MYSTIC ANYWAY IT'S MORE FUN!

Catalina

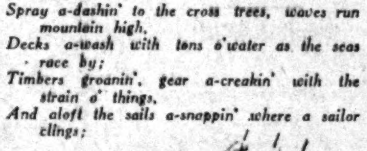
This is the ultimate, the gleaming pearl
Of western seas, bright Avalon, the isle
Whose lacquered waves as white as marble tile
Lap at the turquoise bay in languid whirl.
The glassy boats ride fast in giddy swirl
Where the sea garden's radiant bubbles glow,
Where orchid fish rush goggling to and fro
And coral trees and fragile sea flowers curl.

Bright sequined mermaids melt into the foam
In rainbow prism of fern and fronded dome.
Scarfs of ruffled seaweed lightly drift
About the tinted aquamarine wells
With hoards of rosy pink and silver shells
Each carved and fluted as a lover's gift.

FRANCES ELLIOTT, Long Beach.

Dawn

Wind a-howling through the riggin'; night as black as tar;
Eyes a-strainin' in the darkness for a friendly star.
Spray a-dashin' to the cross trees, waves run mountain high,
Decks a-wash with tons o'water as the seas race by;
Timbers groanin', gear a-creakin' with the strain o' things,
And aloft the sails a-snappin' where a sailor clings;



Mate a-yellin' out his orders to a strainin' crew—
Bang! Great guns! The mains'l's busted, an' it close reefed, too,
Night o' roarin' terror an' a-wishin' it were gone—
Then—rift o' clouds—a fadin' star—a smash o' foam; an'—Dawn.

HERBERT E. HOUSE, Pasadena.

LONGINGS

By James J. Montague

I'd like to have a cottage,
A trim and tidy cottage,
In some green nook
Beside a brook
That murmured to the trees;
Where butterflies were winging
And orioles were singing
And far and near I'd always hear
The drone of honey bees.

The yard I'd like grown over
With red and white-topped clover,
While vines were spread
All overhead,
Affording shady bowers
With roses red as torches
To climb about the porches,
And here and there
A gay parterre
Of quaint old-fashioned flowers.

But if I were the owner,
The calm, contented owner,
Of such a place
Whose peace and grace
Was never far to seek,
As much as I might love it
I know I'd weary of it
And could not bear
To live out there
As long as half a week.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

ARLISS ON THE TALKIES

[Providence (R. I.) Bulletin]

George Arliss says about the most encouraging thing yet concerning the fate of the legitimate theater—flesh and blood drama, which everybody professes to love and comparatively few go to see.

Sound pictures will not, in his estimation, be the death of real plays for the very good reason that the pictures must present plays, chiefly, which have withstood the audience test. Legitimate drama, in other words.

Mr. Arliss speaks from forty years' experience. He knows that the ultimate judge—and nine times out of ten the best judge—of a play is the audience. He knows, too, what subtle influence the watchers out front exercise upon actors. Stimulate them, depress them, correct them. The same immediacy makes oratory more convincing than the written word. Look at the Congressional Record!

An audience brings about changes in the structure and mood of the play itself. That is why so many shows are "made on the road." The play doctor—not the anxious gentlemen counting the house from some point of vantage—but the play doctor sits among the crowd with finger of one hand on its pulse, finger of the other on the play's. He prescribes accordingly.

Among the accepted mysteries which the cynics have not yet succeeded in destroying is the one that no producer, no matter how experienced, can truthfully predict a play's fate. Which is one of the reasons that make a first-night, or better yet, a second-night audience, such a respected institution in their eyes. Well, you begin to see how necessary an audience is in the formative period of a play's life.

Obviously a mere talkie, conceived and produced in the studio, can never be thus tried by fire. The critical test comes too late. Far better to draw upon Mr. Arliss's "classics." A list of successful sound pictures bears out his statements. And by the same token, Shakespeare will eventually take his rightful place in the talkies. We have Mr. Arliss's word for that, too.

IF THE SENATE PLEASES

[Kansas City Star]

Moved to the usual pitch of indigation at injustice in high places, Senator Brookhart of Iowa referred to Representative Tilson of Connecticut as "the water boy of this Wall street committee which calls itself the Republican National Committee." The Senator from Iowa was reminded by the Vice-President that a Senate rule prohibited remarks reflecting upon members of the House. This seems to be an entirely proper regulation, which does not often need to be applied. But would it be in order for the Senate to consider a rule that would prevent a member of that body from making remarks that would reflect upon himself?

RESOURCEFUL SMITH

[Christian Science Monitor]

"Where there's a will there's a way," was demonstrated by Capt. Charles K. Smith, the Australian who flew from the United States to Australia in 1928. Recently a trimotored plane made a forced landing in a forest clearing. It seemed the plane could be moved only by being dismantled. Capt. Smith tied the plane's tail to a tree and set the engines going full speed. When the machine lifted from the ground a farmer cut the rope and the plane flashed away, barely rising above the treetops.

CHOOSING YOUR CAREER

VIII

(Telegraph, Telephone, Cable)

BY CLARENCE H. MACKAY

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

[Clarence H. Mackay is chairman of the board of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company and a director of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company. He has been an executive in the communications field since he was a young man.]

You should be a high-grade specialist as an engineer, laboratory worker, or traffic expert, or what Owen D. Young has called a generalist, if you choose communications as a career.

As a specialist you will need technical ability and considerable training, the latter generally including a college course. As a generalist, with a broad knowledge of the problems of the business and the vision to anticipate and meet them, you will need a background of education which will equip you to get on with and to manage people.

Because the art of communications knows no bounds is cosmopolitan — communications men, to get to the van in the future, should be cosmopolitans, with the ability to speak several languages and having a thorough knowledge of world affairs.

American prosperity, as I see it, depends on the sale of surplus products. While some of these will continue to go to Europe, the Far East and the South are our great fields and we have to continue to hold our own in both places. In international communications, if you are to do any specializing, it should be in the languages. You will find a knowledge of Spanish especially helpful. Likewise you should know economic conditions and the habits and customs of people in other lands.

You can begin your career in the communications field at a salary of from $1500 to $2000 a year if you are qualified by training and education to enter one of the specialist departments. From there you can change to other work, once you have mastered your own, and in time become a generalist with a broad knowledge of the business as a whole.

In these days of gigantic enterprise, ability of high order is needed to manage affairs, and this ability you may develop only by hard work and intensive training, plus a faculty for absorbing the lessons of experience. Remember this when you start work in communications and keep it constantly in mind.

The telegraph communications field presents splendid opportunities today for women as well as for men. More than 50 per cent of our own employees are women. We take special pains in training them. Promotion is rapid for the capable ones. They can become office managers and gain other executive posts if they have ability.

Perhaps communications men get the larger share of the romance the art affords today. A radio station is being built in Peru, a cable repaired in the stormy seas of the North Atlantic, new telephone lines laid down the river Nile, automatic telephone systems being installed in China and vast new projects are constantly being undertaken on our own continent. Such operations as far-flung as these furnish opportunity for those of you who can qualify.

If you are able and ambitious the corporations in the communications field will meet you more than halfway. It is to their own interest to help the capable. The policy of our company always has been to fill vacancies at the top by moving employees up.

Personnel executives make a tour of the leading colleges of the country every year to find those of you who show indications of promise. Of the thousands interviewed those with outstanding records in scholastic and student activities get the call.

Some become telegraph and telephone engineers, helping to build new lines and maintain the present ones. Others go into the laboratories to develop improvements for the communications art. Still others become radio and cable experts.

While such men are specialists in one sense, in the broader sense they possess the fundamental characteristics of generalists. They come to realize the vast importance of co-ordinated international communications and are gifted with the ability to make their vision a practicality.

You have a rich field to cultivate in communications. As never before, American ideas and ideals are being exported and foreign ideas and ideals are being imported from all sections of the world over the vast networks of co-ordinated cable, radio and land lines which reach practically every part of the civilized globe.

Without doubt, the business of providing facilities for this valuable international trade in ideas, which communications offers, is one of the most important, as our civilization is constructed today.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Appears Inconsistent

HOLLYWOOD, May 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In the May 5th issue of your paper Lee Shippey, writing of National Hearing Week and the Hard of Hearing, remarks that these people do not like the talkies, and that after he has told of their fine ability to read the lips! Why the inconsistency? We supposed the talkies to be just another fine opportunity for them to lip-read!

I know some stone-deaf people who are expert lip readers—born so—and who are, therefore, able to enjoy the talkies thoroughly.

The hard of hearing, as a class, have lately given a great deal of publicity to their dislike of the talkies, which, frankly, is an admission of their inability to lip-read as well as they would have people think. It is not their fault; it is simply a power beyond most of us who are deaf.

I cannot hear a sound, but I am able to enjoy and understand all of the good talkie shows, simply through the combined art of observation, analysis, reasoning and comparison. To an educated deaf person it is a great opportunity to develop latent observational powers—and that, with or without lip reading.

Would Legalize Hearsay

SAN BERNARDINO, May 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] From an editorial in your paper of the 5th of May, we are told that some Chicago Crime Commission is endeavoring to rid that city "of its twenty-eight biggest gangsters, racketeers and beer and vice barons."

Why not enact a law which makes it a misdemeanor, or even a felony, for anyone knowingly and without proper effort to the contrary to have in the community in which he lives the general reputation of being a "gangster," a "racketeer," or other similarly offensive person, in that community.

In that way, upon hearsay evidence only, all of the objectionable characters you mentioned could be placed behind the bars, to the best interest of the social welfare for which they have no consideration.

U. S. BATEMAN.

No Hay Dinero

LOS ANGELES, May 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As Harry Carr reaches the City of Mexico, his rose-colored glasses get a bit murky. He senses "an impasse." As a trained observer he gets the angle that "romance" will not keep the economic fabric forever functioning. The Automobile Club trunk line is a hand-painted dream unless it can be built with printer's ink and whitewash brushes. The Mexican government revenue is a nicely balanced budget to meet the pay roll and expense account of the political machine. Public works, dividends on industrial enterprise and service on the public debt are not in the picture.

Mexico is living on the unearned increment of the Golden Age of Mexico—on the railroads, harbor improvement, drainage and irrigation plants and business structures of the Diaz regime—paying no interest thereon nor maintaining an upkeep. No new values created. Petroleum, cotton, silver, all in a slump; sugar and tobacco negligible and cattle a legend.

It has taken nineteen years to create this "impasse," nineteen years of the most malignant fortune ever inflicted on a benighted country.

The Old Sneak

Dorothy, aged 5, had her photograph taken recently and when the proof was sent home her mother said she looked too solemn and asked why she didn't smile.

"I did smile, mamma," replied Dorothy, "but the man forgot to put it down."—[Brooklyn Eagle.

Pretty Cool, Anyway

A Colorado paper reports—"After the ceremony, Smith declared, he visited his father-in-law. Daniel Roney's house, whereupon his mother-in-law hit him over the nose, drawing blood, and his father-in-law fired at him twice with a shotgun. The police believe the Roneys objected to the match."

Happy Days

Little Mary was on a visit to her grandparents and the old-fashioned grandfather clock in the hall was a source of wonderment to her. While she was standing before it her grandmother said to her from the next room: "Is the clock running, dear?"

"No, ma'am," promptly replied Mary, "it's just standing still and wagging its tail."—[Montreal Star.

RECORDS SHOW WATER NEEDS

Citizens' Committee Divulges Results of Inquiry

City Declared to be at Limit of Present Supply

Hollywood Groups United in Support of Bonds

from Owens Valley through the present Aqueduct has it been possible to meet the needs of the 1,300,000 persons now here.

(3.) Due to a series of extremely dry years and an ever-increasing population, Los Angeles has, once more, reached the absolute limit of its local and Aqueduct water supply.

WELL SITUATION

(4.) Only by drilling ninety-five deep wells in Owens Valley and pumping 150,000,000 gallons of water a day from these wells is Los Angeles able to keep abreast of its actual water needs.. And the landowners adjoining the city's wells have obtained injunctions prohibiting their operation. If the State Supreme Court, where the cases now are on appeal, upholds these injunction orders, Los Angeles will face an immediate water curtailment of 150,000,000 gallons a day.

(5.) Water to meet the needs of the city now are available for development in Owens Valley and in the Mono Basin, north of Owens Valley. But these water rights and water lands are in private ownership and the city cannot obtain them except by purchase and cannot make the water actually available for use in Los Angeles without certain large water supply and storage works. All of this water-development work is provided for in the $38,800,000 water issue—and each and every item in the water bond program is a vital link in the great chain that must be forged to tie this water supply securely to Los Angeles.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Members of the Citizens' Water Committee, acting with Chairman Scott, are E. J. Fleming, James R. Martin, Orra E. Monnette, Watt L. Moreland, O. M. Souden, Mrs. Shelley H. Tolhurst, Miss Mary Workman, Emerson Spear.

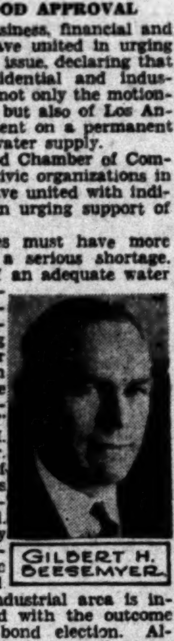
HOLLYWOOD APPROVAL

Hollywood business, financial and civic leaders have united in urging approval of the issue, declaring that the future residential and industrial growth of not only the motion-picture capital, but also of Los Angeles is dependent on a permanent and adequate water supply.

The Hollywood Chamber of Commerce and all civic organizations in the film city have united with individual leaders in urging support of the bond issue.



"Los Angeles must have more water or face a serious shortage. The question of an adequate water supply for Hollywood is of especially vital importance, taking precedence over any problem now facing the world's motion-picture center," Gilbert H. Beesemyer, president of United States Guaranty Corporation, said. "Undoubtedly Hollywood's future expansion as a residential business and industrial area is inseparably linked with the outcome of the water bond election. Already we are facing a shortage. Homes and factories are not built in districts where uncertainty exists with regard to an adequate and permanent water supply. This feeling of uncertainty is a serious handicap. It retards all classes of construction and it should be eliminated by an overwhelming approval of the bond issue."

TWO VITAL POINTS

"Every group of civic leaders which has investigated the water situation agrees on two vital points," Harry E. Jones, president of Hollywood Chamber of Commerce said. "One is that Los Angeles is really facing a serious shortage in the event additional water is not supplied through the approval of the bond issue. The other is that the new bond issue will not affect the present tax rate for the reason that under the provisions of the city charter all bond charges must be paid from the earnings of the city water department.

"From the standpoint of Hollywood a water shortage would be disastrous. Hollywood's amazing growth during the last five years, with more than $100,000,000 spent in construction, has been due in a great measure to ample, assured water supplies. If this expansion is to continue we must know that a permanent water supply is to support our future growth."

BURDENS EASED

G. R. Dexter, president of the Bank of Hollywood, said:

"Instead of increasing the taxpayers' burdens Los Angeles water bonds of the past have really made them lighter, for they have financed a water development which has provided residents of Los Angeles with the lowest water rate paid in any large city in the country. This factor has entered largely into the manufacturing expansion of Los Angeles. An ample water supply has supported our industrial growth in the past. If that expansion is to continue, sound business policy demands that a permanent water supply be assured. Boulder Dam will care for the city's requirements when it is completed, but that is years ahead. Los Angeles needs water now."

Vice-president Sam Kress of the bank, said:

"The film city area already is on a practical water ration preparatory to facing a shortage in the event the bond issue is defeated, with the present Hollywood reservoir supply piped so that Los Angeles as a whole may draw on it as occasion demands. Last summer the city's water supply was reduced to a margin of three weeks. A more serious condition is certain to present itself this summer unless the water bonds are approved. Hollywood should register an overwhelming vote for the bonds. We cannot wait for the Boulder Dam supply."

BOARD ASKS JURISDICTION

The Board of Public Utilities and Transportation has asked the City Council to adopt a measure placing the collection and jurisdiction of revenues from for-hire vehicles and franchise revenues under the board.

IT SEEMS TO BE TIME TO RETIRE

Old Rubber Helps Swell Harbor Trade

Auslufer bei wasser Los Angeles

Mary Grace Couchman and Old Tires

This cargo will be shipped to Germany and later returned in the form of hard-rubber goods.

When a Los Angeles woman uses a hard rubber comb it may be that it was made from one of the old automobile tires her husband discarded last year. Thousands of tons of old tires are shipped from this city to Germany each year to be made up into hard rubber household and toilet articles, only to be shipped back to Los Angeles merchants to be placed on sale.

This is only one of the articles that help to build up the tremendous export and import business of the billion dollar port of Los Angeles.

These are points that will be brought out in connection with the National Foreign Trade Convention to be held here at the Biltmore the 21st to 23rd inst., inclusive.

One of the prominent speakers at the convention will be H. H. Rice, vice-president of General Motors Corporation, Detroit, who will talk on "Coupling Up the Americas."

To strengthen the Los Angeles representation J. A. H. Kerr, chairman of the convention executive committee, yesterday made a strong appeal to business men to bring the local registration up to the 2000 mark. He strongly stressed the importance of the convention to this city.

SELLER OF MARKET WINS $5945 VERDICT ON DEAL

Herman Singer, wealthy Pasadena property owner, has been given a verdict of $5945 in a suit against Herb T. Brown, Los Angeles real estate broker, the amount representing a secret profit made by the defendant in the sale of the Third-street Market, 1342 Third street, Santa Monica, in April, 1929. The award has just been made by Superior Judge Yankwich, who presided at the trial of the case several weeks ago. Following the hearing the judge took his decision under submission.

Singer, who owned the market, received $53,625 in the sale. He asserted that without disclosing the fact to him Brown sold the property to Mrs. Anna V. Crawford, wife of Clarence H. Crawford, Los Angeles capitalist, for $60,000. Singer contended that the difference in what he received and what Brown got for the property was a secret profit. His contention was upheld by the court.

Brown's contention was that he was not an agent, but purchased the property for himself and resold it at a profit. In the court's opinion just filed Judge Yankwich holds that Brown's version of the transaction is not corroborated by anything in the record, but that, on the contrary, the testimony establishes the fact that Brown was acting as a broker and not a buyer.

WIFE AVERS SPOUSE WAS ROUGH MAN

Series of Indignities in Wedded Life Win Decree for Mrs. Toole

When W. Marynn Toole, Alhambra business man, learned he was about to lose his position as a Sunday-school teacher, he became so abusive that his wife, Mrs. Charlotte T. Toole, could not live with him, she testified when asking Superior Judge Archbald to grant her a divorce.

"He began his cruelty on our wedding trip to Yosemite, when he struck me on the leg with his fist and on the hip with a coat hanger," Mrs. Toole, the daughter of C. B. Opperman, Los Angeles architect, told the court.

The wife further asserted that her husband threw her to the floor and placed his foot upon her, dragged her from her bed by the hair, threw cocoa and water upon her, slammed a door on her and threw eleven shoes at her at one time, blackened her eyes and called her ugly names.

"In March, last," Mrs. Toole declared, "he was about to be removed as a Sunday-school teacher and he wrongfully blamed my father for his removal. That's what made him so abusive."

Mr. and Mrs. Toole were married August 3, 1928, and separated March 24, last. She said that after the separation Toole came to her father's house to get her with a bread knife concealed under his coat. She declared she refused to leave with him.

After hearing her testimony Judge Archbald was of the opinion there was sufficient evidence of cruelty and granted the wife a decree.

Famous Chinese Actor and Troup to Arrive Today

Los Angeles today will welcome Mei Lan-Fang, celebrated Chinese actor, who arrives this morning, accompanied by other artists and leaders in business and professional China. Mei ends his tour of the United States in this city, but will not return to his home in Peking until late summer, as he plans to rest here for several weeks. He will be tendered the "keys of the city" by a representative of Mayor Porter and will be greeted by a delegation of both Los Angeles proper and its Chinese colony. Later in the morning, he will be officially welcomed by the Mayor at the City Hall.

Mei will fill a week's engagement at Philharmonic Auditorium with his troupe of actors, musicians and dancers. Profits derived through his appearance will be turned over to a league for the advancement of opera in China, it is announced.

Liquor Plotting Pair Up Today for Sentencing

Frankie Cornero and Jack Wilson, recently convicted of a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition act, are scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge Cosgrave for the passing of sentence.

Cornero, a brother of Tony Cornero, now serving a term at McNeil Island Federal prison on a rum-running charge, and Wilson were convicted by a jury of conspiracy to land from 1500 to 2000 cases of liquor on the California shores. L. V. Murphy, once justice of the peace at Laguna Beach, who was jointly accused, was not convicted, the jury disagreeing.

Arguments will be heard today on motions of defense counsel for a new trial.

Modified Pool Plans Ordered

Supt. Hoyt of the playground department has been directed to bring in a modified plan for a swimming pool at the Reseda playground, as bids on the present plan are too high for the funds available.

The general contract, equipment and fixtures brought the bids to a total of $19,302, while there is only $13,459 available in the Reseda Boulevard Park bond fund. The bids were rejected.

Druggist Will Hear Sentence

United States District Judge Cosgrave is scheduled to pass sentence upon Alfred Jacobs, wealthy wholesale drug store proprietor, recently convicted of violating the national prohibition act.

It was charged that Jacobs removed certain ingredients from rub alcohol in order to make the fluid fit for beverage purposes.

PARK OFFER BEFORE SUPERVISORS TODAY

Tender of a ten-acre parcel of ground in City Terrace, in county territory, will be officially considered by the County Board of Supervisors today. Superintendent of Parks Wadsworth having recommended that the offer of W. H. Leimert, owner of the land, be accepted. The plot adjoins the city in the northeast section, and will afford to people in the vicinity their only park facilities.

FIGHT ON TODAY OVER OIL WELLS

Santa Monica Council Will Decide Drilling Issue

Two Thousand Petitioners Insist on Permits

Objectors Say It Would Ruin Residential Values

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, May 11.—With opponents fighting to prevent what they term "an industrial invasion that would ruin Santa Monica's outstanding position as a residential city," and 2000 petitioners demanding a right to drill for oil in an area embracing more than a third of the municipality, a hectic session of the City Council is scheduled for tomorrow morning, when the three Councilmen act on a recommendation of the City Planning Commission favoring a drilling permit to the large "spot zone."

Ocean Park, the southerly portion of the Santa Monica municipality, where the proposed drilling area lies, is bitterly divided on the issue. The Ocean Park Business Men's Association has adopted resolutions indorsing a demand by the Santa Monica - Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce that the oil question be put before the voters of the entire city for decision. The Santa Monica City Club and other large organizations likewise have come out for an initiative ordinance to place the issue squarely before the people.

REFERENDUM THREATENED

The proposed drilling zone embraces a large area of the municipality's least desirable residential property, including the present industrial and brickyards district; but within that area and along its borders are districts which would be irreparably damaged by the oil invasion, opponents declare.

Threats that a referendum will be launched unless the petition for a drilling permit is denied have been made freely. The referendum would be aimed at the present ordinance, recently adopted by the City Council, under which an old ordinance banning all drilling for oil within the city limits was replaced by one opening the entire city for drilling, subject to petitions which must be acted on by the planning commission and City Council. This "spot-zoning" ordinance is similar to the one adopted by Los Angeles. Opponents of drilling here declare that Santa Monica's comparatively small area and compactness, also the outstanding residential character of practically the entire corporate limits, make such a measure dangerous.

DISTRICT BOUNDARIES

The district under dispute is bounded by a line 150 feet west of Third street, beginning at the Venice city limits and extending to Pico Boulevard, thence east to Clover Field Boulevard, thence north to Colorado avenue and thence east to the Los Angeles city limits at Sawtelle. The district includes all the Ocean Park section except that lying between Washington avenue and the ocean. Main street, the downtown area and the beach district are excluded. There has been no threat of an oil invasion into the high-priced Santa Monica residential areas along Santa Monica, Wilshire, Montana and San Vicente boulevards; but opponents point out that in the event oil should be developed in large quantities in the Ocean Park section, the entire city would be threatened.

Petitioners for the drilling permit declare an "oil strike" in Ocean Park, similar to the one which has caused excitement in the new Venice field to the south, would be the "financial salvation" of property owners. At the time the petition was acted on favorably by the planning commission, preliminary arguments included such heated threats as that of a "secession" by Ocean Park from the Santa Monica municipality, in the event the petition is denied.

No advance intimation of the Council's action has been obtainable, Mayor Michel being in Oakland and Councilman Morton in Yosemite. They are expected back tomorrow. The Mayor is a member of the planning commission, which favored granting the permit to drill.

Sally and Molly Make Mistake

Sally O'Neil and Mollie O'Day went down to Central Station yesterday to go to New York. They boarded a train and, when it pulled from the station, sat in their drawing-room talking gayly.

In a few minutes the train came to a stop in the east yards. Sally and Mollie looked out the window and saw that the crew had removed the engine and then they suddenly realized they had boarded the wrong train. Now they are looking for a guardian angel.

FIRE BILL RESISTED

On the ground that the Board of Public Works offered to help the Park Department in repairing damage by the fire in Griffith Park last fall and therefore should not ask pay for it, the Park Board has returned to that body a bill for $2551.20 sent to the Park Department for payment. Supt. Shearer was instructed to inform the Board of Public Works that the understanding at the time was that the work would not be charged up against the Park Department, that the City Council instructed the Public Works Department to do the job and that therefore the latter should not present a bill.

MAYOR FIRST TO JOIN TRAFFIC SAFETY CLUB

With Mayor Porter as its first member, Municipal Judge Valentine's "Save a Life" traffic safety club, recently formed in connection with his radio talks on traffic safety, has launched a drive for additional names on its roster, Chairman Ed Molin announced yesterday.

Members of the club are required to sign a pledge "faithfully to abide by all traffic rules, never walk against signals, cross intersections only in marked cross-walks, look both ways before crossing streets and always be careful and do my part to save a life."

YOUNGSTER SCORES HIT IN 'COURAGE'

Leon Janney Pleases With Boyish Sincerity; Belle Bennett Approved

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Provided there are still idols of popularity created in the films—and frankly I don't know whether there are or not these revolutionary talkie days—Leon Janney seems due to qualify as a candidate. He is the youngster who appears in "Courage" at Warner Brothers' Theater and, because of being a very natural and human sort of boy, he gives every indication of becoming a favorite, at least during the run of this picture.

Much of the plot of "Courage" centers around Janney, as those who happen to remember the stage play will recall. For he is the youngest of a family of seven children and decidedly his mother's stand-by. He also inherits the fortune left by the wealthy and crusty neighbor—the woman who cared for nobody but the child who won his way into her heart.

"Courage" is a picture of interest and heart appeal, and it is a rather ideal picture to open on Mother's Day, since it is all about a widow and her very ample family and the troubles that they have paying their bills and the interferences of a relative of the late husband's.

Tom Barry wrote the original stage piece, and the picture retains its human quality. Indeed, it improves upon it somewhat, for the taint of illegitimacy of the youngest son is removed and made a merely imaginary affair, without any great loss of reality. The new version has nothing to impede its general popularity, whereas the stage play perhaps had.

The screen adaptation of "Courage" is credited to Walter Anthony, and the picture was directed with efficiency by Archie Mayo. There are good performances by practically every member of the cast, with Belle Bennett exceptionally sympathetic in the mother role, and Marion Nixon doing some very competent acting of a new sort as the daughter who goes in for rebellion and heroics. Miss Nixon is perhaps a bit matured for this particular part, but she sustains it well.

Miss Bennett exhibits grace in her impersonation of the somewhat improvident parent of the brood. Indeed, her work is vastly important to the picture as a whole, for while the role of the boy, Janney is brightly dominant, it is really the story of the mother that is told.

There are other interesting porterayals. I note, for instance, that Carter De Haven, Jr., as the eldest son, shows a marked aptitude for characterization, considering his youth. Charlotte Henry, though given virtually nothing to do, reflects promise that she previously disclosed in "Harmony at Home." Rex Bell, Don Marion, Byron Sage and Dorothy Ward are adequate to the occasion, while very telling is the vindictiveness of Blanche Frederici, a genuine actress. Richard Tucker is responsible for a nicely done portrayal. Without doubt young Janney will be the popular hit and Miss Bennett will be heartily approved.

Several short films are on the program including a glimpse of Ben Bernie and his orchestra, with some songsters, Lucien Littlefield as Mr. Potter in "Pa Gets a Vacation," and a musical hit called "Footnotes."

CRITERION ANNOUNCES BOOKINGS

'Arizona Kid,' 'Romance' to Follow Normal Shearer Film Vehicle

New attractions to follow "The Divorcee," starting at the Criterion Theater Wednesday, have been announced by the theater. They are "The Arizona Kid," starring Warner Baxter, and "Romance," Greta Garbo's second talking vehicle.

The Criterion management is said to consider the new bookings as the strongest line-up of pictures ever to be released at the showhouse. "The Divorcee" stars Norma Shearer, who plays a much different characterization than usual. The film is based on a story by Ursula Parrott, the management reports, and brings up some unusual questions on domesticity.

Annual Revel of Masquers Yields Gayety

More variety, more cleverness, more pep seems to go into the Masquers' Annual Public Revel from season to season. And the show given Saturday midnight will be duly recorded as the best yet. One thing that probably helped to make it that is the constant acquisition of new stage people in Hollywood, although many familiar masculine faces (if one were able to recognize them and masses of blond and brunette curls,) shone forth from the stage at El Capitan Theater, where the show was given.

The Masquers' Revel not only boasted fashion models and chorus girls this year, but it added hula dancers. No less persons than Lee Moran, Glenn Tryon, Neely Edwards, Bobbie Vernon and others went Honolulish, and caused a near-riot of laughter.

Tne fashion show was exceedingly well staged, with William Janney, William Bakewell, Donald Reed, Ray Hallor and others impersonating the mannequins to great effect.

For serious contrast there was the very fine "Farewell to Dickens," wherein characters of the famous novelist come to life. Robert Edeson enacted the author in this scene, and distinct hits were made by Richard Carle as Mr. Micawber, John Sheehan as Richard Swivveler, Stuart Holmes as Fagin, James Eagle as Barnaby Rudge, Phillipe de Lacy as Paul Domby, and others.

Julian Eltinge returned to great applause and did several song numbers. Sam Hardy was master of ceremonies. The biggest laughs of the evening went to Ben Bard and Bert Wheeler, the latter giving a lively impression of a "girl" trying to get into the movies.

"Good Time Charlie" with William Collicr featured, and The Gossips of Hollywood were other clever numbers.

Charley Chase and Little Billy (in an evening gown) entertained, and Joe E. Brown with his burlesque prize fight was a champion of humor. Harry Gribbon and Jed Prouty in a vaudeville turn, Lon Murray, Arthur Rankin, Dell Henderson, William Langan, Jason Robards, Richard Tucker, Edmund Breese, Walter Wills, Georgie Stone and others might be named in the list of entertainers. Frank Fay was responsible for humor in a very difficult "spot."

Hardy, as master of ceremonies, changed his garb with an amusing frequency, altering his costume to suit the act he was introducing, so he said. Ben Bernie's jazz band was on the stage during the fashion revue.

Prize Play Brought Home

Leyla Georgie

Plays the only feminine character in "Goin' Home," Ransome Rideout's unusual drama, which was written here. The Civic Repertory Theater will present it in Hollywood starting tonight.

PARAMOUNT FILM BOOKED

Ann Vaughn, the little feature writer who captured the fancy of a nation in "Young Man of Manhattan," Katherine Brush's story, will be brought to life by Claudette Colbert on the screen of the Paramount Theater Thursday in Paramount's film of the same title.

Amid spectacular prize fights, Ruth knocking his fiftieth home run, studio parties, football games, Broadway and Florida bathing beauties, skyrocketing wealth and empty pocketbooks, this love drama of a newspaper man and woman is said to retain the zest and swift movement of the well-known story.

In addition to Claudette Colbert, popular stage actress, the cast includes other names known to playgoers. Norman Foster is cast in the role of Toby McLean, the sports scribe. Charles Ruggles is seen as Shorty Ross and Ginger Rogers, a newcomer to films, portrays Puff Randolph.

Directed by Monta Bell, the screen version of "Young Man of Manhattan" was written by Robert Presnell.

Currently showing at the Paramount is "The New Adventures of Dr. Fu Manchu."

LYTELL TO HEAD CAST OF DRAMA

Duffy Brings Members of Original "Brothers" Cast to El Capitan

Eight members of the original New York production of "Brothers" will appear in support of Bert Lytell when he appears at El Capitan Friday night as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players. Henry Duffy has brought the principal players of the Broadway cast to the Coast.

Grace Menken (Mrs. Lytell) and sister of Helen Menken, will appear in the chief feminine role of Roma Moore. Frank Sylvester, who won his first Broadway success as Bony in "The Misleading Lady," will be Dr. Leslie Stevens. The part of "Oily" Joe will be acted by Matt Briggs. Clara Palmer, Lloyd Carleton, Alyce Dera, Eugene Williams and Rita Carlyle have roles.

The final performance of "Love 'Em and Leave 'Em" will be given at El Capitan Thursday evening.

FAVORITE RETURNS TO STAGE

George Fawcett to Essay Starring Role in Former Footlight Vehicle

In reviving his footlight success, "The Great John Ganton," which opens at the Vine Street Theater on the 19th inst, George Fawcett, noted character actor of stage and screen, has surrounded himself with a strong cast.

Jason Robards, youthful player of several Los Angeles and eastern successes, heads the list, which includes Josephine Brown, Pierre White, Ara Haswell, Richard Beach, Oscar Griffith, Marion Bowers, Alfred Smith, Mary Jane Higby, Somner Forrest, Alfred Hallett and Edna West.

ACTOR'S WIFE RETURNS

Mrs. Paul Page has returned to Hollywood after a month's absence in the East visiting her parents in Springfield, Mass., and friends in New York.

FLAVIN PLAY DUE TONIGHT AT BELASCO

Arthur Byron Will Enact Lead in "Criminal Code;" Gala Opening Planned

Before what is expected to be one of the most fashionable and distinguished audiences ever assembled at the Belasco Theater, Martin Flavin's drama, "The Criminal Code," with Arthur Byron, Russell Hardie and others will be disclosed tonight for the first time locally.

"The Criminal Code" has the distinction of being the outstanding drama of the current New York season, it is claimed, and ran in that city for more than five months. Belasco and Currant, the local producers, secured the play and leading players directly after the metropolitan run.

Arthur Byron, the featured player, was last seen here in "Tea For Three." The engagement of "The Criminal Code" is limited to three weeks.

'Rio Rita' Next at Fox Palace

Warner Baxter in "Such Men Are Dangerous," Fox version of the Elinor Glyn novel, will close its run at the Fox Palace Theater Tuesday, to be followed by "Rio Rita." Radio's interpretation of the Ziegfeld operette, features Bebe Daniels and John Boles in the principal roles. Among the supporting players in a cast of more than 1000 are Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, Dorothy Lee, Helen Kaiser, George Renevant and Don Alvarado. Luther Reed directed.

DETECTIVES ON 'GORILLA' TRAIL AGAIN

Noted Stage Sleuths Take Up Chase at Hollywood Playhouse

BY JOHN SCOTT

Ralph Spence's "Gorilla" has bobbed up again to harry sensitive theater patrons with his wild excursions up and down the aisles of the Hollywood Playhouse. The chills, thrills and other words used in the past to describe this particular comedy-drama may well be served up again, although it is probably only the youngsters who have not seen the play at least once by now.

"The Gorilla" is the pet of Frank McCormack and Clifford Dempsey, who have chased the mysterious animal these many years. As the dumb detectives, the two preserve all of the gestures which they have made famous. Garrity still calls for Mulligan in the traditional way, and Mulligan still responds, pistol in hand and a frightened look on his face.

To tell the story of "The Gorilla" or any part would be much like reciting "Mary's Little Lamb," it is that familiar. Sufficient to say that the formula compounded of all the slamming doors, mysterious hands popping out of walls and the screams has not changed. McCormack and Dempsey burlesque the detectives in their old style and succeed in winning a goodly quota of laughs.

The supporting cast includes new faces, except for that of the gorilla, whose visage is as terrifying or as funny as before, all according to one's sense of humor.

The only feminine character is portrayed by Miss Flora Bramley, a pretty and personable young lady, who, it will be remembered, a few years ago was chosen as a Wampas baby star. Miss Bramley's role in "The Gorilla" affords her no exceptional acting opportunities, but she fulfills the requirements of a harassed heroine in a pleasing manner.

The remainder of "The Gorilla" cast is composed of John Maurice Sullivan as Cyrus Stevens, the uncle; Johnnie De Weese, as the colored servant, Jefferson Lee; Gale Gordon, who plays the part of Arthur Marsden, one of the central figures in the plot; Edward Seabrook, Walter Marshall, Philip Morris, Neal Firestone and Victor Donald. The supporting players are well-chosen for their respective roles, with Gordon, Sullivan and De Weese carrying the brunt of the battle to solve the mystery of the old house.

NEW FARCE COMING TO PRESIDENT

Henry Duffy Schedules "Elizabeth Sleeps Out" for Run

"Elizabeth Sleeps Out," a farce-comedy written by Leslie Howard, will be offered by the Henry Duffy Players at the President Theater, starting Sunday. This play has been given with success in New York and London, and has never been offered here before.

The central figure of "Elizabeth Sleeps Out" is Elizabeth Tweedie, an elderly spinster whose severe appearance belies her skittish nature and who wearies of a life of seclusion and quiet. Rehearsals of "Elizabeth Sleeps Out" have started under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis.

"The Blue Ghost," now playing at the President, is in its final week.

Noted Players in "Bad One"

Playing important character roles, are Don Alvarado, George Fawcett, Ulrich Haupt, Mitchell Lewis, Yola D'Avril, Adrienne d'Ambricourt, Blanche Frederici, Ralph Lewis, Harry Stubbs, John St. Polis, Victor Potel, Raoul Paoli and Tommy Dugan.

Miss Del Rio is seen and heard as a coquettish cafe entertainer, while Lowe appears as a sea-going Don Juan.

NURSES UNITE IN TRIBUTE TO RED CROSS PIONEER

Seven Hundred, in Uniform, Attend Florence Nightingale Services at St. Paul's Cathedral

Commemorating the one hundred and tenth anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, founder of the Red Cross, 700 uniformed nurses attended services at St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday to participate in the program sponsored by the Los Angeles chapter of the Guild of St. Barnabas.

Following a program by the cathedral choir, directed by Dudley W. Fitch, the anniversary sermon on "The Lady With the Lamp" was preached by Dean Harry Beal. He dwelt at length on Florence Nightingale's heroic service in the Crimean War and on her pioneer work to establish modern standards of nursing in England. Dr. Beal spoke in part as follows:

"This 'Lady With the Lamp' is a symbol of the light which fidelity throws on the work of duty and the brightness with which character and good-will illuminate our relations with other people. She also points the way to the solution of one of the most baffling of problems, namely, why should physical good be done in this world? The answer lies beyond the outward results of care and healing in sick-room and hospital."

TRIBUTE TO MOTHERS VOICED BY MINISTER

Quoting the sayings of famous historical characters concerning the glory of womanhood and the sacredness of motherhood, Dr. Bruce Brown, in his sermon at South Park Christian Church yesterday, declared that this nation will be safe and prosperous so long as it produces noble, unselfish mothers and filial sons and daughters.

"Tributes to motherhood have been written, spoken and sung by scores of the noblest men and women of all time, including Presidents Lincoln and Adams, Napoleon, George Eliot, William Dean Howells and Emerson, the 'Sage of Concord,'" said Dr. Brown. "With the exception of His Divine Son, the true mother is God's greatest gift to man."

In his evening sermon Dr. Brown bemoaned the fate of Rev. R. P. Shuler (who was sent to jail on being convicted of contempt of court.)

DISCIPLESHIP TESTS TOLD BY SPEAKER

A sermon on "Discipleship in the New Testament" was preached yesterday by Swami Dhirananda at Figueroa Playhouse. The speaker said in part:

"Whatever the disciple is or wants accounts for his attraction to a particular religious teacher, but it is only a limited number of persons who fulfill the conditions of true discipleship. Many are called but few are chosen. The higher the motive, the harder the conditions. Learning cannot be a necessary condition, as most of Jesus's disciples were unlettered. He wanted them to hate the world but love their neighbors. That was the paradox. It was understandable, because that hate was without bitterness and the love was without attachment. It was renouncement with joy and service without selfishness. Doing His word was another absolute condition, bearing one's own cross, another. When His disciples lapsed from loyalty, they went down the scale, but it was their inherent spiritual fitness that drew their Master's pardon and caused them to be sent out on their mission of preaching the gospel everywhere."

LECTURER DISCUSSES SUBLIME KINGDOM

"The highest form of consciousness, that plane of existence which is beyond the realm of relativity, is the kingdom of God," declared Bramacharee Nerode in his lecture yesterday at Mt. Washington Center.

"In that sublime state time is timeless, space is spaceless and manifoldness merges into unity," said the speaker. "In such a state of consciousness, shadows, sorrows and illusions expose their unreality and in their place one universal understanding of reality and love possesses the whole being of man. The conception of the kingdom differs according to grades of idealism and illumination. To Plato it was a 'Republic,' to Morris a 'Utopia,' to St. John a 'New Jerusalem,' to Buddha a 'state of blessedness' and to Jesus the ideal existence of love, hope and charity."

PREACHER SUGGESTS TEST OF RELIGION

"Some elements of one's religion are not the kind that can be lived, or even tried out," said Dr. Sheldon Shepard in his sermon at First Universalist Church yesterday.

"These elements have nothing to do with the way one lives, or at least have a very indirect connection with his habits and character," said Dr. Shepard. "A livable religion is that kind of religion which can be put to the test in human life. It has to do principally with health, character, happiness, usefulness.

"That is a good religion which gets a good result in human life. Here is the genuine and eternal fundamental. Nothing is very important if men may differ on it and still both be upright, happy and useful.

"Putting religion to the test in health, joy, usefulness, kindliness, reveals how close akin we all are. From the corners of the world they come, religious people with their testimonies of healing, strength and joy, and with their records of kindness in the daily round and usefulness in the world of need. What else matters? Why should we fight, condemn, antagonize, proselyte, berate? Let each one of us put his own religion to the test. If it is livable, it shall be sufficient for us, and shall win its way into the hearts of men. If it is not livable it makes no difference whether it is accepted or not."

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS DISCUSS "FALLEN MAN"

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon yesterday at all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. One of the Scripture selections included Paul's statements to the Romans: "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh: but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace . . . But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you." Another citation contained Paul's words to the Corinthians, "For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated, "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect, is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither inverted nor subverted, but upright and Godlike."

CANINE ARISTOCRAT DOLLS UP FOR SHOW

"Rosina" and Daune Strauther

Nothing is too good for the real aristocracy of the canine world. Visitors to the Hollywood Dog Show, the 24th and 25th inst. in the Ambassador Auditorium, will find some of the animals equipped with complete wardrobes of their very own. For example, Rosine, a cocker spaniel with a yard-long pedigree of illustrious ancestors, has a complete motoring attire as her little friend and sponsor, Daune Strauther, including felt-lined boots, fleece-lined overcoat and goggles.

Pedigreed pups from as far east as Chicago and as far north as Vancouver already have been entered in the show which is expected to attract more than 1000 of the elite of dogdom, according to Jack Bradshaw, the director-general.

Substitution of written messages for oral communications between airplanes and ground stations is being worked out by the Army Air Corps with the use of equipment developed by one of the commercial electrical companies and may become the basis for a new method of radio communication of considerable value in time of war.

Just how well such a system would function under actual war conditions has not been developed, but it is believed to open a widely expanded field for operations of observation planes.

Recent experiments showed that messages written with an ordinary lead pencil upon ordinary paper, which is wrapped around a cylinder which revolves in front of photoelectric cells, could be received upon specially prepared paper on a similar cylinder in the receiving set.

FOR SENDING MAPS

The great advantages which may be developed by the use of the system for the sending of maps by observers in the air are being closely studied. It is also possible to send photographs or any printed matter in the same way.

The new system is claimed to embody the advantage of secrecy, since messages may be written in code, although, of course, the World War again demonstrated that codes can be deciphered. Solution of a code takes time, however, and much of this disadvantage could be overcome by changing codes at frequent intervals.

ON YOUR DIAL TODAY

KHJ features four programs this afternoon and evening replete with the best in classic orchestral and vocal music. At 4 this afternoon the Viennese Quartet brings forty minutes of the works of Moskowski, Brahms, Hert and Strauss, with Hulda Dietz as guest soloist. At 6 tonight Raymond Paige and his concert orchestra will present a repertoire of chamber music with Robert Bradford as guest artist, while 6:30 tonight offers Columbia's featured organist, Jesse Crawford, in half an hour of classics. Blue Monday Jamboree fans have something to look forward to tonight—an unusual two hours of inimitable fun, featuring ruthless dramas in gangster Chicago. Elvia Allman, hobo act and the debut of a hot-dog stand. From 8 to 10 tonight the jamboree goes on—tune in for a lot of laughs.

At KFI at 6 tonight Kenneth Loysen, baritone, will be guest artist with the fifty-piece Rochester Civic Orchestra in a program opening with Friedman's "Slavic Rhapsody" and the work of Handel and Massenet. At 7 tonight Ray Van Dyne's orchestra with the "Two Shades of Blue" bring an hour of light-hearted and popular instrumental and vocal melodies. At 9:30 p.m. the Purcell Mayer string quartet with Virginia Flohri, soprano promise to present the ultimate in tone and grace in chamber music.

STAGE LIFE SKETCH

KNX at 7 tonight brings the atmosphere of backstage as seen by Ambrose Barker, Peggy Wynn and Jack Carter in a sketch of stage life. At 8:30 p.m. Handel's "Overture from the Messiah," Severn's waltz, "Fun on the Mall" and Slubicho's "Nocturne" will be featured by the Luboviski Violin Choir in a half-hour of concert music.

KFWB devotes its evening to classic and popular instrumental and dance music. At 6 tonight the Salon Orchestra in a program of semiclassic and popular melodies with Buster Dees, soloist; a string quintet at 8, while 9 p.m. brings late and modern melodies by Ray Martinez's orchestra with two popular vocalists featured. And then from 10 to 1 dance music as played by Aaronson's Commanders, Ben Bernie's dance orchestra at 10:30 and again Aaronson from 11:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Palisades at Santa Monica Suicide Scene

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, May 11. (Exclusive)—William Stewart Thrathen, thought to be a buyer for a shoe concern in Los Angeles and a resident of Beverly Hills, committed suicide here late this afternoon with a spectacular leap over the Palisades bluff at the California-street incline. Thrathen's body landed eighty feet below the cliff in a clump of brush which bordered the beach highway and the tragedy blocked traffic for more than an hour.

The death leap was witnessed by two persons, H. S. McNally and J. G. Henberg, both of Los Angeles, who said that Thrathen jumped over the fence separating the park from the bluff edge, paused for a moment on the brink and then stretching his arms before him dived over the precipice. The witnesses said his body turned over in the air several times before crashing into the brush below.

Thrathen was unconscious when found and died half an hour later in the Mary I. Martin Hospital in Santa Monica. The body was taken to the Todd & Leslie mortuary.

Patrolmen Clark and Smith, who investigated the suicide, said that cards found on the body indicated that Thrathen had been a lieutenant in the United States Army at one time and that he had served at Camp Hancock, Ga. There was no suicide note found on the body.

Or Sober Ones

Just because a motorist zigzags, it doesn't necessarily mean that he's a drunken driver, we are advised. He may be a sober driver avoiding intoxicated pedestrians.

NEW HOSPITAL DEVOTED TO USE

Cedars of Lebanon Ready for Patients Wednesday

City Notables Attend Rites Conducted by Rabbi

Methodist Guild Will Hold Annual Meet Today

Thousands of persons inspected the new Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, 4833 Fountain avenue, yesterday following impressive dedicatory services participated in by many persons of note in the civic and religious life of the city. The hospital will be ready for the reception of patients Wednesday.

This, together with the annual meeting of the Methodist Hospital Guild this afternoon, ushered in the observance of National Hospital Week in California. This week was selected as the 12th inst. is the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale.

DEDICATION IMPRESSIVE

The dedicatory services of the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital attracted a huge crowd. Ludwig Schiff was chairman of the day. William Lacy of the Community Chest, City Health Officer Parrish, Mrs. Albert Crutcher, president of the Children's Hospital, Oscar Lawler and others made short addresses. Isadore Eisner, chairman of the building committee, declaring the hospital completed and ready for use, turned it over to Lemuel Goldwater, president of the board. Dedicatory services by Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin followed. The ceremony ended when Jack Warner, Jr., unfurled the American flag above the structure.

Ground was broken for the building April 14, 1929. The building is eight stories in height and can care for 278 patients. The hospital is nonsectarian as to patients and personnel.

METHODIST MEETING

The annual meeting of the Methodist Hospital Guild will be held at 2 p.m. today at the Nurses' Home, 2825 South Hope street. Women from all over Southern California are expected to bring gifts to the annual linen shower for the institution. This custom is carried out in each of the eighty-four Methodist hospitals throughout the United States.

Mrs. James Donovan, who is retiring as president of the guild, together with Mrs. Margaret Locke Coates, conference president of the Women's Home Missionary Society of Southern California; F. A. Powell, president of the Methodist Hospital, and Mrs. Silas Sprowls, trustee, will receive the guild reports.

The guild women make all surgical dressings and other necessary articles for the hospital, each Friday having been set aside for the purpose for many years.

From 10 a.m. until 4 p.m., the hospital will receive visitors and a musical program will be given at 3. The program will include numbers by Frank Geiger, Mrs. Walter Wessels, Nell Lockwood and others.

Church Knights Will Gather at Catalina Island

Knights of Columbus from practically every lodge in the State are expected at Catalina Island for a three-day convention starting next Sunday.

Large delegations are planning to come southward from San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Fresno and other northern centers. The convention will open with celebration of high mass in the island pavilion. A banquet will be conducted in the St. Catherine Hotel the evening of the 19th inst., and a grand ball will close the convention the next night.

Frank J. Barty, district deputy for Southern California, will be one of the leaders at the annual assembly.

Turner Flight to East Waits Weather Still

Lieut.-Col. Roscoe Turner may take off at 1 a.m. tomorrow from United Airport, Burbank, for Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in an attempt to lower the cross-country speed record of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The local pilot's Lockheed air express plane, the Gilmore Lion, is ready to go, but Turner may hold off until Wednesday morning on account of adverse flying weather reported from the Middle West.

TRADE GROWTH ANALYZED

Representative Shreve, Arriving on Dollar Liner, Praises Work of Commerce Envoys

America's official disciples of commerce, the United States Trade Commissioners, have been largely responsible for the nation's present world dominance in foreign trade, according to Milton W. Shreve, veteran Pennsylvania representative in Congress, who was an arrival from Panama yesterday aboard the Dollar around-the-world liner Pesident Johnson.

MILTON W. SHREVE

Mr. Shreve, as chairman of the House Subcommittee on Appropriations, has for years, he said, had charge of the annual appropriations for the Departments of State, Justice, Commerce and Labor. His "pet," he explained, is the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the Department of Commerce. During President Hoover's first year as Secretary of Commerce he and Mr. Shreve organized the plan of sending trade commissioners and commercial attaches to industrial and commercial centers throughout the world.

"In 1921, when we spent $850,000 for trade envoys in twenty-four countries, America's foreign trade was $6,500,000,000," said Mr. Shreve. "Now our country leads the entire world in foreign trade, our last year's foreign commerce exceeding $9,000,000,000. This, to my mind, is a direct tribute to Mr. Hoover's foresight in reorganization of the corps of trade commissioners. This year the Department of Commerce will expend $5,000,000 in sending trade representatives to fifty-five countries. I believe that the foreign trade of the United States is destined for even greater increases during the next ten years."

Mr. Shreve predicted that the nation's labor problems will be vastly improved within the year. He has been in Panama for a conference with South American representatives of the Department of Commerce. During his stay here he will be the guest of his daughter, Mrs. E. B. Hubley, 1616 Bushnall avenue, South Pasadena.

WILSHIRE BOULEVARD AT WESTMORELAND

ACTRESS'S ALIMONY APPEAL MUST WAIT

Nora White

Nora White, screen actress, must wait until her divorce trial before she can obtain alimony, according to a ruling by Superior Judge Guerin.

Miss White, who married Philip T. Carling, realty operator, in Tia Juana, February 22, last, separated from him five days later. Both filed divorce proceedings, Carling asking an annulment on the ground that the marriage was not legal.

Judge Guerin held there can be no alimony until the legality of the marriage is decided.

Murder Charge Takes Suspect Back to Mexico

As a result of a hearing by United States Commissioner Head, recommendations were made that Pacifico Garcia be returned under extradition to Tia Juana, Mex., to face a trial for the murder of Francisco Guzman, who was shot and killed at his service station there last fall. Garcia is the son of a well-known Filipino political leader.

Because the Mexican government did not establish the charges against Raymond Radcliffe, who is said to have been with Garcia at the time of the shooting, he will not be returned to Mexico. The shooting was said to have followed an argument over the payment of a charge of 50 cents for parking.

Film Leader Lauds Talent

"Today the best talent available is selected and brought to Hollywood to create pictures," it was declared by Clinton Wunder, secretary of public relations of the Academy of Motion-Picture Arts and Sciences, in an address yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Post-War Service League at the Knickerbocker Hotel.

"Men and women of higher caliber," he added, "direct the destiny of this newest of professions. In the Academy of Motion-Picture Arts and Sciences the creators of this art have joined together to seek perfection in the science of film production. Light, color, landscape, voice, life, are reproduced for millions, to lift them out of the monotony of routine tasks, to aid them to forget their cares and sorrows, to make life more interesting."

DRESSING-ROOMS AT BEACH PROVIDED FOR

Addition of $2000 to the playground and recreation budget to provide dressing-rooms in different sections at Cabrillo Beach for men and women has been approved by the Playground and Recreation Commission. The present quarters, now divided for men and women, will be moved and turned over entirely to women bathers, while a new structure will be erected for male bathers. Both units are to have showers lined with galvanized iron, and comfort facilities.

COUNTY RETAINS HEALTH STATUS

Report Shows Region Ranked High in United States

Diphtheria and Scarlet Fever of Low Prevalence

Dr. Pomeroy Warns Public on Rabies Peril

With practically every communicable disease below normal expectancy, Los Angeles county continues to hold its place as one of the most healthy regions in the United States, according to a report compiled by the office of Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer.

The present unusually low prevalance of diphtheria and scarlet fever, two of the most dreaded enemies of health officials, is attributed to the co-operation of the public in obeying the quarantine regulations and to the policy of the health office in advocating vaccination. Failure of persons to report all cases or suspected cases is accounted as the reason for a noticeable increase in measles.

While not above average, rabies among animals continues to present a problem, the report indicates. The disease is fatal to human beings if Pasteur treatment is not obtained promptly, it is pointed out. The seriousness of rabies should not be underestimated, as more than fifty rabid dogs are reported in the county each month, the report stated.

Dr. Pomeroy stated that the stamping out of all communicable diseases should be an active part in the daily program of all citizens. Consideration of public health should be as much a part of an individual's life as personal health, he pointed out.

Chicago Trip of Boys' Band Wins Backing

The approval of the Playground and Recreation Commission has been given to the plan of a group of public-spirited citizens headed by Marco H. Hellman to have the playground band of sixty boys attend the Rotary International convention in Chicago starting June 18. The board has recommended the approval of Mayor Porter to the proposal.

Hellman has offered to see that all transportation, meals, lodging and uniforms for the band will be paid without expense to the city, the only obligation being that the playground department shall pay the salary of Director Suman, the band leader.

According to Supt. Hoyt, the trip not only will improve the morale of the band, which already has played at many important functions, but also will be good publicity for the department generally, as the band will play at numerous points on the trip.

Lepers Mission Will Have Drive

A campaign in the interests of the American Mission to Lepers which is waging war on leprosy throughout the world, will be conducted the end of this week and the beginning of next. William M. Danner of New York, secretary of the mission, who has spent twenty years in organizing leper work will speak in churches and clubs under the auspices of the Los Angeles chapter of the mission.

Thomas R. Gaines, president of the Pasadena auxiliary, has charge of arrangements.

REALTY DEALERS WIN LIBEL DAMAGE SUIT

Following a court battle lasting two days, Superior Judge Bowron decided the $50,000 libel suit of Mrs. Dorthulia Blackwell against L. L. and J. Colodny, real-estate dealers, in favor of the defendants. Mrs. Blackwell, who is a real-estate solicitor, contended that the Colodny concern slandered her in letters sent to other real-estate companies. She asserted that she had been unable to obtain employment as a result of the letters and asked the court to allow her damages.

FOOD SHOW OPENS TODAY

The sixth annual Food and Household Show will open formally to the public, for a six-day run at 2:30 p.m. today. It is the annual demonstration of the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association and countless booths are stocked with new food products, new ways of serving the old ones, suggestions in printed form for gladdening the palate and making the home-served menu assume new tastiness.

A household section has been fitted up to radiate ideas for diminishing the work of keeping house. Machines, which operate themselves when once set in motion, ranging from cookers to washers, are on display, most of them in action.

MANY SAMPLES GIVEN

Flapjacks are cooked automatically, carpets are pounded upon pressing a button and stoves turn themselves off automatically when the roast is done to a nice brown.

Last night few went away from a preview of the show hungry, as the exhibitors pressed samples of "this and that" upon the crowds from all sides. It looked more like a "taste show."

Many pretty home-makers are registered for the show's "housewife beautiful" contest, the aim of which is to prove that housework does not impair good looks.

After a farewell to her Hollywood home, Miss Edna Kirby, household and style expert, took her place in the house of glass she will occupy during the show's run until Saturday night. The transparent domicile looks like a huge, tile-topped showcase, separated into compartments, as parlor, bedroom, bath, kitchen and dining-room.

Another feature is Cy Perkins's replica of the old-fashioned grocery store. Open bins for the sugar and coffee, and a round stove of the era, 1980, furnish the scenic effects, while Perkins whittles merrily.

"Cho-Cho, the health clown," 68 years of age, but still in the business of gymnastics, welcomes the younger set of showgoers, and Ferg, a San Francisco cartoonist, sketches elders on one-minute's notice.

Special events have been appointed for almost every day. Santa Monica day will be celebrated Wednesday and Pasadena and Long Beach days on Saturday.

DOORS OPEN AT 1 P.M.

Mayor Herman Michel of Santa Monica, accompanied by Harold Roberts's Santa Monica municipal band, will lead the beach delegation to the auditorium, while Miss Katherine L. Rathburn, home-service director of the Southern Counties Gas Company's Bay district area, acts as hostess.

Every day doors of the food show's theater will open at 1 p.m. to admit audiences to free demonstrations given by household economic experts of the Southland. The event is scheduled to run until Saturday night, by which time everyone is presumed by the management to be fully informed concerning the food innovations brought out in the past year.

WHO WILL WIN THE $1000 FIRST PRIZE

in the Los Angeles Times' GREAT STAR PUZZLE?

There is still time for you to be the fortunate one. Even though you haven't studied the puzzle at all, it is so simple a child can form the words.

All You Have to Do Is to Form As Many English Words As You Can From the Letters in the Star. Study the Rules and Start Making Your List Today!

RULES

No word may be used more than once. Do not use obsolete, archaic, dialect, Scottish or un-Anglicized foreign words, proper names of persons, peoples or places, or parts of words, such as prefixes, suffixes, contractions or abbreviations. Either the singular or plural form may be used, but do not use both forms of the same word. In any question, Webster's International Dictionary will be authority.

For convenience in checking, lists of words must be submitted in alphabetical order. Each word should be numbered consecutively, starting with 1. It will not be necessary to give the index numbers of the spaces in which the letters are found.

Contestant's name, address and telephone number should be written at the beginning of the list, together with the total number of words submitted. Use only one side of the paper.

This Contest is open to every person in California and Arizona except members of the families of employees of THE TIMES. Only one prize will be awarded to a household.

As explained in the LIST of PRIZES, there are two classes of prizes. It is not necessary to subscribe or send in a subscription to THE TIMES to compete for one of the Class B prizes. The Class A prizes are open to those who send in a 6 months' paid-in-advance subscription to the DAILY and SUNDAY TIMES. This may be either a renewal or a new subscription. There are 56 prizes in each class. The contestant in each class submitting the largest number of words properly formed from the letters in the Star according to these instructions will receive the first prize in that class; the one submitting the next largest number, the second prize, and so on. The right is reserved to increase the number and the value of the prizes at any time during the progress of this Contest.

In the event of ties, contestants tying will be required to form words in a similar manner from letters in a smaller diagram. Should any ties result from the second Contest a prize identical with that tied will be awarded to each tying contestant.

This Contest will close at 6 p.m., on Saturday, May 31, 1930. All lists of words must be delivered at the Contest Depository on the main floor of The Times Building before that time, or, if mailed, must bear postmark showing that they were mailed before that hour.

Address CONTEST MANAGER,
LOS ANGELES TIMES,
First and Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal.

INSTRUCTIONS—

Form as many words as possible from the letters in the star. Start with any letter and take any number of adjacent or contiguous letters IN ANY DIRECTION; forward, backward, upward, downward, diagonally. (A letter is adjacent or contiguous to another when the spaces occupied touch each other on the sides or at the corners. M-16 is next to or adjacent to N-8, G-9, E-17, S-24, I-23; L-22, I-15 and A-7. S-6 is adjacent or contiguous to O-5 and T-14 but is not adjacent or contiguous to A-7 and U-20 because separated from these letters by blank spaces. Do not jump or skip any letters or spaces.

Example: T-1, H-2, A-7, N-8 spells THAN;
S-6, T-14, U-20, B-21 spells STUB.
L-22, I-15, M-16, I-23, T-31 spells LIMIT.

The same space may be used more than once in a word (as I-15 in MILITIA—M-16, I-15, L-22, I-15, T-14, I-15, A-7), but do not double any letter. For example: L-48 cannot be doubled to form the word ROLL with R-47 and O-40, but L-29 and L-30, two adjacent and contiguous letters, can be used with B-31 and A-28 to form BALL.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Following their honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stanley, whose wedding took place in Stockridge, Mass., March 22, have arrived in England to make their future home in London. The bride was formerly Miss Louise H. Osborne, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyall Allen Osborne of White Lodge, Stockridge. Stanley is a son of Mrs. William Stanley of Chestnut Wood, Great Barrington, and the late Mr. Stanley. He is now with the International Acceptance Bank of London. During the World War, he was in the Ninety-sixth Aero Squadron. He is a brother of Harold Stanley of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.

Mrs. Richard Brooks entertained a number of French and American friends at a reception last week in Paris in honor of the Marchesa de Bonis (nee McQuaide,) who since has sailed for New York for a two months' visit in the States. This is the Marchesa de Bonis's first trip to America in sixteen years. While in New York she will be the house guest of Mr. D. Graeme McDougall. In Philadelphia, she will attend the wedding of her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Geist, with Van Horn Ely, which takes place the 24th inst. She will later visit Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Geist at Villa Nova, Pa.

Among the recent arrivals in Europe were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Howland Brown of New York, who are in Europe for their honeymoon. They were married in New York March 29 at the Church of the Transfiguration. Mrs. Brown is the former Miss Julia Elizabeth Parker, daughter of Mrs. John Duncan Parker Murphy of New York, and the late Charles Maxwell Parker of Detroit, Mich. Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brown of Adams, Mass. The bride was educated in England. Mr. Brown was graduated from Harvard and belongs to the Harvard Club of New York. He is a member of the law firm of Chadbourn, Hunt, Jaeckel and Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make a motor trip through Southern France and Italy, and plan to return to New York late in the spring to make their home in Gramercy Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhodes Clow have cut short their honeymoon trip in Europe and sailed for America aboard the liner Aquitania. They have been in Sicily. Mr. and Mrs. Clow will pass a few days in New York and then go to Memphis, Tenn., to visit Mrs. C. O. Pfiel, Mr. Clow's mother. They will make their home in Chicago. Mrs. Clow was formerly Miss Linda Lee Doan.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Charles Tomlinson, whose marriage took place in New York March 21, have arrived in London to attend the wedding at St. Martin's-in-the-Field of Mr. Tomlinson's sister.

Mrs. H. A. F. Emminger has passed several days in Nice as guest of the Hotel Negresco. Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Richards have arrived in Paris from New York and are at the Hotel Continental.

Mrs. William G. Weller and Miss Ellen Mead have been stopping at the Esplinade in Berlin. Ernest H Gardener of Beverly Hills is passing two weeks at the Continental in Paris after a tour of Italy and Southern France. Later he plans to go to London, sailing for home this month.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Rey Rule, who have been visiting in Lyons, France, have arrived in Paris for a stay at the Hotel George V. Mrs. Margaret Osgood has arrived at the Chateau Frontenac in Paris for a stay of several weeks.

Miss E. L. Valente was a recent visitor to Wiesbadem, Germany, registering at the Grand Hotel.

Mrs. John T. Lenfestey of Los Angeles and Mrs. Sherman Knowles of Pasadena have been enjoying the winter in Italy and are leaving for a cruise of the Adriatic, later planning to go to Jugo-Slavia for a short visit.

Mrs. Louis Andrew Denker with her daughters, Misses Cecelia and Louise are in Paris for a short stay, following a visit in Lausanne, Switzerland. They are at Hotel Continental.

Mrs. Alice Hanson and daughter, who journey extensively on the European continent, have been stopping at Hotel Imperial in Vienna, while Mrs. Lester de Witt has been registered at the Grand Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lovett of Beverly Hills have arrived in Paris from Nice, and are staying at the Hotel Continental.

Milton Adler has been stopping at Hotel Bellevue in Dresden, Germany and S. M. Adesska was a recent visitor to Hamburg, Germany, registered at Hotel Vier Jahreszeiten.

James B. Mills entertained a large party at dinner last week, the affair taking place at Villa Diodora in Taormina, Sicily.

S. Herbert Baytes has been stopping at Hotel Bristol in Berlin, while Irving Willat of Hollywood, also traveling in Germany, was a recent visitor to Dresden, where he registered at the Europahof. Clifford Ahlers, Walter Elms and Leopold Rissmann of Los Angeles have been stopping at the Bellevue.

Mrs. Jennie L. Marx, who has been traveling in Southern Italy, was a recent arrival in Rome, where she registered at the Excelsior Hotel.

Southern Californians who have been making a world cruise on the Red Star liner Belgenland can be met in almost any of the principal cities of Europe just now, as a large party from Los Angeles and vicinity recently disembarked from their cruise ship at Mediterranean ports for a tour of the continental countries before returning to the United States.

Landing at Naples were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Binkley, Mr. and Mrs. James Irving, and James K. Meloeny of Los Angeles; Mrs. Mary Rogers and Miss Margaret Kiefer, Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Blake, Long Beach, Mrs. H. J. Stevens, Pasadena, and Edward M. Meller, San Diego.

Disembarking at Monaco were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Starkweather, Los Angeles; Mrs. Florence E. MacGill, Hollywood, and Mrs. Lena Stocke, Long Beach.

At Gibraltar there left for a tour of Spain Dr. H. E. Vreeland, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Waldenfels, Mrs. Caroline A. Birklein, Mrs. Lucille J. Monnette, Mrs. Edna E. Wiest and Miss Mary Virginia Wiest, Los Angeles; Victor E. Stilgenbaur, Long Beach.

Returning on the Belgenland to New York where they arrived Thursday were Mrs. Charlotte L. Robertson, Mrs. G. M. Scofield, Mrs. Fannie G. Lobban, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Olmstead, Beverly Hills; Louis W. Hess, Hollywood; Miss Irene Jaffe, Miss Josephine Davis, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Farlow, Pasadena; Mrs. Cora Lee Neville, San Diego.

The Belgenland sailed from New York December 20, last, and followed the westward route around the world. Leaving Los Angeles Harbor January 6, and San Francisco January 8, she proceeded to the Hawaiian Islands, and thence to the Orient, the Philippines, Siam, Java and Singapore. She was next in India, arriving in March at Calcutta, where her passengers witnessed the colorful Hindu spring festival of the Holi. Gandhi's march began when the ship was at Bombay, but violence had not developed before her departure for Egypt.

Cairo was visited in the final week of a brilliant social season.

The ship was at Naples on Good Friday, and at Nice on Easter Sunday. Here the annual fashion parade was seen. An evening at Monte Carlo followed.

From Gibraltar, the Belgenland proceeded direct to New York. She covered 30,800 miles in her circumnavigation of the globe.

WEDDING PLANNED FOR JUNE

Milwaukee Girl to Make Home Here

Miss Dorothy Miller

FORMAL announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Miller of Milwaukee to Ben White Einzig of Los Angeles, the news being disclosed in the eastern city the 3rd inst. by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Miller. Miss Miller, while visiting friends here, met Mr. Einzig and the announcement is the culmination of the romance which started here. Miss Miller left the latter part of April for her eastern home, and the wedding will take place in June at Hotel Schroeder in Milwaukee.

After a honeymoon trip to Lake Louise and Alaska, Mr. Einzig will bring his bride here, and after July 1 they will be at home at the Barclay Apartments, 706 South Normandie avenue.

Mr. Einzig was graduated from University of California with the class of 1923 and is affiliated with Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, May 11. (Exclusive) Skirts are long, but shoes are by no means obscured. In fact, now, at the turn of the year, they are more important than ever. You will be buying shoes for your spring tailleur, for summer sports, for chiffon afternoon dresses, organdies, and for print evening frocks. Into the attic with your galoshes—the year's at the spring!

For street wear just now, I think that among the smartest shoes I have seen are the combinations of leathers and reptilian skins. The reptiles are a bit heavy in warm weather for an entire shoe, but as a trimming they are very good indeed. One pump which should be enormously practical, has a complete lizard toe, ending in a curved line across the instep, brown kid for the heel and the main part of the shoe, and a lizard border around the counter. It is easy to see that a lizard toe will scuff less readily than a leather one. Other shoes of this genre employ various treatments; one pair has a wide saddle-like strap of Java lizard across the instep, the slipper itself being made of patent leather used in a very tailored, simple cut.

Sport Shoes

Two outstanding golf shoes will gladden the enthusiastic sports woman's shoe wardrobe, one a tan Russian kid oxford, on classic lines, with a leather heel. There are four bands of perforated leather across the toe, giving it a heavy, sturdy, "country" look. The other pair is a white buckskin and brown kid oxford with an all-rubber sole and a leather heel, with a rubber base. It is made with a moccasin toe, new in an oxford and marvelously comfortable. For tennis an espadrille is now made in white buckskin, without a single seam. It has an all-rubber, spongy sole, with a slight lift at the heel.

More Moire

Moire will hold its place far into the summer for dressy afternoon shoes and for evening. An opera pump in this material is ideal for the garden party type of frock, such as the formal organdie, and it may be dyed the exact shade of the dress. In the evening, it lends itself to elaborate or simple cutting, and piped with silver or gold kid is charming for the dance floor.

Crepe de chine and crepe marocain are also delightful shoe fabrics for evening slippers, satin trimmed they may be dyed in combinations of colors. From Paris comes word of beige satin as the material for slippers worn with black evening dresses. Also dressed kid which matches your gown.

Linen

Linen sandals will walk lightly this summer on beaches and elsewhere. Linen is cool, both in look and feeling, dyes perfectly and keeps its shape. It is often piped with a colored kid, and is sometimes made with kid lacings up the front and little kid tassels, like the front of an espadrille. Linen espadrilles have awning stripes to vary the usual white of the tennis shoe. For spectator shoes, suede, combined with kid, in light tones, may be worn far into the summer. The buckskin and kid combination is always smart, and this spring is given a variation in a classic pair of tailored pumps by having the edges of the kid overlay finely pinked.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

NO ARTIFICIAL FOOD CAN EQUAL BREAST MILK

Much of the tiredness and "weakness" from which nursing mothers feel themselves suffering is purely a mental condition. Of course, when mothers first begin to do housework after the baby is born they become tired and nervous because of their physical condition and because the baby is a big care. Nursing does tend to make one have a backache, as young mothers discover, but it isn't a weakening process—the mother isn't "losing" any strength that she would otherwise have if she didn't nurse the baby, for at this time the milk is a natural secretion. As so many mothers seem to imagine, nursing doesn't take something away from them, because something is added to what they already have.

NURSING PERIOD A NATURAL ONE

A good wholesome diet which keeps the mother in good health will likewise provide the baby with sufficient milk, if the breasts are stimulated regularly. The mother doesn't need to deny herself foods that she enjoys. Anything which agrees with her will agree with baby. One has to view this period as a natural one. The mother can pity herself until she feels all dragged down and weak, or she can eat heartily, keep the baby to regular hours, get out, enjoy herself and forget she is nursing a baby.

A reader says some more pertinent things on this subject. She writes: "My sister-in-law put her baby on a bottle though she had enough milk for it. It makes my heart ache to see this baby deprived of breast milk. The doctor advised her to nurse it, too. But she thinks she needs her strength. Isn't she taking a terrible chance? Don't bottle babies develop illness more easily than breast-fed babies? How can a mother risk an innocent baby's life because she is selfish enough to want to eat everything? Even if nursing does take a mother's strength isn't she better able to stand this than the baby? I think an article by you would help many mothers."

ARTIFICIAL FOOD A RISK

We do try to say very frequently the same things that have been said over and over for years. The percentage of bottle-fed babies who die the first year is far in advance of the number of breast-fed ones. There is no artificial food equal to mother's milk. There can't be. Nor is there any way of feeding a baby by bottle that can equal the natural exercise he gets when nursing. Statistics have been gathered which tend to prove that a nursing baby, because of the natural manner in which he obtains food, develops more quickly mentally than the bottle-fed child.

All of these things we know. What mothers do not seem to know is that they need not deny themselves food. They need not even deny themselves recreation if they manage to regularize the baby's day.

You are quite right that artificial food for the young baby is a real risk, and especially in the summer. It is too bad the mother is so ready to take things in her own hands against the advice of the doctor who has the baby's and her best interests at heart.

Health and Diet Advice

A BETTER TREATMENT FOR APPENDICITIS

Doctors who are unacquainted with the natural methods of treatment, such as fasting and hydrotherapy, are usually of the opinion that an operation is the only treatment for appendicitis. This is not the case, however, as I have personally directed the care of several hundred cases of this dreaded disease without having a single death result, and I know that other doctors are doing the same thing.

If operations were an infallible cure without the danger of post-operative complications, there might be some excuse for rushing these cases to the hospital. But operations are not infallible, and complications frequently ensue, even when the patient recovers. There are no doubt many cases where the patient feels vastly more improved following an operation, but equally good results can usually be obtained without the operation if the right treatment is used.

Almost every day the newspapers record operations upon prominent people and occasionally they report that death occurred. Sometimes one hears that a later operation was necessary to remove the adhesions that resulted from the first. There are many other cases of less prominent people of which no account is given.

It is considered almost sure fatality if the appendix has burst before the operation. On the other hand, I have seen a number of cases where the appendix had apparently burst and a complete recovery occurred without an operation when the correct treatment was used. You will undoubtedly be interested in knowing of the treatment used in these cases, and I will explain it in tomorrow's article, but first let us understand some of the causes leading up to a case of appendicitis.

The appendix is a worm-shaped hollow organ located near the bottom of the ascending colon at a point from which the bowel contents must be pushed upward. If there is any packing or slowing up from constipation, or if there is an excessive putrefaction, an inflammation of the colon is likely to ensue. This occurs most frequently in the ascending colon because of the extra pressure of gravity which is made worse by a sharp kink at the top end of the ascending colon where it makes a downward curve to form the transverse colon. For this reason the appendix comes in for its share of inflammation that

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PAPRIKA SCHNITZEL

Place in a saute pan three tablespoonfuls of shortening, add to it one large onion sliced thin and allow the onion to brown then add a level teaspoonful of paprika and one tablespoonful of flour, stir and cook until well blended, then add one cupful of brown stock, a tablespoonful of capers, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a small slice of a lemon rind. Allow the mixture to boil for five minutes then strain, cut four slices of veal from the loin or leg one-half an inch thick, cover them on both sides with flour and fry slowly until a golden brown. Season with salt and pepper, place on a platter, pour over the paprika sauce and garnish around the edge of the platter with boiled rice.

CHEESE CUSTARD

Beat three eggs and slowly add to them while beating, one-third of a cupful of cold water, one-fourth of a cupful of heavy cream, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-fourth of a cupful of finely grated dry cheese, and a few grains of salt. Turn the mixture into individual molds, set in a pan of hot water and bake until firm in the center.

BANANA CHARLOTTE RUSSE

Two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, one-half a cupful of cold water, the yolks of two eggs, one cupful of sugar, one-third of a cupful of lemon juice, one cupful of mashed bananas, one cupful of whipping cream, cover the gelatine with the cold water and allow to stand for ten minutes. Scald one-half a cupful of milk, add to it one-half cupful of sugar, beat the yolks of the eggs with the remaining half cupful of sugar, combine the two mixtures, place in a double boiler, allow to simmer slowly until the mixture thickens, then add the bananas and cook for five minutes. Remove from the fire, stir in the lemon juice, and the gelatine. Stir until the gelatine is dissolved, allow the mixture to cool. Fold in the stiffly whipped cream, place the mixture in a mold, cover the top of it with finely chopped blanched almonds and allow to harden in the ice box. Serve with whipped cream.

RAISIN CONSERVE

Three and one-half pounds of sugar, two cupfuls of grape juice, three packages of seeded raisins, six large oranges, two lemons, one and one-half pounds of walnuts, three-fourths of a pound of blanched and chopped almonds. Dissolve the sugar in the grape juice, chop the raisins add them to the juice and the thinly sliced oranges, grated rind, strain the juice of the lemons, simmer this slowly until reduced to a thick marmalade. Just before removing from the fire add the chopped nut meats, stir well. Place in sterilized glasses. When cool cover with paraffin.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

DANNY HAS A FIGHT

Be he wrong or be he right,
The coward runs; he will not fight.
—Danny Meadow Mouse.

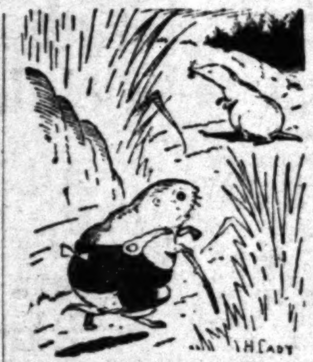
Danny Meadow Mouse had gone right past the old tin can in which Nanny Meadow Mouse had escaped from Flip the Terrier. You see, Danny didn't know she was there. He was in a hurry, was Danny. Those little legs of his were moving very fast for such a little fellow.

"Oh dear!" said Danny. "I haven't the least idea where Nanny has gone. I do hope that dog didn't get her. I don't think he did, but he must have given her a terrible fright. There is no knowing where she has gone. If only there were some nice little runways all cut, I would know better where to go. Ah, here is a little path! Some other Mouse must have made it. Perhaps Nanny found this."

It was easier going in this little path, and Danny scampered along thinking of nothing but catching up with Nanny. He didn't even think of danger to himself. He wanted Nanny and Nanny was all he could think about.

Danny traveled until he grew tired. Then he found a tussock of grass. There was new grass, but there was also a lot of old grass, which was more or less matted down. Under this was a good hiding place and there Danny took a long rest. It was dusk when Danny finally started on again. He didn't know where he was going. He wanted to find Nanny, but he had no idea where to look for her. So he began to wander about aimlessly. Now and then he stopped for a bite to eat. Somehow, Danny felt as lonesome as ever he had felt in all his life.

He was wandering along a little path made long before by some other Meadow Mouse. Presently he came to a place where another path joined this one. Just as he reached it he heard a little sound and he looked up this little path to see a small person that at first glance he thought was a young Mole. He was going to pass without so much as saying "How do you do" when this little stranger made a sudden rush at him, fairly knocking Danny off his feet. Now, Danny Meadow Mouse is a chunky little fellow and when he has to fight he is a very good fighter. This stranger was smaller than Danny and Danny hadn't the least doubt that he would soon make this stranger take to his heels.



He was going to pass without so much as saying "How do you do?"

That was Danny's mistake. This stranger, whom it just happens Danny had never before met, was Blarino the Shrew. This is the Shrew with the short tail. Often he is mistaken for a small Mole. You know that was the mistake Danny had made at first. It didn't take Danny a second to scramble to his feet after he was knocked over. Never in all his life had he been more angry. He was filled with rage.

"I'll fix you for that!" he squeaked. "Yes, sir, I'll fix you!"

Blarina paid no heed to this. He was himself chattering angrily. Instead of turning and running, he made a little rush to meet Danny. Then they were locked together, biting and kicking. Danny found this stranger surprisingly quick, with surprisingly sharp teeth. Presently they separated. Then they came together again with another little rush. Danny found the fur of this stranger very thick and very soft. It was hard for him to bite through it. Meanwhile, the stranger was making his own teeth felt and you may be sure Danny didn't like it a bit. It wasn't long before Danny realized that, though this stranger was smaller than he, he was a better fighter.

Danny began to feel tired. He felt more and more tired. Blarina did not seem to tire at all. Danny was thinking now of nothing but a chance to get away. So when at last he tore himself loose, Danny took to his heels. My, my, how he did run!

THERE'S MONEY IN IT FOR YOU

All life insurance history broken by California people buying over $30,000,000 of our special policy in the past 8 months. There is a reason for this—the policy has accumulative values, fully paid up in 20 years, cash value, endowment features, etc.

Premier, age 35, only $19.70, no more than the premium charged by most companies for an ordinary life policy. Easily sold and really selling. An unusual and attractive Home Office proposition.

BRONZE TROJAN FOR UNIVERSITY

Statue Bestowed by Alumni Inspiration to Youth

Ground-Breaking Ceremony to Occur Tomorrow

Unveiling Will Take Place at U.S.C. June 6

Ground will be broken tomorrow in front of Bovard Administration Building at the University of Southern California for the erection there of a heroic bronze statue of a Trojan warrior which has been presented to the university by the Alumni Association.

The statue will be unveiled and dedicated on June 6, with the dedication address being made by Harold Stonier of New York, an alumnus of U.S.C., who is educational director of the American Institute of Banking. Among others who will take part in the ceremony is Herbert Freston, president of the Alumni Association.

"The Spirit of Troy," as the statue is called, was designed by Roger Noble Burnham, Los Angeles sculptor. The figure is eight feet high and it will stand on a ten-foot base of granite. The sides of the base will bear carvings, also designed by Burnham, depicting various phases of college life. A replica of the torch of immortality will be engraved on the back of the base.

On the front of the base will be set a bronze replica of the seal of the university. At the ground the base will broaden into a platform intended as a rostrum from which speakers may address the students on state occasions.

Filipino Aide Holds Assault Tale Frame-up

Appearing before Municipal Judge Curtis, E. C. Brinkmeyer, president of the Philippine-American Chamber of Commerce, denied assaulting L. Telada, a Filipino of 709 West Wilmington street, during a harbor brawl. He requested jury trial, which the court set for June 5, next.

Brinkmeyer declared that he witnessed the fight at the harbor, but did not engage in it. Two Filipinos, who have not yet been arrested, are named as codefendants with him. His arrest, Brinkmeyer said, is a frame-up on the part of Filipinos, who are opposing his work among members of their race in Los Angeles.

Derrick Falling During Signal Hill Fire

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 11.—Massed crowds of thousands of Sunday autoists witnessed a spectacular oil fire in the Signal Hill district this afternoon when three wooden derricks and two 1500-gallon tanks of oil went up in smoke. One tank exploded, throwing burning oil and flame hundreds of feet in the air.

The fire was on Lovelady avenue between Willow and Barnett streets in the center of what was at one time the heaviest production part of the field. The rigs were on the Foster No. 65 well; the Featherstone & Preston No. 8 and the Bolsa Chica No. 4.

The fire originated at the Foster well while the crew was withdrawing apparatus from the well. The Signal Hill Fire Department and two Long Beach companies extinguished the flames after a battle of an hour and a half. Damage is estimated at $25,000. The derricks will be rebuilt, it was announced.

PRINCIPALS' GROUP MEETS AT GARDENA

GARDENA, May 11.—Two hundred members of the Secondary Principals' Association and their guests are expected here Wednesday evening for the meeting of the association with the teaching staff of the Gardena High School as hosts. Fred Hogue, feature writer of the Los Angeles Times, will be the speaker of the evening, and a musical entertainment is to be presented by Harold Swan, Herman Kennedy and Josephine Repor. Fifty-two senior and junior high schools will be represented in the session which has been arranged so that the visitors may view the exhibit of paintings now on display in the annual purchase-prize exhibit of the school.

NEW HALT IN PLAN FOR POOL AT RESEDA

RESEDA, May 11.—The Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Commission has recommended that bids received for the Reseda Park swimming-pool be rejected, for the reason the bids exceed the allowance appropriated for the construction and equipment work. The announcement is a disappointment as Reseda had hoped to be able to use the pool before the close of the summer season. Whether there will be a change in plans and the asking for additional bids is not yet announced.

HER SOPRANO VOICE WINS PICTURE ROLE

Marcia Manners

Opera Singer to Play Films

Marcia Manners, whose lyric soprano voice won for her several Broadway musical-comedy roles and the part of Mimi in a European opera company's production of "La Boheme," has arrived in Hollywood under contract to Paramount after a singing and dramatic test at New York.

Miss Manners was born in North Adams, Mass. For three years she studied in Paris and Italy. She speaks French, Italian and English.

CHANGED BY SCULPTOR

This was changed to read: "In year of our Lord 1776, the peo-declared the eternal right to happiness—self-government—the divine duty to defend that at any sacrifice."

Mr. Borglum explained that he made this revision in order to
